Chautauqua Brings Unique European Musical Organization on Fourth Day

From the heart of Europe comes to us one of the most unusual and attractive musical companies on the Chautauqua platform. The Jugo-Slav Tamurica Orchestra is absolutely unique—the only one of its kind in America. These young "minstrels of the Balkans" appear in the bright colorful costumes of their native land, singing and playing their Slavic music, extraordinary in its sweetness and thrilling power. They use various sizes of the tamburica, their household instrument of their people for generations. They will give a full afternoon concert on the fourth day and a prelude in the evening.

AT CRATER LAKE.

Young visitors to Crater Lake last weekend were Guy Fitch Phelps, Jr. and son, and Mr. and Mrs. O. Badley. Mr. Phelps has written several novels of high merit, and his latest, "The Black Prophet," is now its tenth edition in America, its fifth in Australia, and is being translated into the Scandinavian language. It is especially worth while to have these noted writers visit and revisit the scenic wonders.—Medford Tribune.

DO MORE IN A DAY—
DO IT BETTER

One man with a Fordson Tractor can do more work easier and with less expense than two men can do with horses. This means that you with a FORDSON TRACTOR can actually raise more crops, with less work and less expense. And this means that your profits will be greater with fewer hours of work.

Besides the FORDSON will take care of every power job on the farm. It is light, alert, flexible in control and operation, yet it has power and endurance to spare. You should see the FORDSON at work to appreciate its wonderful capabilities. We will gladly give you the proofs if you will ask for them, either by a personal call, phone or post card.

Many Booths to Feature Carnival Tonight

Chinese noodles with real Oriental sauce—not made in Syracuse or Rochester or Kansas City, but imported directly from China by one of Roseburg's oldest citizens, China Sam—will be sold tonight at one of the booths of the Presbyterian Carnival. When the committee asked China Sam how to make the sauce, he informed them that the materials could not be obtained in America but offered to give them a bottle for the occasion.

"Sweet candy sold by sweet girls" is to be the slogan of another booth, whose product is disclosed in the program. Then there'll be stands where ice cream, sherbet, punch, and cake can be obtained. The ladies announce that more varieties of cake will be served than were ever gathered together at one assemblage.

"We are surely fortunate," proclaimed Mrs. Hellwell, "to be able to secure Zaza Zingara, seventh daughter of a seventh daughter, from India, who is in exile from her country, and reduced to the necessity of practicing the art of palmistry."

Also arrangements are under way to have present the famous fat lady phrenologist of the royal court of the king of Siam.

The Salvation Army is going to have charge of a "good eats" stand, although the exact nature of the "eats" is not disclosed.

Anyhow, there'll be more fun than a circus and more goodies than at a banquet, and a good time for all comers, the committee states; and everybody in Roseburg and the country round about is invited. It's to be on the Hellwell and Kohlhaas lawns at the corner of Mosher and Jackson streets.

Repairs Being Made to Streets

Work has been started in repairing pavement at various places throughout the city. The street department this morning started in repairing the pavement in front of the city hall, where there are several bad holes. After completing that job they will resurface the Jackson street pavement in front of the Umpqua hotel, where there is quite a bad condition, the pavement being full of small holes which gather dirt and water. Following this, other places will be patched, as rapidly as possible. It is expected that the department will be kept busy all summer making the repairs as there are many places where the patches must be put in to save the street's surface. During the winter, several cuts were made through the pavement and these have been filled temporarily until the summer weather would permit better work being done. The city has a small plant which it is using to make these repairs, but owing to the large amount of work to be done the plant is altogether too small to supply the need. The pavement on several streets is rapidly going to pieces and at several meetings, recently, the mayor has called the council's attention to this fact. It is expected that the city will be required to spend several thousand dollars in resurfacing and repairing paved streets within the next few years.

Capturing Fawns Becoming Nuisance

According to a letter received by Ed Walker, district game warden, from the state game warden, the taking up of fawns is becoming a great nuisance and is causing a serious loss all over the state. Many people living in rural districts find fawns and capture them for pets. This is strictly in violation of the law, as it is provided that fawns can only be taken up when found in a condition of starvation or injured so that human aid must be administered in order to save their lives. In taking up fawns it is necessary to secure a permit from the state game commission to keep them and the commission retains jurisdiction so that the animal can be released at any time.

The many friends of Leroy Howard will be glad to learn that he is able to be about the streets again, following a long illness. It is hoped that he will not suffer another relapse.

As good on the rear as others are on the front

NEW

"During the past three years we tried out several standard makes of tires with the idea of adopting the tire giving the most mileage for the money. We equip all our cars with Diamond Tires and we are getting from 6,000 to 10,500 miles by actual speedometer test. "Diamond tires give us the same mileage when on the rear as other standard makes that were on in front. Henceforth, we will equip with nothing but Diamond Tires."

Barton Hits First Home Run Season

By C. H. Hilton.

Great excitement on the ball grounds last night. The Southern Pacific boys won a ball game. They beat the league's leading Presbyterians, and did it decisively. Warren Burt pitched a fine game of ball. He allowed but five hits, struck out six, and allowed only 24 men to face him during the game of six innings. Randolph was not himself at all. He was hit hard, and did not have his usual control. The feature of the game was the tremendous drive of Barton's in the first inning. He drove the ball a terrific clout over the left center field fence, and it landed in the middle of Harvard street, bounced high in the air, and disappeared across the street in a man's lot. That ball may be going yet, for no one found it. It is the first home run of the season, and the longest drive we have ever seen made on those grounds at any time we have been watching ball games over there. For this hit Barton will get a $5.00 ticket for gas from the Standard Oil company, a six month's subscription for the News-Review, a knife from Harry Pierce and a pair of socks from Harth's Toggery. Barton was not satisfied with his home run. The next time he came to the bat, Burt walked him, but his third try up, he batted the pill over into right center field for three bases, another terrific clout. Barton made two of the runs made by his team, and drove in another one. He had the misfortune however, to split his finger on his right hand during the game, and it made it very difficult for him to catch a good game of ball.

