GLENDALE NEWS NOTES

Christmas, 1920—with all of its hallowed memories of our childhood and with the usual glimpses of the scenes and visions of vanished faces and severed ties, that we all must see in retrospect of by-gone days, while the sweet Christmas story that was enacted on that fair Judean plain, when the wondering shepherd and their drowsy flocks were gazing at the Star of Bethlehem, as it heralded the Birth of the World's Redeemer on the first good Christmas morning with the glorious anthem "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

May we all turn with reverence and deep reflection to the incidents as the line of centuries have brot them to us. Beautified, Glorified confirmed by wise men if every age, and appealing to motherhood of all ages. In the sweet story of the Virgin mother and her immaculate son who was cradled in a manger, and his softest bed was hay.

Our hearts thrill as we read "that there was no room for them at the Inn."

Twentieth century intelligence and infinite research of the wisdom of the wise, prompts this query in all who read it. "Have we any room for Jesus?" May the answer be a loud acclamation of the wise men. I too have come to worship him, and then we shall be able to say that the kingdom of God has come, and he is done on Earth as it is in Heaven.

Christmas in this city was celebrated with unusual good cheer.

All of our business houses were very handsomely decorated and all carried splendid lines of holiday goods, money seemed plentiful and we know of no one who failed to enjoy the occasion.

The Christmas at the churches was well attended. The churches were beautifully decorated and well supplied with good cheer for all present.

The Club Cafe served a splendid dinner to a host of guests who all speak approvingly of the splendid menu and dainty service. The managers, Wood and Fenwick are up to date hotel men.

Private dinners and family reunions were in evidence in all parts of the city. Personally, and in company with that revered and venerable pioneer lady, Mrs. Hardy Elliff, we were dinner guests of Mrs. Genevive Churchill, and in memory of long ago days—we enjoyed a splendid dinner.

The sudden death of Mr. Totten on Christmas eve was a great blow to his friends and relatives, as he had lately been in his usual health.

The two funerals on Sunday at the Olivet Church saddened our whole community Mr. Totten's funeral occurred at 12:30 p. m. and the funeral of Mrs. J. C. Johns, at 2 p m., each conducted by Rev. M C. Webb, interments at the Masonic cemetery. Both Mr. Totten and Mrs Johns were pioneers of this valley and highly esteemed residents.

Mrs. J. L. Clough, Mr Huron Clough and Miss Bessie Clough, attended the funeral of Mrs Johns in this city, and visited at the home of Mrs. R. M. Elliff after the services.

Miss Vera Vandervoort of Yoncalla spent last week visiting her sister Miss Lillian, who is teaching at the Wilson school house. The Misses Vandervoort and their aunt, Miss Mollie Hobbs spent Christmas at the Vandervoort home in Yoncalla.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilson are at their home in this city and enjoying the holidays and we all are enjoying peace and prosperity in our city

Hard times seems to have missed us this year.

Wm. Barber, who is the brother of Mrs. W. S Booth, is spending the holidays in this city and valley visiting with old friend sand relatives

Mrs. Susie Whitsell, of Portland, is the guest of Mrs. W. E. Butler.

James Russell Ladd, of the O. A. C. is visiting relatives in Klamath Falls.

Miss Beulah Morgan of the O. A. C. is spending he vacation in this city with her parents. She is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Morgan, and for many years was pianist at the Olivet church Sh is missed at our church.

Special music at Olivet church by Mrs .G. B. Kellog, violinist and Mrs. G. C. Hickock, pianist, was especially enjoyed by a large congregation at the morning services The church choir was Don McGhee, Dr. Knott, Miss Eberle, Miss Hazel Quantic and Mrs. Lillian Quantic.

Mr. and Mrs Ira C Lewis and son were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Eberle.

Our attorney, O. S. Brown, seems to be quite busy these days, which seems an indication of prosperity to all.

