Highest Priced
 Barbers In Oregon

(By United Press.)
 ASTORIA, Or., July 8.—Astoria admits having the highest priced barbers in the Northwest, but it isn't one of the things the city is proud to boast about. There are a number of things of which the city is proud, but this is not among the number.

In Astoria, tomorrow, six bits must be paid into a barber's possession before he is satisfied with the end of the transaction in the event of a hair cut, and for thirty-five cents one can obtain a correct appurtenance of the finest set of whiskers—provided they are not sufficiently numerous to be classed along with the hair cuts, in which event, sometimes, the cash register goes the full route without a quail of conscience.

A recent escapee of the Northwest by some of the traveling barbers has elicited the discovery that if there is any hamlet where more is charged for scraping the transient or native face, or trimming the passing or local hair, it is not within the reach of the lanes of travel.

"And blame it," remarked a thread salesman from Spokane, "cutting one's own hair, don't you know, is blamed near impossible with any kind of results at all pleasing to the eye."

Good Game of Ball Last Night

The Presbyterian team of the twilight league last night started a regular Deupay comeback, and walloped the Baptists hard, after the water cure aggregation had apparently cinched the contest. A good brand of ball was offered in all but one inning, the Baptists blowing up in the last of the fourth and allowing the Presbyterians to walk around the bases at will.

The game started off with a rush and the Baptists took a big jump at the start and were playing strong.
 The first scoring came in the second inning. Cecil Black, singled and stole second. He was advanced to third on a sacrifice hit by Dolan and scored on a passed ball at the home plate. The Presbyterians tied the score in their half. Whipple going first on an error, stealing second and scoring on Watson's two-base hit.

An error, a base on balls, a double steal and a single, gave the Baptists two more in the third while the Presbyterians were unable to get a man around, although Randolph climbed to first by a single and stole second.

In the fourth, McClintock pitching for the Baptists, singled but failed to get away from the bag. In the last half of that inning the Presbyterians staged their big rally, which disorganized the Baptists until the game in that frame resembled the backlot contest of ante-war.

Street got on when Sutherland in right field dropped a high fly, which should have been easy fielding. Richardson singled, and Watson drove one out to third base, which Carl Black muffed, allowing Street and Richardson to score. Epstein singled, scoring Watson and then stole second.

Cecil Black took the mound, relieving McClintock who went to third putting Carl Black behind the bat, where Cecil had been playing. Black, however, failed to stop the hitting and Calhoun binged, scoring Epstein. Randolph whiffed out and Throno singled, pushing Calhoun around. Whipple ended the scoring by boosting an infield fly to Stephenson.

The Baptists failed to annex any additions to their record in the fifth and sixth innings, while the Presbyterians scored Richardson and Epstein.

The score by innings:
 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
 Baptists . . . . . 0 1 2 0 0 3 4 6 Presby. . . . . 0 1 0 5 2 8 8 2 Summary: Stolen bases, Randolph, Whipple, Epstein, Carl Black, Calhoun, Cecil Black; two-base hits, Wat-

Convict Obtained Freedom to Aid
 His Grandmother

SALEM, Or., July 8.—Luther Fagan, ex-convict, who was shot and killed near Hood River Wednesday afternoon after shooting T. J. Miller, Grove farmer and kidnapping Mrs.
 Miller and their daughter, Pearl, was pardoned from the state penitentiary here on April 19, last, on condition that he go to Oklahoma to support his aged mother.

Fagan was received at the penitentiary on December 4, 1919, for a term of not to exceed ten years on a statutory offense. He escaped from the prison on July 13, 1920, while a trustee on the prison farm but was recaptured and returned to the prison just two weeks later.

Records in the governor's office show that Fagan's pardon was based upon a recommendation from the state parole board which was in turn based on recommendation of Sheriff Johnson of Hood River county and others interested in Fagan.

"I feel Fagan did not deserve punishment as heavy as the law prescribed and that he should be given a chance at the expiration of his minimum sentence," Johnson declared in a letter to the parole board recommending Fagan's pardon.

