Gen. Liggett, of World War Fame, Retires

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—(United Press.)—The active military career of Major-General Hunter S. Liggett, second in command to General Pershing during the war, came to a close here today.

He was automatically retired under the age limit after over 40 years continuous service in olive drab. Since his return from France, after he had led the American first army to victory through the stormy days of the Argonne and then had command of the American section in the occupation of Germany, Liggett has been at the head of the western department of the army.

Although his name has not been emblazoned in headlines, as in the thrilling days of 1918, none can say that Liggett failed to end his military career with characteristic activity. His work since taking command of the western department here has included the reorganization of the Mexican border patrol in California and Arizona, and important duties, quietly carried out, in putting the department on a peace basis.

Liggett was a product of the genius factory of the American army—the Philippine insurrection, which followed the Spanish war. It was in that campaign that Liggett, Pershing and the late General Funston won their spurs. He served as a major with Pershing and Funston and from that time on the rise of the famous trio was rapid.

Reading, Pennsylvania, claims Liggett as its famous son. He was born there March 21, 1857. Twenty-two years later he graduated from West Point. His first assignment was as a second lieutenant with the Fifth Infantry, where he served until 1884, when he was raised to a first lieutenant. June 1, 1897, he was commissioned a captain and at the outbreak of the war with Spain became a major of volunteers, fighting in Cuba until peace was declared. It was then that he was transferred to the Philippines where his name began to become known among those who watch careers of military men.

After serving until 1909 a major he was made a lieutenant-colonel and a little later a colonel. In 1913 he put the first star on his shoulder strap when he became a brigadier-general.

Just before the United States entered the war Liggett took command of the western department of the army with headquarters here and in

LEGION WILL MEET.

Umpqua Post of the American Legion and the Women's Auxiliary will meet at the armory on Tuesday night, March 22. There will be business meetings of both orders and a joint social hour. All members and those desiring to join are urged to be present.

1917 became a major-general. With the opening of active hostilities he directed preliminary organization work on the Pacific coast and went to France with one of the earliest contingents.

On his retirement Liggett intends to live in California, either San Francisco or Los Angeles being his choice of homes.

NOTICE.

Party who took Goodyear Overcoat from armory last Saturday night, either by error or theft, will receive reward if returned within three days. No questions will be asked. Communicate with "T," care News-Review.

BULGIN CLOSES REVIVAL.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 20.—Rev. E. J. Bulgin closed a four-weeks series of meetings here tonight with three of the largest audiences today that he has had during the series. At the morning service he preached about ten minutes, most of the time devoted to soliciting funds in his own behalf, it having been announced at the beginning of the series of meetings that the only way he was to get for the meetings was the collections taken today.

In the afternoon he spoke on "Friendship," dwelling especially upon the lives of the mountaineers of the south. Most of that session was also devoted to raising funds for Rev. Mr. Bulgin.

It was estimated that over $1500 was taken in at the morning meeting and large amounts at both afternoon and evening meetings. No statement had been given out late this afternoon as to the amount collected or the number of converts made.

The sermon for the last meeting was "The King's Business."

DRY LEADERS EXPRESS OPINION ON NEW RULING.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The sign once displayed in the dining room of a North Carolina hotel announcing that to prevent guests taking fruit from the table there would be no fruit, about expresses the view of dry leaders in congress on the new ruling as to medicinal beer.

"If there is to be prescribed in any quantity for everybody who is ailing, there will be no beer," was the upshot of opinions by house prohibitionists.

Several members, including those who worked for the Volstead law, declared that former Attorney-General Palmer rightly construed the act in holding that beer, like liquor, could be prescribed. They are awaiting with interest publication of prohibition department regulations as to the prescribing of beer.

While the Volstead act limits whiskey that may be prescribed, there is no beer provision. Prohibition leaders think it may be necessary to fix that by statute.

Predictions are made by several prohibition members that the policy of congress will depend upon a beer treaty. Going back to pre-prohibition days, dry leaders recalled that the sick man's beer supply was rather liberal. It used to be prescribed by the case.

The Bible conference led by Rev. White at the Presbyterian church was well attended last night. These conferences have been drawing much attention.

W. F. York leaves in the morning for Texas, where he expects to make his future home. He has been employed at the Roseburg Cafeteria for several months.

PITTSBURG MAN MAKES WONDERFUL STATEMENT

Declares Tanlac Enabled Him to Eat Better, Sleep Better and Work Better—Has Gained Thirty Pounds.

HARRY M. ALLEN, of Pittsburg, Pa.

"I consider Tanlac the grandest medicine in the world, for I have actually gained 30 pounds in weight since I began taking it. It has just simply allied me with new life and energy and for the first time in years I can sit down to the table and enjoy three square meals a day like other people. In fact Tanlac has made me eat better, feel better, sleep better and work better, and I guess that's all a man can expect of a medicine."

"Before taking Tanlac, I was off 25 pounds in weight and was so badly run down I was hardly able to do my work. Nothing seemed to agree with me and my food invariably soured on my stomach. I would always have an uncomfortable bloated up feeling in my stomach, and although I tried many kinds of medicines, I never got relief until I took Tanlac."

"I also suffered considerably at times from rheumatism, but this has all disappeared. In fact, this wonderful medicine has made a new man out of me in every way. I feel years younger and can do as much work as in any day of my life."

"Of course, I am only too glad to give you my testimonial because I want other people who are suffering as I did to take this medicine and get relief."

The above remarkable statement was made by Harry M. Allen, residing at 1009 Saint Martin street, Pittsburg, Pa., a well known employe of the Oliver Iron & Steel Company of that city. Mr. Allen is a well known member of the United Presbyterian Church and is highly respected by all who know him.

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman; in Dixonville by John Hatfield; in Brookway by I. B. Nichols, and by leading druggists everywhere.

SCHOOLS IN FINE SHAPE

Mrs. O. C. brown has returned from a trip of inspection through the northern part of the county where she visited practically all of the schools she could reach by auto. She found conditions very satisfactory with few exceptions. A great improvement has been made in the school buildings and yards, she says, and the teachers are striving hard to meet the standard requirements.

LODGE SOCIAL TONIGHT

A big time is planned by the members of the Masonic Blue Lodge and the Eastern Star, as the former is entertaining the ladies and their husbands, together with the wives of the members of the Masonic chapter. A joint meeting is to be held and will be followed by a social hour and program and later in the evening refreshments will be served.

TAKE UP TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—The house ways and means committee voted late today to take up the Fordney emergency tariff bill, precisely as the one vetoed by President Wilson and put it through the special session with a six month's limitation. The plan met with the approval of the president and also republican members of the senate finance committee.

RENAWAYS PICKED UP

Gerald Gregerson and Harold Perry of Centralia were picked up here yesterday. Both were boys and confessed to having run away from home. The father of the former boy arrived in Roseburg today and took the boys on home with him this afternoon.

TOURISTS COME THROUGH.

Six or eight automobiles loaded with tourists pass through Roseburg each day, according to L. D. Jones, of the highway service station. The tourist trade has been good all winter and is now showing indications of a big summer trade. The roads, the tourists tell Mr. Jones, are in fairly good condition, with the exception of Smith hill, near Grants Pass, which is said to be the worst place on the Pacific highway.

Mrs. Kate Macklyn, of Eugene, who has been spending the past week in Roseburg visiting with friends, left this afternoon for her home.
