Preparing For Big Xmas Rush

YORK, Dec. 22.—Immigrants at Ellis Island are preparing for the greatest Christmas rush in the history of the island. Special plans have been made to expedite the movement of the 29,000 and 30,000 newcomers during the few days preceding the holiday.

recently the immigrants have been arriving at the rate of 2,000 daily and more than 20,000 have transit on the ocean at one time.

Welfare organizations have offered their co-operation to the island officials to bring a bit of cheer to the newcomers who will be there on Christmas day.

With the high tide of incoming Europeans there has also been a large emigration from this port in the last month. The outgoing are mostly persons who were returning to Europe for a visit and to pass the holidays with the "old folks".

It is an old belief that Christmas brides are frivolous and fond of novelty and excitement.

Sweden a wife has the right to bear her own family name in addition to that of her husband.

Pre-War Service On R. R. Returning

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—Railroads in this territory are returning to pre-war service so far as the comfort of passengers is concerned. The Pennsylvania has issued careful instructions as to the heating of cars. Coaches in the through service must be heated to a temperature between 60 and 70 degrees; in suburban service, between 60 and 65. Sleeping cars between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m. must have a temperature of about 60; in the daytime the temperature in sleeping cars and parlors should range between 65 and 70 degrees.

Other orders recently issued to the trainmen include: Principal stations at which the trains will stop must be announced in all coaches and diners before they leave terminals.

Approaching stations the name of the station must be announced at least twice.

No baggage will be allowed in the aisles. In cold weather the doors must not be opened unless passengers are leaving the cars, and are not to be opened before the train stops.

Trainmen must not turn the seats before they arrive at a terminal. Conductors must report all cases where passengers are forced to remain standing and the reason therefor.

Conductors must make frequent trips through the sleeping cars at night to see that the Pullman employee is on guard in each car in service.

Wooden coaches or wooden combined cars must not be placed between steel cars, or between steel cars and the engine.

Soliciting alms, distributing hotel cards, advertising matter or literature not directly connected with the business of the company must be prohibited.

Invites America to Celebration

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—American participation in the celebration by France of the 100th anniversary of the death of Napoleon on May 5 next was invited here today by Professor William Mulligan Sloane, of Princeton, N. J., speaking for the French committee headed by Marshal Foch. A feature of the affair whose objects, it is stated, are "to bind up the wounds of France, will be a great exhibition of Napoleonic relics at Malmaison, France, to which collections will be loaned from all parts of the world.

Professor Sloane, who for 42 years held the chair of history at Princeton and latterly at Columbia University, said that French statesmen, soldiers, and men of law and letters as well as other professions compose the committee which is arranging the centennial.

"Making all allowance for every severe criticism of Napoleon's career," he continued, "it is still true that his work unified France, saved it from partition among its foes and, in civil life, prepared alike the foundation and structure of the society which in the world war saved France and helped to save all western civilization. It was by his impulse and guidance that the financial credit of France was restored, that the magistracy and administration took definite shape, that the civil code was promulgated, the Bank of France created, the University of France modeled on that of the state of New York, and the council of state organized.

"He made private property safe, opened public charges, great and small, to all classes, founded schools, colleges and secondary schools, built magnificent highways, dug an elaborate system of internal waterways, improved transportation of every sort and, above all, reorganized in his institutions the commanding position of belles lettres, the fine arts and natural science. The superb inheritance of order, progress and prosperity which he bequeathed made the France of 1914.

"The French committee especially desires American participation by contributions, by the loan of Napoleons from American collections and, above all, the moral support of intelligent interest on this side of the Atlantic."

Local Woman Writes For Church Paper

The last issue of The Front Rank, a religious publication devoted to Bible school and young people's work contains a very interesting article, written by Mrs. H. B. Church of this city. The magazine conducts a Bible school department, in which discussions of the Bible lessons to be taught in standard schools all over the country are carried. Recognized Bible students only are requested to contribute notes for the department, and those whose works appear are listed as authorities. The lesson contained in the last issue is explained by Mrs. Church, the teacher of the Loyal Circle Bible class of the Christian church of this city. Mrs. Church comes from a family of Bible students and has long been recognized in the state as an authority on these matters. The invitation extended her by the Front Rank, is evidence that her reputation as a Bible student has become national.