The report of the parole board to the governor recommended that he be granted a conditional pardon and allowed to go to Fort Gibson, Oklahoma, to the support of an aged grandmother which he had expressed a desire to do.

Last December the records show Fagan had appeared before the parole board and volunteered to submit to an operation for castration if he could be released from the prison.
 This operation was later recommended by the state board of eugenics and performed under their supervision in accordance with the state law covering the unsexing of moral per-verts.

A letter from Sid Garrett, vice-president of the Farmers National bank at Fort Gibson, Okla., inter-ceding with the parole board in behalf of Fagan's release shows that he had been for years the sole support of his aged grandmother who had become, since his incarceration, practically destitute. The letter also refers to the fact that Fagan was an ex-convict man serving two years overseas with the American forces in France.

Prune Pickin's
 By Bert C. Bates

You can't always judge a man by his clothes. But you can usually judge him by the sort of clothes his wife wears.

A country weekly has the following startling item: "Mr. Brown will recover, but he has a broken leg and a fractured jaw, which will be good news to all of his friends."

KIND WORDS NEVER DIE.
 A columnist sat in grim disunjoy. The world seemed blue as indigo—Just then somebody said, "I read you stuff each day.
 And like it!"—then the world was bright again.

Nate Fullerton wonders what has become of the old fashioned man that used to carry quilted toothpicks in his vest pocket.

If you haven't anything to say, use good judgment and don't say it.

About the only way we can tell when some of the movies end is by the big "reelch."

Isn't it disgusting to get home in the evening just about the time the wife is heating the carpet?

We don't mind seeing a girl wearing short sleeves if she would only wash her elbows.

A pessimist is a man who is tickled to death when he has a grouch on.

Love is said to be the greatest thing in the world. Well, maybe.
 But nothing, an income of rather large dimensions is a close rival.

The man who has a "first class" collar can depend on his friends—as long as the supply lasts.

The blue law advocates say that New York can go to the devil—which is no doubt worrying New York mightily.

On old gentelman walked up to a girl wearing short skirts yesterday and said "Goodness, whose little girl are you?" The girl wheeled around and said, "Where do you get that stuff, you big bum, my husband attend to you." Can you blame the old gent?

Cly. Marsh, Dave Shambrook complains that business is rather poor lately. He blames the warm weather which does not force the knights of the road to seek shelter in the steel barred cage located just in the rear of the city rec'ders office.

Some gazabo shouts that the average American boy is no angel these days. And we can't remember any time when they packed around gold-plated harps.

Usually the person afflicted with stomach trouble has a dozen real cures to impart to a fellow sufferer.

Just when you attain greatness some patent medicine concern starts using your photo along with a testimonial.

It is just about time for some wbeskers to say "shop early, only 170 more days until Christmas."

The fellow that invented insurance had a good idea, but the bird that invented interest was no slouch.

One thing in common about democratic and republican parties is that both sides can find faults with each other.

Among other disgusting things it is not very cheering to have a blow-out on a day like this.

THIS MOTHER WORRIED ABOUT HER DAUGHTER'S
 WRETCHED CONDITION

"Tanlac must be a wonderful medicine to do what it has for my little six-year-old girl," said Mrs. S. P.
 Temple, who resides at 464 East Clay St., Portland, Oregon, recently.

"Maxine had been suffering from loss of appetite for a year or more.
 Nothing seemed to agree with her and it's a mystery to me how she lived on the little she would eat.
 Her kidneys were disordered and weak, too, and she was so thin, pale and puny looking, that I was uneasy about her all the time. She was dull and languid all the time and never wanted to get out and play like other children.

"Well, my dad had been helped so much by Tanlac that we all think it the greatest medicine in the world. I didn't know of course how it would work on my little girl, but I had her take a bottle anyway and it is simply astonishing how it has brought her out. She eats like a pig -everything agrees with her and she no longer looks or acts like the same child. Her kidneys are in much better condition, too, and she is just bubbling over with energy.
 Why, she's out at play all the time, I just can't keep her in the house.
 I am so thankful to see my little girl so healthy and hearty and I just can't praise Tanlac enough."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by the W. F. Chapman Pharmacy.
