CARPENTIER AND DEMPSEY
AWAIT GOING TO SEND THEM
TO BATTLE AT JERSEY CITYContestants Rest Awaiting the Hour For Big Fight—Ticket
Sales Mount to Over Million and a Quarter Dollars—
Weather Man Promises Sunshine.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, July 1.—Fight fans believe Jack Dempsey will finish Georges Carpentier, the French challenger for the heavyweight title, with the first left hand blow which he is able to land upon his shifty opponent. This may be early in the fight and again it may be late, but the fans are certain that it will be some time during the twelve rounds. Dempsey backers are seeking better odds, with last minute Carpentier stock jumping.

Some of the fight followers are fearful that Dempsey is losing weight worrying over the coming bout.

Governor Edwards announces that the efforts of the reformers to stop the bout have been unavailing and that the fight will be held. With this announcement practically all barriers except the weather are removed and the weather man says that the sun will shine.

Tickets are moving slowly due to the counterfeiting scare. The stadium is completed and the seat sale has reached a million and a quarter dollars.

Seat Sale Big.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 1.—The advance sale of seats for the fight have already yielded a million and a quarter dollars. Promoter Rickard announced that the total is expected to pass a million and a half. Hotels are crowded to capacity, over five thousand visitors being registered. Twenty thousands fight fans are expected to arrive today.

Dempsey Secluded.

(By Associated Press.)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 1.—Before sundown Dempsey will be secluded in a private residence in Jersey City to remain until he faces Carpentier tomorrow. Every precaution is being taken for rest and to keep the champion from the eyes of curious thousands.

Carpentier Rests.

(By Associated Press.)
MANHASSET, N. Y., July 1.—Only light exercise is the program for Carpentier today. Trainer Wilson prescribed phonograph music, a walk in the woods and a long automobile ride.

Expects Dempsey to Win.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 1.—Battling Nelson said that he would not be surprised if Dempsey wins in the first round.

The Woodcraft Thimble club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ada Payton, the meeting taking the form of a quilting bee. It was voted to send $25 of the proceeds of the last window sale to the Woodcraft home at Riverside, Calif., as well as a piece of quilt to be made by the club members. Meetings will be discontinued during July and August.

SUIT FAVORS RECTOR.

(By Associated Press.)
PORTLAND, July 1.—Circuit Judge Gatens decided today in favor of Dr. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Episcopal church in the suit brought against him by the board of school trustees of the Episcopal church for an accounting in connection with the sale of land to the board in 1908 for $25,000 for a site for the schools. The crowd in the court room applauded when the judge told the plaintiffs, "Go thou and learn Christianity."June Marriages
Less This Year

June marriages fell off somewhat this year. Last June 31 couples launched into the sea of matrimony, while this year 23 couples sought the services of the minister or peace officer. The marriage license business started off with a rush, according to County Clerk I. B. Riddle, but for almost a week there was a halt and no licenses were obtained. The past few days there have been quite a number issued but not enough to bring the total for the month up to last year, which was a record breaker.

Betting on Dempsey and Carpentier Fight Very Light In Local Circles

If popular sentiment and good wishes will help any, Georges Carpentier can get plenty of that in Roseburg; if financial backing is more important, Dempsey will win in the battle contest to be staged Saturday at Jersey City. The hopes of the majority of the populace go into the ring with the French polli, but those who have money to wager allow their hopes to run rampant and put their cash on Dempsey. Sentiment and judgment don't mix in bets.

It is apparently a fact that in spite of the racial standpoint of the contest, the majority of people desire to see the challenger victorious. This probably is because of the corresponding records of the two men. Carpentier was a brave, daring French aviator, winning recognition and honor for his ability and bravery. Deservedly or not Dempsey has the reputation of having shirked his duty during the war. There may possibly have been reasons for his failure to enter the army service, but whether or not this is the case, many people feel that his record was not of the best and consequently give their moral support to the Frenchman.

When it comes to placing money on the two men, however, the challenger gets little support. Dempsey is a big favorite, as far as the money is concerned, and few Carpentier backers are found.

In Roseburg practically all bets are freak bets. It is practically a foregone conclusion that Dempsey will win. The question appears to be the number of rounds the fight will go. Some money has been placed at two to one that Carpentier will stay in the ring for the full term. The most popular bet, however, is that Carpentier will not answer the bell for the fourth round. Even money has been bet on this proposition, in one or two cases, while in other bets odds have been given by the Dempsey supporters.

Little money, however, has been wagered. Most of the bets placed are in small denominations and no big bets have been placed, so far as is known. Considerable interest is being shown in the fight and there will be a big crowd to get the returns as they are bulletined by the News-Review, but betting will be very light.

