RESEMBLE ACRES OF LILIES

Visitor's Beautiful Description of the American Cemeteries in France—Exquisite in Uniformity.

Though American relatives usually want to plant flowers on the graves of their sons or brothers in the American army cemeteries in France, an army ruling forbidding this has been adhered to. The cemeteries, a uniform stretch of green grass with white crosses, look like "acres of white lilies," according to Miss Elsie Goddard, a Wellesley graduate who has returned to this country after having had supervision of the Y. W. C. A. rest huts built for the comfort of relatives visiting the graves in four of the American cemeteries in France. "At first every one wants to plant flowers on the grave they love," says Miss Goddard, "but they soon see that the army ruling keeps the cemeteries most beautiful and impressive because of the uniformity. Cut flowers can be placed on graves and flowers can be planted in the flower beds near by, but not on the graves. The French people who are eager to decorate the graves in some parts are often surprised at this ruling, but our cemeteries, as cared for, are wonderfully impressive. After visiting them few Americans want to take the bodies of their boys home, though they have been determined to do it before they came." The Y. W. C. A. and Red Cross combine in maintaining rest huts at Romagne, Bony, Belleau Woods and Fece-en-Tardenois. "No matter how prepared a mother and father are for what they expect to see, the first sight of the field of American graves overwhelms them," says Miss Goddard.

"MADE GOOD" WITH CAMERA

Kermit Roosevelt's Photographs, Taken in Africa, Are Looked on as Masterpieces.

In 1909, when the Roosevelt expedition went to Africa on the greatest of all safaris, by the dropping out of the professional photographer, Kermit Roosevelt suddenly was thrust into the position of official photographer to the expedition. I viewed this arrangement with many misgivings—because it was a task for maturity and long experience—but the young man made good. He made good 100 per cent, not only with the big game rifle, but in wild animal photography as well.

Mr. Kermit's masterpiece is his best picture of a whole herd of elephants in a high but rather open forest, William Hornaday writes in Scribner's. The light was none too good, but fortunately it was good enough. This real achievement was scored from a perch on a low limb of a tree, conveniently placed to drop the intervening brush out of view. Five tuskers appear in the front line, and the elephants are massed together in the composition as neatly and perfectly as if the hand of man had grouped them to get all the flankers into the picture.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt was very proud of this picture, and so were the editors of Scribner's magazine and the "African Game Trail" book.

Aircraft Conditions.

Several American commissions have recently made an investigation into the aircraft conditions in different parts of the world, and they agree that this country has the opportunity to lead the world in civilian aeronautical activities and as a market for aircraft in 1920. It was the joint opinion of these commissions that the United States is ahead of all other countries in number of planes actually ordered and bought for civilian purposes, number of aerial transportation lines being organized, actual daily performance of the aerial mail service, and volume of mail carried, and possibilities for the use of aircraft for commercial purposes, and that the fact that the post office has proved that military planes can be converted into mail carriers makes possible the utilization of service planes to meet the immediate demand which manufacturers are unable to meet.

Destroyed the Illusion.

Into the restaurant she came with the air of a princess, a truly regal figure, clad in brown from top to toe and looking as if she had just visited a Parisian modiste and a beauty parlor—a perfectly groomed, handsome woman. There was an air of refinement about her. She looked expensively turned out in the simple, deceptive way.

She seated herself at a table and there were little exclamations of admiration from other diners near. A waitress approached; every one hushed to listen to the beautiful creature speak.

In a high-pitched, East side voice she ordered: "Bring me a onion omelette." It was brought, and she played it glibly speaking, with her knife.—New York Evening Post.

Youthful Cattle Raiser.

Little Edwin, age seven, lives on a farm in Grant county. It has been for some time his father's custom to sell calves to a neighboring farmer when they were about three days old. The other day little Edwin was instructed to go to the home of the neighbor, and tell him that a calf would be ready for him the following day, and that it was a "bull calf." With an air of great importance the young farmer delivered the following message: "My father told me to tell you that our bull has a new calf, and you can have it tomorrow!"—Indianapolis News.

Shorty runs into Teebo!

Atlanta, Wednesday

Dear PETEY:

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning waiting on an appointment down Peachtree St. "Snap" wanted to know a bookfull about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us old apple seed," says "Snapper", "you're on the inside!" "Snap" still has that mighty annoying way of saying, "But that doesn't surprise me."

Anyhow—when I explained about the millions of Camels R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily what does the old bird sputter but: "Why, Shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And, they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from Uncle Sam every day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! Why not? Smokers everywhere will have Camels!"

But, "Snap" finally got to spilling some real nobby Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "I want to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage I've heard enough good things said about 'em to fill a volume! 'That's my brand'; 'Camels are a wonderful cigarette'. 'Like getting money from home,' etc."

"And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meets the universal taste! And that's the 'hole' story, old golf ball!"

Pete, you pet phonograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely,

Shorty Camel CIGARETTES
