ROSEBURG, ORE GON, JULY 25, 1921.

MONEY AND MARKETS.

The United States is practically through the period of violent business disturbance which began in May, 1920, is the opinion of the National Bank of Commerce of New York, in a statement recently issued. We will from time to time have visible evidences of the distressing conditions through which the country has been passing, but these occurrences should be regarded not as indices to forward conditions but as relating to the past. The changes which have taken place have not as yet been recognized by the business public for two main reasons. The period of normal midsummer dullness now at hand has obscured the certain evidences of improvement and there has been lacking a thorough comprehension of credit conditions.

Failure to recognize the passing of the period of insufficient credit has resulted from lack of recognition of the fact that for a long time the credit shortage has been apparent rather than real and due in large part to the unsatisfactory character of some of the risks offered. There is now no bank credit available for operations designed to hold prices at fictitious levels. Orderly organized marketing, if fair, succeeds, but attempts to hold prices above the levels determined by intenational supply and demand are certain eventually to fail. American business and government alike have thus far kept clear of entanglements of this character, but even so, American business cannot avoid their indirect effects. Valorization schemes providing for indefinite holding for arbitrary prices of such commodities as wool, silk, coffee, sisal and sugar, if successful, would involve the purchase by American consumers of raw materials at levels likely to involve ultimate loss, and as long as these plans contemplate the maintenance of an artificial price they cannot be diregarded in consideration of credit

Some businesses have found difficulty in getting what they have felt to be a fair line of credit. This has been because of a desire to operate on a basis of inventories of raw materials and goods not yet written down or because in these instances heavy investments have been made in plant and equipment at inflated prices. 'a such cases they are not yet willing to admit that they will have to take their losses and adjust their operations to make profits on real values only.

Although occasional failure to secure desired credit accommodations has served to keep alive the impression that there is a shortage of bank credit, the truth is that there is now available a volume of credit larger than present business requires. The main requisite for a return toward normal conditions is the will to try for business on a level where it can be had. The period of general liquidation of the raw material markets of the United States has passed. Recent declines are due to conditions of supply and demand in specific lines. This is a normal condition. Wholesale prices of many classes of manufacture have been fully deflated. This is not true in all lines, but recent cuts in the price of steel and widespread reduction in wgaes indicate that adjustment in wholesale prices will not be long delayed. Retail prices show wide irregularities, and high-cost stocks have been largely disposed of. Price stabilization is, therefore, not far ahead.

The rumor that Dennis Russell had been arrested at Klamath Falls Sunday has all the earmarks of a hoax. Dennis Russell is not running around the country in a Ford car. There seems to be a desire to get the dead man connected up with the real murderer, thereby creating confusion and ultimately leading to the escape of the fugitive. If the officers were as sure as to the whereabouts probably be between the bars. of the real criminal in the case as they are of the murderer's victim, the mysterious murder case would be quickly solved.

This is Chautauqua week in Roseburg. The opening number on the program, Burnell Ford, the electrical wizard, given Sunday evening, is an excellent sample of what is in store in the way of wholesome and instructive entertainment for the people of this city and vicinity during the entire week. Everyone should avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy the entire program, which, Lyons, Central Point, it is stated, is one of the best ever supplied this city.

During the quiet summer months is a good time to incubate measures leading to the advancement of Roseburg. For instance, a city park, a children's play ground, an aviation field, and sundry other things, now under consideration by the Chamber of Commerce, can be definitely planned and when fall opens these new enterprises can be placed in operation.

"Murder will out." They'll get that fellow responsible for the death of Dennis Russell just as sure as two and two are four. It is only a matter of time-and here's hoping the time will be

Young Folks Enjoy Party

The "hot dog" party given by the Epworth League of the M. E. church on Moonshine Beach at Alexander's park was sure a "howling" success. Some twenty-five live wires left the thurch at 6:45 and assembled at the boat landing by the old Alexander bridge. Here two boys donned their bathing suits and swam across after the boat. Two of our members left us here because of having to cross the water. On arriving at the beach about ten boys and girls went swim-ming and all had a fine swim. At dusk a large bonfire was built and all gathered around with pointed sticks where weinles were roasted and ate with buns and mustard, then marshmallows were toasted for a dessert.

After eats a eryone took part in singing and when the time came to go home many said the evening had gone far too fast. A few of the party returned in the boat and had an exciting time as they went aground about fifteen feet from the shore and one of the boys pulled off his sloes and socks and towed the boat in. The remainder of the party walked around the foot of Mt. Nebo, which was a nice walk in the moon light. Those present were Guy Fitch Phelps, Gladys Walker, Walter Cook, Elsie Bergh, Myth Henderson. Mr. Stevens, Wm. Haldeman, Gracia Thornton, Vivian Orcutt, Gertrude Wickham, Clare Geddes, Gene Phelps, Grace Wickham, Avery Roser, Daphne Mullen, Joe Nee, James McClintock, Faye Geddes, Elizabeth McKnight, Paul Geddes, Martha Yeo, Edna May Johnson, and A. PORTLAND WOMAN SAYS SHE THOUGHT HER LAST HOUR WAS NEAR AT HAND

"Tanlac has actually built me up from ninety-eight to one hundred and twenty-two pounds, which is more than I ever weighed before, and I can't remember the time I felt so strong and well as I do now," was the truly remarkable statement made the other day by Mrs. May DeNoyer, of 309 E. Sixth St., Port-and, Ore.

For thirteen years I simply suffered agony. I was told I had gall stones and would have to be oper-ated on in order to live, but I had a corror of an operation, and too medicine until the sight of it almost made me sick. I had no appetite, couldn't eat heavy food, and even then suffered from indigestion until it almost drove me distracted. Why, would bloat until I had such ter-rible smothering sensations that had awful pains in my stomach which were so severe at times I he from Carne would actually lose consciousness. Tany a time I thought my last hour spent I her spent Sunday to spent Sunday to

Many a time I thought my last hour had come, and even now I don't see how I managed to live through it all.

"I was almost desperate when I began taking Tanlac, and words can't express how thankful I was when I began improving on the very first bottle. I kept on taking the first bottle. I kept on taking the terday from an etxended auto trip to Crater Lake and northern Calimedicine and what four bottles have lone for me is simply astonishing. I sat onions, cabbage, meats and anything else I want now without feel-ing a sign of indigestion or bloating, never have an ache or pain and have never have an ache or pain and have sained twenty-four bounds in weight. I sleep like a child at night, my housework is easy for me and tel like a new woman. Tanlac devery pleasant trip. erves every bit of the credit for my conderful recovery and I will praise the medicine as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W.