Divorce Case
Heard In Court

A great deal of interest was shown in the divorce suit of W. L. Cain against Marion M. Cain, which was heard in the circuit court. The parties to the suit are well known residents of the county and as the case was hotly contested with a number of witnesses on both sides, the courtroom was well filled. The divorce was sought by Mr. Cain, who alleged adultery, immoral conduct and cruel and inhuman treatment. He was represented by Attorney Wimberly. Mrs. Cain contested the suit, being represented by Attorney John T. Long. A number of witnesses were examined on both sides and after hearing the testimony the divorce was allowed. Judge Hamilton in allowing the complaint, however, stated that there was no evidence to show adultery or immoral conduct, but as there was an apparent inability of the couple to get along amicably the divorce was granted.

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Wheeler and Miss Allie Campbell left this morning for San Francisco after a week's visit with J. R. Wheeler of Winchester.

Senator Staples
In City Today

Senator Isaac E. Staples, of Multnomah county, president of the Reedport bank, was in the city today as plaintiff in an action in the circuit court. The case was one in which Mr. Staples sues on the foreclosure of a mortgage given by Clifford Danney and others on the Danney building in Reedport. Mr. Staples appeared by his attorneys, R. M. Burley of Portland and George Neuner of this city. Following the testimony the judgment was allowed in the sum claimed in the complaint, being in excess of $2100. Mr. Staples and Attorney Burley returned to Portland on the afternoon train.

Seattle Bank
Suspends Business(By United Press.)
SEATTLE, July 1.—The Scandinavian-American bank directors today announced the suspension of the bank. Efforts to effect a merger with three other Seattle banks failed at the last minute. According to the last official call, the bank has a capital surplus of a million and a quarter dollars and deposits of nearly twelve million. Value shrinkages and abnormal decreases in deposits are declared to have caused the bank's suspension. The supervisor of banking has charge.Bridge Club Entertain
Husbands

The bridge club of this city entertained their husbands on Wednesday evening with a delightful party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hume. The Hume home was attractive with pink ramblers roses and other greenery. After a pleasant evening a dainty luncheon was served to the guests. The guest list included, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stapleton, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Boyse Recovering
From Knife Wound

James Boyse, of Elkton, who was injured last Friday by being stabbed during an altercation with William Lovins, a neighbor, was said today to be improving. The wound, it is stated, is healing rapidly and there are no signs of serious infection. In the event improvement continues the patient will probably be dismissed from the hospital early next week. As soon as all danger of infection is gone, Mr. Lovins, who is now held in the county jail, will probably be admitted to bail and will be allowed to return to his home.

WILL GET RETURNS.

Bulletins on the Dempsey-Carpentier fight will be received by the News-Review, direct from the ringside. Preliminary news will doubtless be received early in the morning and the announcements of the early details should begin to come in during the morning hours. The fight is to start at 3 o'clock, eastern daylight saving time, which is four hours ahead of the pacific time. This will open the ringside wires at 11 o'clock, pacific time. Allowing sufficient time for the announcements to be made and the principals to enter the ring, the actual account of the round by round battle should be on the wires by 11:30 or 12 o'clock. The bulletins will be megaphoned and posted at the News-Review office and fight fans will be given an opportunity to watch the progress of the bout.

THOUSANDS OF
BIG TROUT TRAPPEDForest Ranger Writes of an Unusual Sight In River
Near Diamond Lake.

POWDER IS NEEDED

Projecting Ledge of Falls Prevents
Spawning Trout From Regaining
Native Waters—Ledge Will Be Blasted Out.

Three thousand of the biggest trout ever seen in Oregon are milling to death in the falls of the North Umpqua below the mouth of Lake Creek, the outlet of Diamond lake, according to a letter received this morning by Forest Supervisor Ramsdell from Ranger O. C. Houser. Desperate efforts are being made by the forest service men in that vicinity and H. D. Short, game warden, to save as many of the fish as possible by transferring them by hand back over the falls.

The North Umpqua heads in the mountains of the Cascade range and one of its main tributaries is Lake Creek, which flows out of Diamond lake. Just a short distance below Lake Creek there is a six foot falls, which has a projecting ledge. The huge Rainbow and Eastern Brook trout of Diamond lake drop down over these falls and spawn, and then because of the projecting ledge are unable to get back into the lake stream and back to the lake, and beat themselves to death against the rocks trying to jump over the ledge. This year the fish are of a much greater size than has ever been noticed before, Mr. Houser says. Many of the Rainbows will weigh as much as 18 pounds, he says, while some of the Eastern Brook trout will run to 24 pounds in weight. He estimates that three thousand fish are trapped below the falls and are killing themselves trying to get back into their native waters.