The Espee boys had on their batting clothes, and they clouted the ball all over the lot, and the Presbyterians did not field so very well. Some of the best men were out of the lineup and their playing strength was much weakened. Out of five times at the bat Bill Reibel made four hits, two of them being two baggers. Hall got two sackers out of three times up and Anderson also hit for two bases. The fielders were kept on the run. The next game will be played Thursday between Baptists and Southern Pacific. The regular schedule closes Friday night with the game between the Christians and Presbyterians. There are several postponed games and some thrown out games to be replayed. There will be a meeting of the league officials this evening at 5 o'clock, and it will then be definitely settled what games shall be thrown out and the scorer can give an accurate account of the standing of the teams which will be done tomorrow.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	R	H	E
Espee	2	3	1	0	4	13	13	2
Presby.	2	3	0	0	1	6	5	7

Stolen bases, Reibel, Calhoun 2; two-base hits, Hall 2; Reibel 2; Anderson; three-base hit, Barton; home run, Barton; sacrifice hits, Althaus; double plays, Hall to Grimm, Anderson to Althaus; struck out by Burt 6; by Randolph 7; base on balls, off Burt 3; Randolph 2; wild pitch, Burt 1; Randolph 2; hit with ball by Randolph 2; passed balls, Lloyd, Barton; umpire Andy Matthews.

SAW COLONIES AS A NATION

According to Old Almanac, English Nobleman Was Gifted With Remarkable Prophetic Spirit.

Quaintly phrased weather warnings, interlarded with old-fashioned words of wisdom, including a prediction of a successful revolt in America, while the colonists were still praying for the health of their English ruler, are contained in a collection of almanacs owned in Keene, N. H. Some of the paper-bound booklets date back to 1754.

The prophecy dealing with the Revolution was printed in a copy issued about the time that Washington was following the peaceful pursuits of a surveyor. "It was made by Lord Kames, a British nobleman, who said: "Our North American colonies are in a prosperous condition, increasing rapidly in population, in commerce and in opulence and they have the spirit of a free people and are enamored with patriotism. Their population will equal that of Britain and Ireland in less than a century and they will be a match for the mother country if they choose to be independent. A people animated with the new blessings of liberty will not incline to a kingly form of government."

Young men are urged to go West into the wilds of Ohio and purchase land at 20 cents an acre in Spanish money, by an almanac editor who wore knee breeches and ruffled shirt. In his mortuary statistics, based on reports received in 1797, he asserted that half of the United States died before reaching the age of seventeen years, smallpox, for instance, being more fatal to girls than boys at that period. However, one in every 3,125 of the population attained or passed the century mark in life.

MANY TIMES CLOSE TO DEATH

Cowboy Must Have Had Creepy Feeling When He Realized What He Had Escaped.

The best story of horses' jumps which comes to mind is that of a cowboy. He was taking steers to Leadville and had camped for the night on Bear river near its junction with the Little Snake. In the middle of the night something occurred to stampede the cattle. The cowboy mounted his broncho and rode hither and thither on the flank of the herd until their fright had died away. Four or five times the rider felt his horse give tremendous leaps and with daybreak discovered the cause.

The cattle had climbed to a level plateau which is intersected by a canyon four miles long and from 1,500 to 2,000 feet deep. Its walls incline toward each other at the top, where the distance is fifteen to twenty feet. In riding, the man had kept his steers straggling about this plateau. A dozen of them he found had fallen down the canyon and been killed.

Hoofmarks showed him that the great jumps made by his horse were occasioned by the animal's clearing the canyon each time it came to the top.

WRITER'S RIGHT TO BORROW

Highest Authority for the Practice in the Works of the World's Greatest.

One reads for thought and for quotation not less; if he find his thought more finely conceived and aptly expressed by another, let him quote without hesitation or apology. "He has the highest authority for the practice. How rich is Pittarch's page, Montaigne's, Bacon's! And what they borrow is of a piece with their own text, giving it added strength and grace. I know the fashion of our time affects disdain of borrowing. 'But who is rich enough to refuse, or plead honorably for his exclusiveness? Somehow the printer happens to forget his quotation marks, and the credit of originality goes to the writer none the less. The plea is that quoting often implies sterility and bad taste. Then Shakespeare and his contemporaries were wanting in wit and fine rhetoric. Hear how Montaigne justifies his practice: "Let nobody insist upon the matter I write but my method in writing. Let them observe in what I borrow, if I have known how to choose what is proper to raise or relieve invention, which is always my own; for I make others say for me what, either for want of language or want of sense, I cannot myself well express. I do not number my borrowings, I weigh them. And had I designed to raise their estimate by their number, I had made twice as many."—Bronson Alcott.

Costly Neglect

BY DR. H. R. NERBAS

The most costly neglect that can be practiced by mankind is the neglect of teeth. These physical instruments used to tear apart and grind our foods should not become impaired. If they do our health will suffer. A dentist should be consulted whether your teeth are ailing or not.

Painless extraction. Various painless methods for filling, etc. Teeth regulated. Teeth replaced successfully same day (new for your old ones). Pyorrhea cured in early stages. Work fully guaranteed.
