

ADVICE TO LOVELORN AND OTHERS

BY MRS. ELLSBURY

A Daily Column of Questions and Answers Conducted by a Woman Who Knows. Address your Letters to Mrs. Ellsbury, Care Roseburg News-Review.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: A young man used to take me out rather often, but now he hardly ever takes me out with him. I have thought that this may be because of the extra expense of the machine and he doesn't feel that he can afford to take me so often now. Do you think this is the reason? H.

A. There is a possibility that your supposition is correct, but it would be reasonable to suppose that a young man would invite you out more frequently than ever now that he has a car. He could at least take you for a drive occasionally, even if it would not offer to take you to places of amusement. The real reason for the withdrawal of his attention, doubtless, is that he is no longer interested in you. It is all too painful to lose a valued friend, but if the man does not return your love it is better for you to know now.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I am a young girl, 18 years old. I think a great deal of my husband, but he goes out every evening and leaves me at home with the baby, and seems to think that this is all right. Don't you think he should take me with him?

A. Perhaps your husband has not time to be inconsiderate. It may be that he does not ask you to go with him because he thinks you will not leave the baby. If you will arrange to have some reliable person come in to care for the baby occasionally, doubtless he will be very young for the cares of a household and home-making. If your husband is but little older than you, it may be that he finds it irksome to give up his old freedom. If you cannot go out with him often, at least you can make your home a social center for the friends of both of you.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I have been married with a young woman for a number of years, and have often regretted at getting married, but she always puts me off by changing the subject. I don't think she goes out with other men. Do you think that is because she doesn't love me that she won't take my hints about marriage?

A. If she were refusing your invitations and accepting those of other men, you might well believe that she did not care for you. But the mere fact that she has given so much of her time to you seems to indicate her affection for you. The fault has been with you; it is not enough to offer hints of marriage. Marriage is too important and serious a thing to be spoken of in hints. Perhaps it is because she realized this that she has seemed to put you off. Tell her frankly of your regard for her and ask her to become your wife.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I have heard there is a place where water freezes every night and thaws every day of the year. Where is it? CURIOS.

A. On account of the altitude water freezes every night of the year at Alto Crucero, in Bolivia; while on account of nearness to the equator the days are hot.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: Of what material is the White House built?

A. The White House is built of Virginia freestone, painted white.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: When and by whom was the floral tribute placed on the Potomac river in memory of the Lusitania victims? W. N.

A. Legion of Loyal Women, May 31, 1917.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: When was the first night school started?

A. The first night school for boys and girls who had to work during the day was established in 1806 at Bristol, England, by the "Benevolent Evening Schools Society."

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: How long ago did advertising originate?

A. The advertisement, as we know it, originated only a little more than a couple of centuries ago, but it had its anticipations many thousands of years ago. The ancient Jews made announcements by means of public criers; the Greeks added written to oral communications of this sort; the Romans expanded the practice in many ways.

We all now have our new mail order house prices on hosiery. We know they are lower. We know also that a picture of a 15c hose looks just the same as a $1.50 hose. If you could see what you're getting and get them cheaper yet, then you would be interested. Carr's Store has a big line of quality hose at prices that save you money. And our hose wear. Carr's hosiery trade is a substantial part of their business. Women's and children's hosiery in black, white, brown; of silk, wool, cotton or lisle. IMPROVEMENT CLUB MEETS.

The Garden Valley Improvement Club held their annual May Day luncheon on Thursday, May 5, at one o'clock at the Woman's club room. Mrs. J. E. Nash was hostess for the day. The table was beautifully set for twenty-five and spring flowers of many kinds were in abundance. This meeting was the most important one for the club as it was not only the loveliest time of the year but celebrated the organization of the club. One of the ladies had a cake with six candles, showing the club was now six years old. After the luncheon was over the business of the club was carried on and plans for a reading course were made that will be both helpful and entertaining. The club then adjourned to meet in two weeks at the club room. Mrs. Harry Cleveland being hostess for the day.

How you can measure tire value in 1921 —

"Any U. S. Tire is a universal full-money's worth."

OFTEN it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hard-pan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

country to another to "find a market."

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.

"The different tire views that come out in a chance talk."
