Movie Closeups
Husbands who blame their wives for remaining old-fashioned and disinterested in the hilarity of life are taught a lesson by "Hairpins," the latest Thomas H. Ince Paramount Arteroft picture starring Knid Bennett, which will be shown at the Antlers theater Monday only.
Rex Rossmore had a wife who cared more about getting a reduction on the purchase of a dozen smoked hams than she did about the Faust opera and insofar as permanent waving of her hair was concerned, she never thought of it. But Rex didn't like her domesticity and that's why his stenographer appealed to aim so strongly.

PAINTED OVER COURT FINERY
Ruse by Which Nuns Had Queen Depicted as a Member of Their Religious Order.
Through a chance discovery in the corner of a dual palace in Madrid, a three-hundred-year-old romance of a wonderful Velasquez has been revealed. Hidden for three centuries as a picture of a nun, this portrait of Queen Isabella of Spain, the first wife of King Philip IV, has recently been restored in London.

ROSEBURG ON AIR MAP.
On a map in a new book entitled "Municipal Landing Fields and Airports," received by the local Chamber of Commerce, there is a tiny red dot denoting the presence of Roseburg. This city, however, is not listed for its activity in procuring an aviation field but because of the location of the U. S. meteorological station here. The Roseburg landing field is listed as "emergency only" in the directory which will be the guide of all fliers.

VALUATION OVER BILLION.
SALEM, Dec. 4.—With the property valuation in the state now over one billion dollars, it is possible for the road bonds of the state and counties to total $95,654,236, according to figures made public today.
In Algerian Bazaars.
Cobbled streets mark the ways of the Moors in the Kasbah, the native quarter of Algeria, and once the traveler leaves the streets where street rascals and Europeans walk, he must climb. Peppercorns and onions hang in rousarie beds bazaars. Mosques are hidden here and there in nests of houses, and cafes are open to the street with the gurgling gossop of the Arab drinkers and the click of dominoes drifting outward.

TO GIVE CHRISTMAS BALL.
The Roseburg Fire Department will give their annual Christmas ball on Saturday, December 25, at the armory. This is a yearly event with the fire department and has been instated only in the year 1913, when the present members of the department were for the most part in some branch of the army service. The dance this year will be made a great event and elaborate preparations are being made.
R. E. Dixon, of Dixonville, was greeting his friends here and attending to business matters Saturday.
