The native jewelers cast silver as well as beat out bars, and make some chorming pieces. Their silver chains are the envy of the Arabs. Suspicious jewelry they wear is a set of ear-rings so heavy that they cannot be held by the ears alone. Silver chains are attached to them and fastened to the headgeur to help carry the weight.

Another favorite bit of jewelry is a

He ran a pack of 25 mules from Portland to The roads were what we now call trails. Especially in canyon, where the creek bed canyon, where the creek bed principal trail. Some of the were so steep, he would have back in order to get up them, too, there were the perils of indians. Surely those were the of peril to be remembered. But trails gave way to roads, and very good ones. When Judge Gaz ley kept a force of workers on them they called it a toll road. He was they called it a toll road. He was succeeded by Uncle Sol Abrahams. So many years have come and gone, and also the people since those pioneer days. I have in mind Jesse Roberts, who was just about the first man to own land in Canyon-ville. He built a hotel and also had a still. The first saloon was run

Although camels will go for many days without water, they are always ready to drink whisky, and have been known to prefer it to their psual bever-age. The effect of strong drink upon lions is to render them quite tame in 1809 there was a well-known race horse which was regularly doped with whisky before the race, owing to its fainthearted nature. This practice led to many successes; but finally the day came when the jockey was utterly un-able to make it go faster than an ordinary walk. After proceeding a few yards in this fashion, it leant against the railings, and subsided upon the course. How Toasts Originated.

When John Smith gets up at a anquet and, lifting a glass of legitimate or illegitimate liquor, calls out The ladies, God bless 'em !" or, "Rob ert Brown, our honored guest!" or whatever else comes to his mind, he doesn't realize that in thus proposing a toast he is only going through the relic of an ancient ceremony.

Originally, when the ancient Greeks or Romans were at a feast the cus-tom was to bow before the statue of Racchus, the god of wine, exclaiming, "Be propitious, O Bacchus!" and pouring a little wine on the ground. This was also done to other gods. Emperors, being delfied, this honor was paid them. Then wealthy peocustomers often bring their own silver to the jeweler and watch him make pieces they order.
