

AN IMPORTANT LETTER

BISHOP, CALIF. - "About five years ago I suffered severely. I consulted a local doctor and he said I would have to undergo an operation. When I said "No," he advised a course of treatments. I happened to think of Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, and in it I found my case thoroughly described. I sat case by case and wrote to Dr. Pierce, right down and wrote to Dr. Pierce. I then tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—took one bottle—also one bottle of "Golden Medical Discovery," and used the "Lotion Tablets" and I have not been troubled since. I have had two fine healthy boys since then, and work hard. At that time I was not able to do my own work. I have used the "Pleasant Pellets" for the liver and bowels for about 20 years, wouldn't be without them." - Mrs. S. G. ABBOTT, R. F. D. No. 1.

County Gets Sum From State

Douglas County benefits to the extent of $23,892.13 from the second apportionment of state market road funds among the various counties as announced by the highway department this morning. Except for Multnomah county, which receives $48,521.75 under this apportionment, Marion county heads the list. Marion county's share amounted to $27,695.54.

amounts to $595,699.97 and is divided among the counties of the state as follows: Baker county, $21,230.17; Benton, $11,091.29; Clackamas, $27,375.68; Clatsop, $25,889.82; Columbia, $13,155.42; Coos, $20,086.92; Crook, $5,281.54; Curry, $2,565.02; Deschutes, $1,977.23; Douglas, $23,892.13; Gilliam, $3,257.53; Grant, $7,303.52; Harney, $2,357.29; Hood River, $8,160.41; Jackson, $22,271.80; Jefferson, $1,541.97; Josephine, $3,638.13; Klamath, $15,102.73; Lake, $5,555.12; Lane, $36,058.77; Lincoln, $6,652.60; Linn, $27,597.25; Malheur, $11,614.33; Marion, $37,695.33; Morrow, $9,321.86; Multnomah, $49,521.75; Polk, $15,787.30; Sherman, $9,805.86; Tillamook, $14,635.96; Umatilla, $40,280.93; Union, $18,635.42; Wallowa, $12,851.48; Wasco, $14,968.17; Washington, $25,155.55; Wheeler, $4,476.26; Yamhill, $14,496.55.

GLIDE NEWS.

At present, Glide is a string of gossip reaching from one side of the community to the other. With the exception of a few who have more self-respect and knowledge than to start things that will be regretted.

Seven new members were added to the Glide Grange Saturday night. There will be Sunday school at Glide every Sunday. It is hoped that more will attend. The high school boys and girls receive one point for attending Sunday school.

Christmas is drawing near and several of the Glide settlers have opened their hearts. There will be a Christmas tree at the church. Dear old Santa, with your whiskers so white,

Bring us not presents of riches and might, But rather love, friendship, and happiness untold.

Mr. John Alexander is not feeling well at present. Sunday night Mt. Scott was beautifully covered with a snow dress which could be seen for miles around, while the stars overhead twinkled gayly and seemed to wonder what next.

The Glide high school boys and girls, Miss Archambault and one or two others, walked up to Fall Creek Sunday. Most of the crowd enjoyed the hike, save one person who was very unfortunate when crossing a creek on a narrow log. This person accidentally fell in and dampened their feet.

It is turning cold again at Glide, a very bad thing to happen for some

Prune Mincemeat 'is New Favorite'

EUGENE, Dec. 9.—J. O. Holt, packing manager of the Oregon Growers' Co-operative association, has received a number of letters from apples in the east, asking about the apple syrup that is now being manufactured at the Eugene plant.

It seems that recently some publicity was given to the fact that the chemist of the Eugene plant had succeeded in removing the acid from cider and that apple syrup had really been placed on the market.

A number of eastern firms were at once interested and one man from Virginia intimated that he would like to have the state right of distributing the apple syrup.

Now Mr. Holt is likely to find that the public is interested in his prune mincemeat, since publicity has been given to the fact that the Eugene plant is manufacturing a mincemeat from prunes that is a real thing.

Mr. Holt announces that mincemeat with prunes instead of raisins, is now being made at the Eugene plant and has already been placed on the market.

The idea is that prunes in mincemeat give it a finer flavor than raisins and cost less. It is a good thing for the prune growers and our prune interests. It is helping the owners of 38,879 acres of prunes in Oregon.

Movie Closeups

In the "Cradle of Courage" which comes to the Antlers Theatre today, William S. Hart, the famous Paramount star appears as a policeman—one of the most striking roles he has had in many months.

It is a complete departure from his recent Western dramas, but none the less effective, for it gives him a characterization that places heavy demand upon his versatility and dramatic power.

This is the third of his personal productions for Paramount and is regarded as fully up to the high standard set by "The Toll Gate" and "Saud"—the two preceding pictures.

The "Barbary Coast" in San Francisco, the haunt of the submerged tenth, the underworld habits, crooks and others, is the scene of the story which shows the transformation of a man in the vortex of great events, how he wins honor and love after youth spent in the lowest circles of society.

