IOWA LEADING IN STATE PARKS

Conferences Will Be Held In Des Moines January 10 to Discuss Problems.

HAVE MANY FEATURES

Ice Caves of Iowa Are Interesting
Part of Park System—Stephen
Mather Will Be Present at Park Convention.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Dec. 29.—Iowa has achieved such remarkable results in state park creation and development, that the First National Conference in state parks is to be held here January 10th to 12th, under the joint auspices of the Department of the Interior and the State of Iowa. Experts from every state will be present to discuss park problems, and incidentally to learn how Iowa has been able to do so much.

Sixty-seven out of every 100 acres in Iowa are capable of cultivation, according to official statistics, leaving only three percent of parkable land. The three percent however, contains some interesting outdoor things. The Indian mounds, for instance, are in a minor way, to the United States what the pyramids are to Egypt, relics of the ancient civilization. About fifty of the mounds are in the state parks, while the others will be included in the parks to be laid out in the future. Some of them have been despoiled for their pottery, beads and flint implements, but many remain intact, and officials of the Iowa Historical department hope some day to have an adequate collection of the utensils which the first Americans used in their every day life.

The ice caves of Iowa, are another interesting part of its park system. They owe their existence, probably to the prehistoric seas that once covered this territory, for they are found in limestone regions where the rock is porous. In the winter the cavities store up with cold air. When summer comes and the cars begin to grow under the impulse of a burning sun, the frigid air escapes slowly, coating the mouth of the caves with lime and hoarfrost.

These caves in turn give rise to one of the most interesting botanical phenomena of the country—the survival in Iowa of trees and flowers that have their normal range far to the north. While Iowa swelters, the temperature of the soil on the rocks near the cave remains at 50 to 55 degrees and these frost-resistant plants grow the balsam fir of the northern woods and the spruce or monk's hood of the mountains. In Iowa's parks may be seen the most southwestern distribution of white pine in the United States, while in western Iowa are found arid plants commonly associated with the desert and the high mountain plateaus of the far west.

Many other states doubtless could provide equally good attractions for parks at home, and that is what the National Conference on Parks Service is for. Stephen Mather, director of the National Park Service, will be here to tell of the work, and others will tell of the work of state park service, notably Dr. L. H. Patterson, chairman of the Iowa Conservation Board, who will explain how Iowa surmounted its difficulties.

SUTHERLIN, Ore., Dec. 26.—The following officers of the local Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodge will be installed on Thursday evening, January 6, by C. W. Hartley, D. D. G. M., Odd Fellows, R. E. Halston, N. G.; Claude Nelson, V. G.; Lloyd Smith, Sec.; M. C. Bond, Treas.; Rebekahs, Florence Slater, N. G.; Leona Slack, V. G.; Tina Kildee, Sec.; Mark N. Tisdale, Treas. A short program and luncheon will follow the installation ceremonies.

The Farm Bureau organization will hold a meeting in Odd Fellows' hall on Friday, December 31. The morning session will be called to order at 10 a. m., and the afternoon session at 1 o'clock. All those attending are requested to bring a basket lunch. The morning session will be taken up in working out a program for the coming year, and the afternoon will be devoted to a discussion of farm bureau organization, by Geo. A. Mansfield, president of the State Farm Bureau Federation.

Miss Marie Vogelwohl will depart next week for California, where she will spend several weeks visiting friends. On her return she will accompany her mother to Wells, Minn., where they will spend several weeks with old friends and neighbors.

Postmaster Hayner reports that the business at the local post office from December 13 to 22, during the Christmas rush—was the largest in the history of the office. During that time 147 sacks of parcel post packages were dispatched and practically the same number received. During the period mentioned above, the stamp sales averaged $20 per day, and on two days went over $30.