We have read and carefully considered the history of Roseburg and Douglas county, by Bert G Bates The mechanical work is very fine, and the compiling of incidents is excellent and in every line we note an indication of literary talent that marks the writer as a journalist of ability, and also as a cortoonist Mr. Bates made an excellent record as a soldier in the recent war and we shall preserve this book as a "war souvenier." We congratulate Mr. Bates on his success as a writer.

SUNDAY AT THE CHURCHES

The First Baptist Church, Lane and Rose streets, Rev. J. H. Dickson, pastor.—Bible school at 9:45, O. P. Coshow, Supt.; classes for all. Morning worship at 11, subject, "Crusaders' League and Conference for Workers." Open forum. Holy Communion at 11:45. Special music by the choir. B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:30. We urge all to attend this service. Mass meeting in the evening at the M. E. North at 7:30. Every Baptist will be expected to be on hand. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, of the Bulgin-Lewis chorus choir, will be at that meeting to speak. The Baptist church has voted to unite with the other churches in the Bulgin-Lewis meetings, which are to commence Jan. 9, 1921.

* * *

The Methodist Episcopal Church is making every preparation for the great union meetings to begin next Sunday a-week, Jan. 9. Mr. Bulgin comes highly recommended as a fearless, logical speaker. He was at one time an infidel, but became certain of his error and embraced Christianity. One of the marked features of his success has been the conversion of infidels in all his meetings. Next Sunday morning Guy Fitch Phelps will speak at the usual hour, but the evening service will be given up for a big mass meeting of the different churches who may find it possible to be present, at which time Mr. Lewis and wife will be on hand to address the people and perfect plans. Let everyone interested in the meetings arrange to come. Get into the big chorus choir. Sunday school at 9:45; Epworth League at 6:30. Let the attendance be record-breaking.

* * *

Seventh Day Adventist—Church on Military street, West Roseburg. Sabbath school Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Home Missionary service at 11, conducted by Elder P. A. Hansen. A cordial welcome awaits those who attend these services. Come over and study the Bible with us during the Sabbath school hour.

* * *

St. George's Episcopal Church, Rev. Thos. R. Alleeson.—Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m.; Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.; morning service at 11; Y. P. S. at 6:30 p. m.; evening service at 7:30.

Presbyterian, Jackson and Lane streets, Rev. E. W. Warrington, Minister—When you turn the New Year corner make sure you take the road to the right. It is plainly marked by the Cross of Christ, and you will find the church along the way. 9:45 a. m., the bible study hour. Parents, are your children in Sunday school? Perhaps your policy has been to send them. God's plan is to come and bring them. 11 a. m., the New Year Communion service. All the members of the church and congregation should be present, all friends of the church will find a hearty welcome. 6:30 p. m., the Christian Endeavor is closing a very successful term under the presidency of Mr. Floyd Barton. The new officers will be installed at this service. 7:30 p. m., a union service with Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Lewis, who are the directors and singers of the Bulgin evangelistic party. Try to be present at this preliminary service of the revival meetings which will begin Jan. 9. Union prayer meeting on Wednesday evening.

Christian Church, Pine and Woodward streets, Rev. C. H. Hilton, Minister.—Standing before a class of pupils in Roseburg recently, a teacher made the statement that Christ never directly claimed to be the Son of God, that all such claims were indirect. The minister of the Christian church will preach Sunday evening on the theme, "Is Christ the Son of God?" and will give it a thorough discussion. At the morning hour there will be a New Year's service and sermon. The subject will be, "With Your Might." Bible school meets at 9:45. Fine interest and large school. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:30; subject, "The Kingdom Come—In My Heart;" leader, Monroe Hilton. The annual meeting of the church will be held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 5. Reports for the year will be given, officers elected, and a social hour enjoyed.

J. W. Isom, of Melrose, who was recently appointed deputy game warden, is spending a few days in the city attending to business matters.

EASY FOR FRENCH PEASANTS

American Tourists Expected to Pour Golden Flood Through the War-Devastated Regions.

Commenting on the American summer rush to Europe, especially to the French battlefields, Customs Inspector Henri Duval said in New Orleans:

"I am reminded of a tourist anecdote.

