The story is about a Doc Hampton young and impetuous, who meets a girl on Tag Day and falls in love with her. In order to claim an inheritance from his rich uncle, he has fake wedding announcements sent out. His bluff is called, the old uncle informing him that he will be on hand to inspect the bride and to take them on a honeymoon tour to Honolulu.

When Maurice Tourneur picked the cast for J. Fenimore Cooper's famous "The Last of the Mohicans," to be seen at the Liberty Theatre tonight, he had searched for the best artists. The beloved Uncas, last of the Mohicans, could not wear a wrist watch wearing Broadway's latest in clothes and of that hero type. He had to be a spiritual character, to be the carrier of Uncas's message.

Margia, the Hun-like redskin who betrays the whites, is in the hands of Wallace Berry, noted villain and bad man, who carries off all honors for playing mean parts. The Colonels two daughters, Cora and Alice, played by Barbara Bedford and Lillian Hall, respectively, are pretty pictures on the silver sheet.

Others in the big all-lead cast are Hawkeye, Harry Lorraine Gamut, Nelson McElwain; Ching, the old oak Theodore Lerch; Tammany, Jack McDonald; Indian, Joseph Singleton and many others. Will Rogers, Goldwyn star, met with much optical disapprobation at the Culver City studios while decked out in the small wardrobe which he had procured especially for his new picture, "Jubilo," shown at the Liberty Theatre tonight for the last time in Roseburg.

The famous roper and comedian was about to enter the studio restaurant one day when he met Victor Schertzinger coming out, well fed and facetious. Rogers was decked out in a straight jacket coat of repulsive design, light pants to match, with a pair of vivid yellow shoes, with impressive knobs on the toes. "Where did you get those terrible clothes, Bih?" was Schertzinger's greeting.

Athletic roles seem to appeal to Charles Ray, who will be seen in his latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Egg Crate Wallop," at the Ant-Removal notice. I have moved my shoe repair shop to room just south of Fruit Union building, on Winchester street. Glad to see all my old customers, and also new ones. I give satisfaction. J. W. Hall.

Beginning on Thursday, "The Mutiny of the Elnora," the Metro production of the famous Jack London novel, with an all star cast, will be the leading attraction at the Liberty theatre for two days. "The Mutiny of the Elnora," is one of the late Jack London's last and most notable works. It is a tale of the sea, in which a crew of city gangsters attempt to take over the control of the ship from the officers in charge.