A most enjoyable affair was staged at the local Episcopal church Tuesday evening when our young people gave a most pleasing program in honor of the home coming of the Sutherland boys and girls who are students at the U. of O., G. A. C., and Williams University, who are now home for the holidays. The Golden Hour was profitably decorated for the occasion, and a very entertaining program of instrumental and vocal selections was given, followed by a most enjoyable luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Shirin departed yesterday in their car for Salem, where they will remain during the coming session of the legislature, to which Mr. Shirin was recently elected a member.

A. E. Davidson, a well known local capitalist, recently purchased the Liberty Garage on Central avenue from J. R. Meahan. Mr. Davidson also purchased through the St. John Land Co., lots 13 and 14, block 2, plat M, comprising a 15-acre apple orchard just east of town.

Elder J. A. Rippey closed a deal last week whereby he became the owner of the Vance residence property in Laurel Heights, on the north west side of town.

HIGH HEELS ARE ATTACKED

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 29.—A state law, prohibiting the sale of or the wearing of shoes with heels more than 1 1/2 inches high will be asked of the legislature by the state osteopathic association. Womens clubs and other civic organizations are expected to join in the urging of the passage of the measure.

If passed, the bill would not become effective for five years to allow merchants to clean up their present stocks.

"The wearing of high heels is an immoral as the excessive use of alcohol," the association's statement declares. "Race suicide is distinctly aided by high heels. All women who wear high heels become deformed in the feet, knees and back, and they are predisposed to tuberculosis."

Arrowhead Making Is Still an Art

PENDLETON, Dec. 29.—Arrowhead making is still an art among the Indians of the present generation despite their adaptation to the automobile and other modern conveniences. Arrow heads, perfect in shape and balance as those made by their forefathers in warfare times, are being fashioned on the reservation near here. Samples have been sent to Major Lee Moorhouse, former Indian agent and curio collector. The major declared the work to be of high order. It was done in the primitive manner. Some of the arrowheads are made from obsidian, or volcanic glass, which is found in the John Day Country.

$25,000 GARAGE BURNS

KLAMATH FALLS, Dec. 28.—A fire at 1 o'clock this morning destroyed the Klamath Falls Auto Co. garage here and an adjoining dwelling and 16 automobiles. The loss is estimated at $25,000 less $10,000 insurance.

The garage building was owned by Jasper Bennett, the stock and fixtures by Roy Call. The dwelling destroyed was occupied by Mr. Wetmore, who, with his wife and two children barely escaped being caught in the flames.

The fire is supposed to have started from a heating stove in which the fire had been banked for the night.

BIOGRAPHY AND MEMORIAL

Commander Perry Totten was born in Indiana, June 2, 1850. He was married to Elmira Graham at Romney, Indiana, June 22, 1868. In 1878 Mr. and Mrs. Totten emigrated to the coast. Their eldest child, Wm. Perry Totten was two years old. They located in this valley on a homesteaded three miles west of the present city of Gladvale and for nearly half a century made this place their home. Their only daughter, Luella, and their second son, Elmer, were born at the pioneer home and reared to useful and honored manhood and womanhood and the present students and dangers that marked the settlement of this historic valley, in which they always held a leading part and were ever ready to cooperate in every enterprise for the development of the natural resources of the creek. Later on they sold their pioneer home and for five years have lived in this city.

Their sons had married and in homes of their own, also their only daughter, Luella, had become the wife of Edward J. Garrett and had their home in Grants Pass.

During the later years, Mrs. Totten had failing health, and the devoted husband and children had all united in tender care of the invalid wife and mother until her death which occurred in June, 1918.

Mr. Totten lived for some years at the home of his daughter at Grants Pass and visited his sons in their homes frequently, and was always most tenderly and affectionately welcomed at all of their homes. He was at the home of engineer W. P. Totten, and was just going to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Garrett, at Grants Pass at 5 p. m. He told his son that he felt tired and would lie down for a few moments. Later his son noticed that he had been stricken, and calling in the neighbors, they found that the death Angel had entered and called to be rewarded, the grand old pioneer, who had never failed in the most arduous obligations of life, and his peaceful passing away was the well earned function of a most exemplary life. His whole life exemplified his sacred trust in the certainty of the hope