GREEN GLEANINGS

Mrs. Emma Fuller, of Corvallis, arrived Saturday and will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. John Howard, and family until after the holidays.

The many friends of Miss Audrey Weatherford will be pleased to learn that she is able to sit up after having been bedfast for five weeks, as the result of a broken collar bone.

The Green school will celebrate Christmas in the auditorium Friday evening. A large Xmas tree, elaborately decorated and laden with all kinds of gifts will conclude a well chosen program. Parents of the children are urged to be present.

The holiday spirit will prevail throughout this vicinity. Numerous dinner parties are being arranged and some gay times are anticipated. The Entre Nous Club will be entertained in an elaborate manner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Skinner.

Mrs. Skinner is famous for her dinner parties and the Xmas dinner this year will be no exception to the rule. Chief Skinner who is some connoisseur of these affairs, insists that the coming celebration will be "a flow of soul and a feast of reason," and then some.

Mrs. Clay Smith will have as her guests at the Christmas dinner, the Winston families, including her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Winston, and her brothers families, Harry and Fred.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Marsters and son Craig will be the guests of Mrs. Marster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Amadon, at Christmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carnes will entertain Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Carnes, Mrs. Emma Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. John Howard at Xmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Austin will have six guests for dinner Christmas day. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Agee and daughter, Neva, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ashar Agee at Christmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Templin, Mrs. G. Tison, of Roseburg, will motor out to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bacher Christmas day, where they will indulge in the Christmas spirit, and, incidentally partake of a real Christmas dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wahlforth will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vehring and son, Vincent and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Van Horn at dinner Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Winston have never failed to entertain their grandchildren at Christmas time. A huge tree will be placed in the living room appropriately decorated, Friday evening it will be illuminated for the pleasure of the children, while the gifts are being distributed.

The Merry-Go-Round Club met with Mrs. L. B. Skinner Wednesday afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Wm. Croft. Judge

About the Women Hiding Their Ears

Woman's crowning glory is her hair, and it receives at her hands the best of care. Every up-to-date girl prides herself on her tresses and how she wears them. The young lady of today is particularly fond of those little bunches of hair with which she conceals her ears. However the ear muffs that Miss Flapper-age wears now are nothing new. History relates that they were part of the head dress of the French lady of the Restoration period. Her coiffure was crowned with an amazing edifice of curls, combs and lace. Now, in these modern times, the hearty laughter that is accorded the witty wordings about the ear puffs, etcetera, seen in the popular Topics of the Day films, is evidence of the general interest in the subject of hair dressing. Whether or not, you dear reader, are interested in how the girls wear their hair, the News-Review feels sure that your laughter at the following paragraphs will penetrate even ear puffs.

News Item:—The crushes on the Shelby cars at 6 p. m. are getting to be something fearful. Last night a woman was so jostled that one of her ears became uncovered!—St. Paul News.

It is our masculine notion that the fashions might compromise and let the girls wear one ear each.—Toledo Blade.

The way they dress now, some of the girls show about everything but their ears and their judgment.—The Ohio State Journal.

Perhaps it is to disprove the saying "little children should be seen and not heard," that modern girls decree their "little ears should hear and not be seen."—Rutgers.

There little ear puff, don't you cry; You'll be a bustle, bye and bye.—Syracuse Herald.

"Will side whiskers come into fashion again?" asks a reader.

"They're in fashion now; the girls are wearing 'em over their ears."—Herald; (Sask.) Post.

A donkey has two great big ears. And keeps them standing in the air. I think a girl's a donkey too. Who covers her's with hair.—North Adams, (Mass.) Herald

It is all right for a girl to imprison her ears under her hair, but she ought to let them out sometime for exercise.—Galveston News.

"I notice Susie's wearing her hat 'a la Robert.'"

"Mow's that?"

"Bobbed."—N. Y. U. Alumnus.

"I'm sure crazy about my girl's puffs."

"Wear her hair pretty?"

"Nix; cigarette smoker."—The Sun Dial.

"Speaking of ears, of course you know why they've been keeping them covered?" Yes! Why?—N. Y. Daily

In many parts of the south of England there is a superstition that girls born on Christmas day should be brought up to become nurses, otherwise their lives will always be a dreary round of ill-success.
