The Same Service is Back of Both

JUST as the De Laval Cream Separator established new and higher standards, so is the De Laval Milker establishing higher standards among milkers. It is strong, durable, simple in construction and operation, and easy to keep clean. It saves time and increases production. It is a better way of milking.

Service also helped make the De Laval Separator famous; and it is service back of the De Laval Milker that is helping to create preference for it among dairymen. This means that the De Laval Milker will be properly installed, that you will be thoroughly instructed in its care and operation, and our interest in you, instead of ending there, just begins.

Ask us about the De Laval Milker.

Weekly Weather Summary Given

The following summary of the weather and crop conditions for the week ending May 10, has been issued by Edward L. Wells, meteorologist, whose headquarters are at Portland:

There was considerable cloudiness during the week with occasional rain and general rain was in progress in western counties as the week closed. In most eastern and southern sections the rainfall was light. Irrigation is being done in eastern counties, and in some central localities dry winds blew out some grain. The weather was rather too cool for rapid development of vegetation, and freezing temperature occurred in elevated eastern districts. In northwestern counties farm work was delayed by wet weather. Winter wheat and rye are doing well. Rye is heading in Columbia county and wheat is in the boot in Jackson county. Seeding of spring wheat, oats, and barley continues, and in elevated eastern districts a considerable acreage remains to be sown. Early sown spring grain is doing well. Corn planting is becoming more general. In Douglas county some early planted corn rotted and replanting will be necessary. Apples are blooming freely but conditions have not been altogether favorable for pollination, and spraying has been delayed by wet weather. Pears are dropping heavily in Jackson county, and the drop of prunes in parts of the Willamette valley is serious. Ripening of strawberries has been delayed by cool, cloudy weather, but a few have been marketed in Douglas county. Alfalfa is making better growth, but still needs warmer weather. Other hay crops are doing well, although vetch is somewhat affected by aphids. Feed on the range is good to excellent. Shearing of sheep is extending to eastern counties. Lambing is nearing completion. All stock is doing well. Potato planting is becoming more general. Early potatoes are growing fairly well. Gardens are showing improvement, but need warmer weather. Hops are being plowed.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

CONCERNING BOND ISSUES.

To the Editor of the News-Review: In your article in yesterday's News-Review you claim that the assessed valuation of Douglas county has been increased $6,000,000 since the last bond issue was authorized by the people. You do not, however, explain that increase in valuation was made by adding 25 per cent to the valuation for assessment purposes of the farm property of Douglas county, nor do you explain that the valuation of city property was not increased at all. Forty per cent was added to the timber of the county at the same time.

To the farmer, who wants good roads better than any other man, the question is, where is the money coming from? If conditions in the country at large should remain as they are for the next four or five years, many men will be forced out of the production of food, for today we cannot compete with the eastern farmer with the excessive freight rate that we have to assume. Mr. O. C. Soots, secretary of the Yakima Commercial club, says that in that valley there are 1300 cars of apples that the producers refuse to ship because of certain loss due to high freight rates. Mr. Thos. O'Neil, president of the California Vegetable union, claims that the vegetable acreage in California will decrease 50 per cent this year on account of these same high freight rates.

You claim that the city merchants will pay a large share of this tax. When did an up-to-date merchant ever pay a tax? He adds the tax to the retail cost of his goods, for his taxes are a legitimate part of his overhead expenses and the consumer eventually pays the tax. The renter of a house in Roseburg will likewise pay the tax, for his landlord will increase his rent if the landlord's taxes are increased.

The only way in which valuations can be increased is by again adding something to the assessed valuation of property in the county. With, as you say, $6,000,000 added to the assessed valuation of the county, taxes have doubled within the past six years.

This morning's Portland paper shows that federal reserve interest rates have been cut in such widely separated centers as New York, Atlanta and Chicago. Let's go a little slower for a year or two on the bond question and see what freight rate we will eventually have to pay, and by that time it will not be necessary to pay 6 per cent for money with which to build roads. Probably 4 1/2 per cent bonds will then be in demand.

Today you can buy alfalfa hay at Klath Falls for $10 per ton, but the freight rate on that ton to Roseburg is $18.50. Today we have to pay 90 cents to send a box of apples to New York in car lots, and we have water competition at that. There is enough wool in the United States to meet the requirements for the next twelve months. Ask the sheep breeder where he is going to get any money to pay any increase in his already heavy taxes.

DR. C. H. BAILEY.

FEW ADVANTAGES OF GOLF PROFESSIONAL

Ernie Krueger Tried to Enter as Amateur.

Because He Played Baseball for Living He Was Enabled to Enjoy Privileges of Florida Course Without Paying Fee.

Ernie Krueger, Dodger catcher, spent part of the winter at Deland, Fla. Ernie is a golfer for sport sake and a ball player for pay. Hence, after being properly domiciled in the pretty town, he sought out the golf links and paid his greens fees like a gentleman. Ernie can do his 80 or thereabouts on most any course, so when the annual amateur-pro tournament came along he decided to enter—as an amateur.

The chairman of the committee looked Ernie over, rubbed his chin and remarked reflectively:

"You are a professional ball player, Mr. Krueger, are you not?"

"Yes, sir," replied Ernie, a bit mystified.

"Well," said the committee-man, "as a professional baseball player you cannot be an amateur golfer. But you can enter as a pro."

"That's odd," parried Krueger.

"Then if I were a professional billiard player, I'd be a golf pro, too?"

"You certainly would; those are the rules," asserted the chairman.

"Very well then, I'll enter as a pro," said Ernie. "Oh, by the way," he continued, "I understand that the pros are permitted to use the links without greens charges. If that is true, I am entitled to a refund for the fees I have paid as an amateur, am I not?"

"Most assuredly," replied the committee-man.

Krueger not only got his refund, but played the course free of charge during the remainder of his stay at Deland.
