

AFTER a baking falls— becomes tough or soggy, you can't make it tender and tempting. It can't be "fixed." It is like spilled milk—"wasted."

But, there is a way to prevent this waste—every woman should use it—because a bake day loss these days is a real loss.

Calumet Baking Powder positively prevents failure. It has been doing it for millions of housewives for a third of a century.

"And it was a home-run, dad!"

"We needed one to win, and I slammed the first ball up between left and centre. It never would have been good for more than three bases, but I had on those new Sportshus, and I stretched it to a home run. All the fellows want Sportshus now."

Big men and little men want sport trimming on their play shoes. The Sportshu is red trimmed, red corrugated sole—a splendid shoe at a moderate price. And how the little folks like their looks. Ask for the Hood Sportshu.

The Hood Klaysort is the standard shoe for tennis. Don't waste money buying "sneakers" that go to pieces on the hard courts. Klaysorts also make a corking shoe for every member of the family, for every kind of outdoor sport. Remember, Hood Klaysort.

Here is the shoe for hard work or hard play. Extra strong construction, heavy mail-bag duck uppers, grey tie-tread sole, Hood patented pneumatic heels. Buy them for the children. Buy them for yourself, and see how much more rested you will feel at night, and how much money you save on footwear.

SALVAGERS DID GOOD WORK

Recovering Disabled Ships During the World War Was Matter of Highest Heroism.

Landlubbers link salvaging ships and cargoes to easy deals in treasure trove, but the skippers of the salvaging ships would tell them that salvage is sweaty and poorly paid exertion. They do not regard themselves as adventurers of romance. They are divers of seagoing ambulances. They are marine surgeons, who operate on sick or disabled craft, says the Spokane Spokesman Review.

Salvaging before the war was a matter-of-fact trade, but during the war it became a business fraught with extraordinary danger. The maritime belligerents had to save every damaged or sunken ship that they could, and the salvager was almost as indispensable to winning the war as was the man-o-war.

At the Dardanelles five vessels were sunk near shore, and yet all were salvaged expeditiously by the Liverpool firms.

In June of 1917 the salvagers recovered four good-sized steamers in ten days that had been sunk in the English channel. They salvaged Beattie's flagship and the Britannia and the Asturias; the submarine K-13 after its crew had been submerged two and a half days; the wrecks off Ostend and Zebrugge.

The salvaging boats had at one and the same time to act as machine shop, power house, pumping station and tug. They worked in a single spot, where they were target for every German submarine anywhere around. They showed a heroism beyond praise.
