Practical Bible Warning.
"There are extraordinary sarcasms in coincidences," says Alexander Black, author of "The Seventh Angel" and "The Great Desire." "One night a thief made off with my overcoat from a restaurant. It was not the sort of restaurant in which one is admonished to be alert. Moreover, I had never been robbed of anything in my life. I had had no admonitory experience. Naturally the incident made a rather profound impression. The weather deepened that impression.
"That same night I happened to open my Bible to verify the location of the verse from which I took the title of 'The Seventh Angel.' And in the verse immediately preceding I read these startling words: 'Blessed is he that washeth and keepeth his garments.'"

TOWN PESTS
The Strong Pipe smells like a Hair Mattress Warehouse and a Rubber Boot Factory both Burning Down together. The Smoker doesn't Notice the Odor because his Sense of Smell was Killed long ago, and he's Liable to be Himself if he doesn't Buy a New Pipe pretty soon.

NELSON SAYS THAT IT PROVED TO BE THE VERY THING HE MOST NEEDED

"For eight years," said John Nelson, well-known carpenter residing at 874 Montana Ave., Portland, Oregon, "I had all kinds of trouble with my stomach. I had to keep myself on a light diet, and even then I suffered terribly with indigestion. I used to eat my dinner every day under a dread, for the indigestion often got so bad I turned so weak I could hardly keep on the job. In trying to find something to help me I even took a trip to California, but I kept going from bad to worse and suffering more and more.
"At last some of my friends put me on to Tanlac and it proved to be just what my stomach needed. My appetite is fine now, and I eat my dinner and then go ahead working in the afternoon just as well as I ever could, for nothing I eat hurts me the least bit. My whole system is stronger and better in every way and I feel full of 'pep' and energy. Tanlac is simply splendid and I am glad to let others know about it."
Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by the W. F. Chapman Pharmacy.

League First Says Japan

(By United Press.)
TOKIO, July 12.—Although Japan remains silent regarding the acceptance of the invitation to the Washington disarmament conference, they have notified the league of nations that should any situation arise under the Anglo-Japanese alliance, inconsistent with the league's procedure, the latter will prevail.

DOLLAR SHOES INVENTED.

PARIS, July 12.—(U. P.)—Shoes at five francs a pair and they'll last forever!
In these days when a pair of low priced American shoes costs 150 to 250 francs and when a Paris shoemaker won't consider an order under 500 francs, the invention just announced of a method of manufacturing footwear at five francs, with the added advantage that the material can't wear out, is exciting interest in anti-H.C.L. circles.
It is due to a blind worker in a factory near Lyons. He discovered, so the report goes an alloy which permits him to make a pair of shoes weighing three and one-half ounces, water and fireproof, as solid and elegant as the finest product of the American shoe factories, and so simply designed, that a child can put the parts together.
Mr. Paul Michel, the inventor, is keeping the secret of the alloy to himself.

INSPIRATION ON THE WING

Great Compositions That Seem to Have Been Awaiting the Moment of Their Birth.

Charles Kingsley returned home one night rather dejected because a sermon he had preached that day in London had proved a little too "socialistic" for the incumbent. Instead of going to bed he paced back and forth in front of the fire, and his wife, knowing he was composing, left him, and retired. In the morning he recited to her that moving lyric:

"Three fishers went sailing out into the west as the sun went down."

There is a tablet in the porch of Wrexham church to the memory of Bishop Heber, which records that the most popular of all missionary hymns was composed in the town. Reginald Heber, who was then vicar of Hodnet, happened to be staying at the vicarage with his father-in-law, Dr. Shipley, dean of St. Asaph's, who was to preach a missionary sermon on the Sunday.

Heber and other friends were assembled in the library on the Saturday, when the dean asked his son-in-law if he could write something for the service next morning. Heber retired to the farther end of the room for the purpose and at the end of 15 minutes he read the first three of the four verses of which the famous hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," consists.

His hearers were delighted, but Heber said the sense was not complete, and devoted another five minutes to the fourth stanza.

CAN NOT HIDE WEAKNESSES

Philadelphia Writer Draws a Moral From the Life and Works of Two Men

There were two men. One, in order to hide his faults from the eyes of the public, surrounded himself with many friends, better than himself in character.

The other man had a single friend, as sterling in character, sympathies and perceptions as himself.

In the first case the man fooled the public, which seemed to see him through his friends.

In the second case, however, the man and his friend were misunderstood and neglected by the public.

The first man, during life, was praised and flattered, for, being very wealthy, he could very easily purchase empty words, but not loved or respected.

The second man, after death, was at last understood, respected, honored and loved, but to no avail; for he could not be brought back from the grave.

It was a case of the same old story—of an unjust, blind world.

Moral—Armor will not hide one's weaknesses.—Charles Fingerman, in the Philadelphia Record.

Thoroughbreds and Jackasses. The Baldwin locomotive works got an order for a monster locomotive. It was shipped in fifteen days.

"How did you do it?" one of the officials was asked.

"Organization," he responded. "Organization is the art of getting men to respond like thoroughbreds. When you click to a thoroughbred he gives you all the speed and strength of heart and sinew he has in him. When you click to a jackass he kicks."

Here is an illustration worth while, which surely applies to men as well as lower animals.

A wonderful thing is the ability to respond with complete efficiency whenever called upon.

And a more wonderful thing is to be able to get other men to respond that way when you call upon them. That is what the great men of industry—as well as of war—have been able to accomplish.—Gulf Coast Lumberman.

FORMER RESIDENT STRICKEN.
Word has been received here by Mrs. C. L. Hadley that W. H. Beyers, a resident of Salem, but formerly of this city, is suffering from a severe stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Beyers took ill at his home on Sunday. He had celebrated his 82nd birthday anniversary only a few days prior to the stroke. During his stay in this city Mr. Beyers was commandant of the Oregon soldiers' home, and has many friends here who wish for his recovery. His condition is thought to be quite critical.