"In many French provinces every peasant raises each year for his family's use one or two enormous pigs. Nothing of the pig is discarded—the fat is boiled down for lard; the blood is made into blood puddings; the hams are cured; the chops are salted; the feet are dried; the meat in the head is chopped into sausage meat; even the ears are preserved; an occasional slice of ear being used to enrich the soup. And the tail? Oh, yes, they use the tail, too. It is stewed with vegetables and contains, they say, a tiny morsel of delicious meat.

"But to return to the anecdote. An American touring the north of France one summer before the war, asked a peasant what the people thereabouts lived on.

"'Pigs, monsieur, in the winter,' replied the peasant, 'and tourists in the summer.'

Customs Inspector Duval laughed.

"Well," he said, "the tales of extortion I hear from people now returning from France make me think that few peasants will be eating pigs' ears or pigs' tails this winter—they'll be eating truffled chicken and drinking champagne."

MIXED HUMOR AND TRAGEDY

Writer Tells of Relieving Touch in the Midst of Scenes of Revolt in Ireland.

There is no country in the world like Ireland. Even its serious attempts at revolution have a humorous side. Just as there is a touch of sadness in the wildest Irish merriment, there is a bit of good humor in the midst of its most tragic earnestness. Miss Dorothea Conyers, in her Sporting Reminiscences, tells an incident of one of the Sinn Fein uprisings:

The barrier on the Wellesly bridge was most imposing, and I remember rushing down to see it and upsetting a neat stack of bayonets, but no one minded. An irate old lady in an ass cart was trying to pass out just as I got there. Wheeled traffic had to go round by another bridge.

"Young man," she hailed the sentry, "young man, let me pass, if ye plaze!"

The sentry explained matters pleasantly. "Go round be Thomond bridge."

"No, young man. Young man, let me pass. Young man, I have three young pigs hungry at home, and the male in the car. Will ye call an officer?"

After a prolonged wait she lost her temper, backed the cart into a sentry box and drove off, declaring "she'd have the law on the military."—Youth's Companion.

HISTORIC ESTATE ON MARKET.

The Stoke Park estate, once the home of the Penns, has been placed on the market. On this property is a monument put up by John Penn in memory of the poet, Gray. On three sides are quotations from the Elegy, on the fourth is an inscription saying that the stone was erected in 1799 "among the scenery celebrated by the great Lyric and Elegiac Poet," and that he "lies unnoticed in the adjoining churchyard under the tombstone on which he piously and pathetically recorded the interment of his aunt and lamented mother." The hope is expressed that the property will not fall into hands that will permit this monument, "which in a sense has become historic, to fall into ruin."—London Times.

Wartime Lumber Consumption.

The consumption of lumber during the war has been approximated at 6,500,000,000 feet, board measure, by the United States forestry service. Of this amount of lumber purchased directly by the various government departments, the army consumption was nearly 5,500,000,000 feet, the navy consuming more than 120,000,000. During 1918 the Emergency Fleet corporation consumed for ship construction approximately 800,000,000 feet. Lumber needed for boxes and crates alone required approximately 2,000,000,000 feet. Structures for cantonments, hospitals, warehouses, etc., used approximately 3,000,000,000 feet.

Novel Wireless Experiments.

By means of vibratory waves sent out from an oscillator cut in her hull, the battle cruiser Ohio has been conducting some remarkable wireless experiments with the abandoned battleship Iowa in the Delaware bay near Philadelphia. The dot and dash waves are caught on the sensitive horns of the Iowa's submarine listener 10 feet below her stern. In this manner the Ohio is able to control the Iowa's engines and helm and direct her course 600 yards away. Insulated wires were installed on the Iowa to attempt to operate her at greater distances.

Shetlands Return to Ancient Industry.

A Central News correspondent reports that the whaling season off the Shetland isles has been most successful. Twenty-nine large and valuable whales were landed last week at Olnafirth station, bringing the catch for the season at that station to 260 whales, while the season's catch at Collafirth, another station in the Shetland group, was 130.—Westminster Gazette.