The game warden and the forest service crew headed by Mr. Houser are working industriously, transferring the trout back over the falls by hand in an effort to save as many of them as possible. Mr. Houser asks that powder be shipped in at once in order that the ledge may be blasted out. Forest Supervisor Ramsdell states that the forest service will immediately co-operate with the fish commission in this matter and will blow out the projecting ledge. The fish will then be able to jump the falls without difficulty. The blowing out of this ledge will not lower the water level in the lake and will not injure the power possibilities at that place.

Oregon Veterans
For Carpentier(By Associated Press.)
EUGENE, July 1.—After Rev. William S. Gilbert, Presbyterian minister and former army chaplain, now commander of the American Legion of Oregon, had expressed a hope that Dempsey would get a "blasted good mauling tomorrow," the state convention of the American Legion, meeting here today, wired Georges Carpentier expressing best wishes for his success in behalf of thirty-four thousand Oregon ex-service men. A second wire was sent to Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., assistant secretary of the navy, who will be at the ringside, asking him to see that Carpentier receives the message.

There is already a contest for the next convention. The Dallas, Baker, Klamath Falls and Marshfield are mentioned.

Contractor Robbed
Companion Missing

PORTLAND, July 1.—A logging contractor named Renault, said to be a Portlander, was badly beaten and the man who was with him may be dead, as the result of a robbery on the highway between Portland and Tillamook some time before midnight last night. Renault is in a hospital ten miles from Tillamook and is in such a low condition that he is unable to tell his companion's name or fate. Officials believe his companion was murdered by three men in an automobile who held up Renault, stealing a $2500 payroll of money which Renault was taking to pay off his men. The sheriff is making a search today for the missing man. Contractor Renault hit one of the highwaymen and was clubbed over the head and knocked out. Dr. Boals, of Tillamook, found Renault and gave first aid.

Dr. J. R. N. Bell
Is Honored

CORVALLIS, Or., June 30.—A large number of officers of the grand Masonic lodge of Oregon and past grand officers came here last night to confer upon Dr. J. R. N. Bell the honorary degree of past grand master of the grand lodge of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons of Oregon.

While this event is declared to be unique in the history of Masonry, only one instance being on record in Oregon, it was made unique in world Masonic history first by giving Dr. Bell the office of grand master of the grand lodge. He then resigned and became past grand master automatically. Dr. Bell's wife, his three daughters, a daughter-in-law, a son-in-law and two grandchildren witnessed the ceremonies.

Civil War Veteran
Dies Suddenly

Isaac Hayden, 74-year-old veteran of the Civil war, died suddenly last evening at the home of his niece, Mrs. P. M. Cook, corner of Pitzer and Court street. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Hayden appeared to be in good health until a few minutes before he died. During the afternoon he was around the yard helping put in the wood and playing with the children of Mrs. Cook. After the evening meal the Cook family invited him to accompany them to the band concert on the "sart house lawn," but he declined, saying that he was tired, but that he might walk down later. On account of the coolness of the evening the family remained away only a short time. Upon entering the home Mrs. Cook saw a light in his room and heard him gasping. She entered the room and found him unconscious. Dr. Shoemaker was summoned immediately, but the man had died a few moments later. The doctor's opinion is that he never regained consciousness from the time he was first overcome.

His sister, Mrs. Laura Kimball who has also been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Cook, was visiting in Los Angeles, but is expected home tonight or tomorrow.

Mr. Hayden was one of fourteen children. He is survived by three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Laura Kimball of Roseburg; Mrs. M. A. Caswell of Los Angeles; Mrs. Elsie Rich of North Dakota; Ed Hayden of Canada and Samuel Hayden of Wisconsin.

He was born in Salford, Maine, April 30, 1847. He served in the Civil war and was in the first sold rush to the Klondike. Upon his return from Alaska he lived in Vancouver, B. C., where he was the owner of the first department store built in that city. He came to Roseburg in December, three years ago. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Soldiers' Home, and will be in charge of the old soldiers. Burial will take place in the Soldiers' Home cemetery.

Mrs. W. E. Satchwell of Yoncalla spent the day in town shopping.

LEADERS OF LABOR UNIONS
FIGHT THREATENED NATION-
WIDE STRIKE RAIL WORKERSCut In Wages Goes Into Effect Today—Strike Vote Taken by Many Labor Unions—Strike Add to Ranks of Unemployed
Is Claim of Officials.

By CARL V. LITTLE,

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
CHICAGO, July 1.—Two million railroad workers are drawing reduced pay while union leaders from all parts of the country are meeting for the purpose of trying to reach an amicable settlement and prevent the cut in wages and at the same time avert a strike which threatens to engulf all of the railroads of the country and tie up the nation's entire transportation system.

A thousand executives representing the railroad labor unions are endeavoring to decide whether they shall accept or reject the four hundred million dollar annual wage cut ordered by the United States railroad labor board. They will use every means to prevent a nationwide strike as this will add to the ranks of the unemployed, and in addition will not have the popular support. There seems to be a sentiment that railroad workers must suffer with the rest during the period of readjustment.

