READING IN THE SCHOOLS.

One of the big changes that has taken place in public school methods lies in the modified attitude toward reading as a study. "Reading, Tilting and 'Rithmetic" were the far-famed three Rs of the Little Red School house. If a child had these, it was thought he had the fundamentals of Middle aged and elderly people remember the old fashioned reading books, in which the pupils used to pore over famous crations by Webster. Clay and Everett, and fireside favor-ites of poetry by Longfellow and Tennyson. The selections were good, and stored the minds of the children

EXTENDING RETAIL TRADE.

A bulletin is published each month in Westfield Mass, called the "Trade in Westfield" bulletin. This publication is mailed each month to 6000 families in Westfield and adjoining towns, preceding special sales days which are run on the second Monday and Tuesday of each month. The bulletin carries advertisements by local dealers, and the report is that it has done a great deal to build ut such a trade bulletin. A newspaper can do the work much better than a bulletin, because it is published more frequently and it keeps the work of soliciting going all the time. And it is a great deal less expensive to take space in an existing publication than to get out an entirely new sheet and distribute it.

So in many places Chambers of Commerce are arranging with some enterprising home newspaper, to get out regularly a local trade issue, in which large space is given to advertlaing of special sales and arguments in favor of supporting home trade, Enough extra capies are issued to make sure that the whole district is thoroughly covered, including territors where trade may go to other places

"QUAKERS" MERELY IN NAME

in Russia, of Doubtful Origin Has Little in Common With the Parent Body.

In consequence of the recent revived interest in Quakerism on the continent of Europe-250 years ago there were numerous Friendly settlements throughout Holland, Germany and the "pale" of Russia-the international ervice has been granted power by the London yearly meeting to accept ap-plicants for membership after receiving reports from their relief workers. latest to be thus received, says the Manchester Guardian, is Countess Olga Tolstoy, daughter-in-law of Leo Tolstoy. She has long been interested in the Friends, and the recent renewal of the Quaker activities in Russia has made it possible for her to get into direct communication with English Friends. Among some of the smaller Russian sects there is one whose mem bers are known as "Quakers." They are apparently the descendants of some itinerant preacher of the seventeenth century, but they seem to have no direct knowledge of their origin, and lack of touch with the parent body has led to variations in doctrine and practice which today have left little but the name as a link.
Princess Buye Watches.

The Begum (princess) of Bhopal, India, who bought 4,000 silver watches to take back to her people in the cen-tral Indian state when she visited Switzerland in 1911, has just sent for another lot of 2,500 timepleces. She wants her subjects to be punctual and not rely on the sun for the time of day.

She probably is the only ruler of a state in India and is also called sultan. The throne of Bhopal has descended in a distaff line for more than 75 years, and many of the begums have displayed modern tenden cies in looking after the welfare of their subjects, who number 665,000. The Sultan Jahan Begum succeeded to the throne in 1901. Bhopal is the princi-pal province of central India and its capital, the city of Bhopal, has about 75,000 inhabitants. — Japan Adver-

Mule Attends Church.

For the last six months, says a Los Angeles correspondent, Billy Sunday, a mule, has attended church regularly on Sundays and Wednesdays. On Sunday mornings and Wednesday evenings he departs straight for Elder Henry's church in South Canal street. He goes to the rear of the church and gets as close to the pulpit as possible in order that he may hear the discourse, and he stands there with bowed head and resists all efforts to lead him away until services are over. He always returns after the services of his own accord and never gives any trouble unless an attempt is made to restrain him when services at Elder Henry's church are going on. So far the church going of the mule has not box factory are certain that when a revival starts at the Union church and services are held daily, that "Billy Sunday" will insist on attending them