It was adapted by Lambert Hillier and also directed by him. Joe August, A. S. C., was the photographer. Ann Little is leading woman and Thomas Santschi has the heavy role. Gertrude Claire also has a strong character role.

"Don't Ever Marry," which commenced a three days run at the Majestic theater last night is the riotous story of a man who had three wives. Scolding at the anti-marriage advice of Myra Gray, a divorcee, Joe Benson secretly marries Dorothy Whyann, daughter of the eccentric Colonel Whyann, who has promised to kill Benson if the latter ever makes love to Dorothy.

Before the newlyweds can catch a train out of the village to New York, Joe receives a telegram from his pal, Bill Fielding, asking that Joe follow out the instructions of a girl who will call on him that day.

The girl referred to in Fielding's telegram proves to be Barbara Dow, daughter of Colonel Whyann's business partner. Barbara loves Bill Fielding but her mother insists on her marriage to another. Threatening to expose Joe's secret marriage, Barbara forces him to announce that he and Barbara are husband and wife in order to thwart Mrs. Dow's arbitrary marriage notions.

Barbara is amazed at the announcement but is quickly taken into confidence and matters are smoothed over as far as she is concerned. However, Colonel Whyann and Mr. Dow become playful and insist on Joe and Barbara spending their first married night in Joe's apartments. The Colonel catches Joe attempting to steal out of town and forces him to go back to the apartment. Returning, Joe finds Barbara gone and Myra Gray, his divorcee friend, in her place. Myra tells Joe that her divorced husband is on the war path and the only way to save herself is to pose as Joe's wife. Dorothy comes to the apartment and finds Myra with Joe. An instant later, Barbara enters with her father. But Bill Fielding is hitting his twelve cylinders overtime, and comes forth to save the day.

Georges Carpentier, idol of France, whose notable record in the boxing ring has won him fame and fortune and whose fascinating personality made him the idol of two continents, will be the chief attraction at the Liberty Theatre in "The Wonder Man," a Robertson-Cole super-special production, for two days' showing, beginning tonight.

The picture promises an entertainment unique in the realm of the

FORCED TO RENEW LEARNING

Mrs. Minerva Jones and Her Unfortunate Instructor Bath Played in Hard Luck.

In attending the Americanization class Mrs. Minerva Jones had one object, and one only. She wanted to learn to write her name. For a time all effort seemed futile, and the painstaking and conscientious teacher was on the verge of despair; but at last patience had its reward, and toward the end of the course Minerva was able to trace laboriously but proudly the magic symbols. Thus she rested on her laurels. The exhausted teacher heaved a sigh of relief as the door closed on Minerva's party form.

"I feel that I have not acted in vain, but I should hate to go through that again," she said to one of the assistants.

At the beginning of the next term, much to the astonishment of all, Minerva again presented herself, blind and smiling as usual.

"Well, Minerva, what can we do for you?"

The instructor endeavored to speak cheerfully.

"I've done come to learn to write my name, Miss Mary," announced Minerva complacently.

"But you learned how to do that last term, Minerva. You surely haven't forgotten so soon?"

Minerva smiled broadly. "No, I ain't forgot, Miss Mary, but I've done changed my name since then." Mrs. Ephraim Jackson now then. Youth's Companion.

When Laundry Traveled Far.

No present-day washing bills reach the figures attained by such desiccants in the days when laundry went far afield to ensure good laundry work. French exquisites of the court of Henry III had their washing done in Holland, where the soft water of the dykes was supposed to impart a special gloss to linen.

Apparently this practice lasted until the close of the eighteenth century, for Sebastian Mercier, in his "Tableau de Paris," published shortly before the French revolution, protests against the patronage by rich people of the Dutch, to the exclusion of native laundresses. Still more remarkable is the fact, mentioned in the "Memoirs du Comte de Vaulbanx," that wealthy merchants in Bordeaux used to send their linen all the way to San Domingo to be washed.

The Philosopher.

Those who belong to this small class have tasted how sweet and blessed a possession philosophy is and have also seen and been satisfied of the number of the multitude and know that there is no one who acts honestly in the administration of states, nor any helper who will save anyone who maintains the cause of the just. And he reflects upon all this and holds his peace and does his own business. He is content if only he can live his own life and be pure from evil or night-compassion and depart in peace and good will with bright hopes.—Plato.

Sex of an Egg.

Various methods have been tried, and according to the Paris Academy of Science the sex of eggs laid by pure-bred fowls may be determined by weight and size. A test well known in the north of Scotland is to hold the egg in the left hand in the sun or close to an electric or gas light. Slide the end of the egg with the right hand, and look for the air space or "setting" (a dark watery spot larger than a dime); if this is found on the top it is a male, but if lower down the side it is a female egg.