The majority of the rank and file members of the various unions represented oppose the cut in wages. The unions report overwhelming votes rejecting the new lowered wage schedule. The members of the four big brotherhoods have not yet voted on the issue despite the talk of strike votes of some unions.

Band Gives
Good Concert

A very large and appreciative audience last night listened to the band concert given at the courthouse square. Because of the weather conditions and the extra work preparing for the Fourth of July celebration, the band cut its program shorter than usual. The large crowd in attendance showed its appreciation of each of the band numbers by long and loud applause. Practically the full membership of the band was present last night and the concert was fine. The band is particularly thankful for the assistance rendered by the Boy Scouts, who kept the traffic well placed and consequently much confusion and noise was avoided.

Vote to Reject Cut.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, July 1.—Ninety-five per cent of the membership of the international brotherhood of firemen and others have voted against accepting the wage cut ordered by the United States railroad labor board on all roads today. Fifteen hundred union leaders have gathered here to pass on the order.

Legislation Delayed.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 1.—The senate investigation of the railway situation was suspended today by Chairman Cummins of the interstate commerce committee until August. This is taken to indicate that there will be no railway relief legislation during the present extra session.

Steel Workers Opt.

(By Associated Press.)
HARRISBURG, July 1.—A wageForesters to Meet In Roseburg Tomorrow For Conference on Methods

A meeting of forest patrolmen and those interested in the fire fighting and fire prevention work of the county, will be held in Roseburg tomorrow. The meeting has been called by the Douglas county fire patrol and is the annual convention of its patrolmen. The patrol will have about 25 of its own employees present while there will be at least eight patrolmen from the forest service and ten of the supervising wardens of the adjoining counties, together with forest supervisors who are cooperating with Douglas county in forest patrol work.

The Douglas county patrol plans each year to bring its patrolmen together for a short discussion of plans, methods, etc., and finds these meetings to be of great benefit. They were neglected for two years during the war and it was found that the number of fires were greatly increased.

The morning and afternoon will be given over to a school of methods, conferences, lectures, etc. Those who have charge of special work will explain their plans and a system will be adopted whereby the various districts can cooperate one with another to the benefit of all. The supervisors of the government forests adjoining Douglas county are expected to be present to talk over plans for cooperation, while supervising wardens of state patrols adjoining Douglas county will also be in attendance.

Mr. Pargeter stopped in Eugene yesterday on his way back from Portland to confer with Captain Smith, relative to the cooperation of the air and ground forces patrolling the forest. The aviation officers stated that the air service would like to have an emergency base at Roseburg and in the event a suitable landing field was available frequent stops would be made by the planes here.

The present field is much too rough, however, for the big planes and as a result cannot be used until an effort is made to smooth up the surface.

reduction of fifteen per cent, by the Bethlehem Steel corporation, effective on July 16, was announced at the Steelton plant today.

Senate Committee Investigates.

(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 1.—The senate interstate commerce committee, investigating the condition of the railroads, has received over a thousand pages of testimony from the railroad managers and security holders. The testimony agrees that the roads are more efficient under private operation and that the poor financial condition is due to war prices of labor, material and supplies. The railroads need a reduction of wages and also a revision of rates as the rates are not proportionate to the cost of transportation, the testimony states. A reduction of transportation rates must follow a reduction of labor and material costs, it is declared.

A fine talk was made by J. E. McClintock, who spoke quite briefly on some of the needs of the Umpqua valley. Because of the inclemency of the weather the community sing, which will be made a feature of the remaining concerts, was eliminated last night. The band promises that the program next Thursday evening will be the best yet given.

H. M. Boyd and family returned last night from Portland.

Aviation Field
May Be Improved

If Roseburg had a suitable landing field for the big De Havilland planes, the air patrol would be making frequent stops in this city, Captain Lowell H. Smith, in charge of the 91st squadron yesterday informed H. O. Pargeter of the Douglas county fire patrol in a conference at Eugene.

Mr. Pargeter stopped in Eugene yesterday on his way back from Portland to confer with Captain Smith, relative to the cooperation of the air and ground forces patrolling the forest. The aviation officers stated that the air service would like to have an emergency base at Roseburg and in the event a suitable landing field was available frequent stops would be made by the planes here.

The present field is much too rough, however, for the big planes and as a result cannot be used until an effort is made to smooth up the surface.

The local legion post has leased the field and expects soon to put it into shape for flying purposes. Mr. Pargeter states that the Douglas county fire patrol is willing to cooperate in paying the costs of the improvement of the field and is arranging for a conference with the legion committee in the hope that immediate action may be taken to put the aviation field into good condition.
