THE DISABLED IN CHAOS.

Two years or more ago, when congress first considered the care of the returning disabled, there were differences of opinion as to what the nation's problem would be and how it should be handled.

"There were many predictions and estimates. Some experts there were with sufficient foresight to predict accurately the magnitude of the job. Others counseled less wisely. There will never be many disabled," said some. "The public services already in existence can handle them," said others. "We need build none."

THE THRIFT TITHE.

Thrift week, which has just been celebrated in a mild sort of fashion throughout the nation, deserved more attention than it received.

MICKIE SAYS:

HAVE You Used Your Eyes for 40 Years?

Do you realize that the average Human eye at the age of forty is beginning to require assistance for close work? At forty years of age the normal eye has lost one diopter of its accomodative power, and very few people get past the age of forty-five without assistance, as at this age the eye has become presbyopic.

By taking advantage of this natural hardening of the lens, which shows itself by making you hold your work further away from your eyes than natural, you can preserve your sight and keep your eyes good the rest of your days with a correct fitting pair of glasses.

It will be assured by their general adoption of the 10 per cent savings habit. The amount per individual is so small that it should be practiced for almost every wage-earner, and its cumulative possibilities are so great it should interest all.

CONGRESS COMMENDED.

In refusing to enlarge its membership by taking advantage of the new census figures, the house of representatives has achieved the morally impossible. Never but once in its history has that body shown such restraint where there appeared a plausible pretext for increasing its numbers.

The consideration that is said to have had most weight in this momentous decision was the fact that the increase of 18 members recommended by the census committee would cost $1,092,000 a year.

An efficient congress may save more than $1,000,000 any day in the year, and an inefficient congress may waste more. Sound business methods are of greater moment than congressional salaries. A poor congressman is dear at any price, and a good one more precious than rubies.

Domestic servants in Pittsburg will earn their pay from now on if they want to hold their jobs. This is the resolve of the Housekeepers' club, an association of Pittsburg housewives who have banded together to put an end to certain unfair practices on the part of servants, especially laundresses.

There is almost unanimous approval throughout the country of Mr. Harding's decision in favor of a simple and inexpensive inauguration. This position accurately interprets that of the general public, which is opposed to anything savoring of lavishness or ostentation in public or private life.

Miss Alice Robertson, representative in congress from Oklahoma, has announced that she has no intention of assuming charge of the restaurant at the capitol. Apparently she has taken the right stand. "My folks want me to represent them in other ways," says Miss Robertson, "and I am not going to do anything spectacular or unseemly."

A noted scientist says that Job gave the clue to a formula that made TNT safe for shipment in the war. Now the pacifists will be asking to have the Bible suppressed.

Movie Closeups

The attraction at the Majestic theatre for the last time tonight will be Lionel Barrymore in a widely heralded adaptation of Daniel G. Carter's powerful stage success, "The Master Mind," which is said to be one of the photodramatic sensations of current season.

No precious jewels were guarded more closely than were five innocent looking babies at the Lasky Studio during the filming of "The Six Best Collars," the new picture starring Bryant Washburn, at the Antlers for today and tomorrow "Extras" and members of the cast could be found seeing them wistfully during the intervals in the action "Johanna Berger, Howers Ave. 1878," stenographer in the boxes gave the explanation.

Says Chemist Is Public Benefactor

"Being a doctor, and suffering for many years with stomach trouble, I feel I cannot do justice to so great a public benefactor in writing. May's Wonderful Remedy is everything you have obtained for it. I can now eat and sleep as usual. I have not dared to eat in many years. Am feeling like a new man. It is a simple, scientific preparation that removes the causative mucus from the inflamed tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.

BOY SCOUTS ATTEND MEETING IN BODY

TONIGHT LEGION NIGHT

Organization of Ex-Service Men To Be Guests at Tabernacle Tonight—Odd Fellows and Rebekah's To Hold Center Tomorrow.

(By C. H. Hilton.)

Almost the entire body of the Boy Scouts was present last night at the tabernacle and they came full of pep and ginger. They carried their flags and gave some of their sentiments also gave their scout oath and the scout law. They were mighty well received by the big congregation.

The speaker asked last night if any had ever ridden over a corduroy road. Most of us have had the experience of bumping along. The scribe has ridden over such a road in a Ford that had no shock absorbers, and we know what it means.

The speaker stated that his sermon was the result of a challenge that he received from an infidel on the court house steps of a southern state. That he accepted the challenge, and gave this lecture.

The lecture was divided into five sections, namely Theology, Bibliology, Anthropology, Soteriology and Eschatology. Explaining these he said that Theology was the doctrine of God; Bibliology the book; Anthropology, the doctrine of man; Soteriology, one who saves, hence the Christ, and Eschatology the hereafter.

The speaker then showed that if there is such a God, he must speak. He did speak, in his word, by his prophets and by the Christ. There ought to be a book that would suit all ages, describing the attributes of God. He showed that the Bible presented such a God. He followed with the idea of man. The use of the word life in Greek is plural. "God gave us lives, a physical and spiritual. If a man was made for two worlds, he would be foolish to live for one of them alone. He then developed the coming of the Savior for man, and showed that the Savior could not come from this end of the line. The last thought was that there was a future. The future must be one of two places, a place for the good and a place for the evil.

Tonight the American Legion will be the guests. The subject of the special sermon will be "The Serge of Al." Tomorrow night the Odd Fellows and Rebekah's will be present and they will hear a sermon on David and Jonathan. All delegations are well treated and every one has
