CHILD LABOR IN AGRICULTURE

The National Child Labor Committee, which was one of the chief factors in bringing about the enactment by congress and state legislatures of laws forbidding child labor in factories, has inaugurated a new educational movement which has as its object the ending of child labor in agriculture. The work is under the direction of David Franklin Houston, successively secretary of agriculture and of the treasury in the Wilson administration. He recently became chairman of the committee, following Dr. Felix Adler, who resigned owing to the pressure of personal business. Education of parents, farm owners, officials and the public generally to the menace child labor offers the nation will be the prime weapon employed by the committee. It is realized that a more indirect approach must be used than that employed in stopping industrial child labor because of the practical difficulties which would be encountered in trying to enforce prohibitory laws in remote sections where the evil is prevalent. Another aim will be the arousing of public opinion to a point where it will insist upon the enforcement of compulsory education laws now on the books. Among the areas where the violations are worst are the beet fields of Michigan and Colorado, the tobacco plantations of Kentucky and Connecticut, the cotton fields of Texas, Oklahoma and Imperial valley, California; the berry fields of California and Michigan, the cranberry bogs of New Jersey, the onion fields of Ohio, and the truck farms of Delaware. In many instances the local school authorities hesitate to antagonize the wealthy and influential employers of child labor. In other cases they simply do not care, as the children at work are not those of permanent residents but of itinerant families who contract to cultivate and harvest the crops by the acre. It is this system which proves so dire a temptation to ignorant or callous parents, whose income is proportionate to the number of children able to toil.

"In the long run," says Mr. Houston, "what is best for the child is best for society. The problem now is mainly to secure more effective and fuller administration of the laws. It is a problem of education. People everywhere, both agricultural and industrial leaders, must be educated to a better state of mind toward the child so that rational measures and practices of a great variety may be adopted which will cause the child to become, not only a more efficient laborer, but a more useful member of society."

VERITABLE WAVES OF SUCCESS.

We are created in the image of God, endowed with all the energy of a buzz saw in motion, if we will only steam up the old engine of ambition and enthusiasm. We are veritable waves of force and power, capable of wiping out any bulkhead of opposition, for we are, after all, all that we are after. We will not attempt to analyze the success and failures of the various men who have come and gone. But one question need be answered and we will have their analysis. Did they get understanding? If they got understanding, then it is not necessary to ask if they applied it, for they could not hold it back if they would, and would not if they could, because it is the most pleasurable and profitable thing in the world to use. It is irresistible—it will not be submerged. It is the lever that lays waste the mountain and pries the lid from every strong box. Follow that occupation which most appeals to your imagination. Each of us has implanted in him some special gift. Successful men will admit to you that they attribute their success to doing the thing that most appealed to them. Yet you will scarcely ever find a successful man who can analyze his own success. No history has ever given us the details or formula of success; but it is a good wager that knowledge, and love for knowledge, and the fun of cashing it in, has brought bigger returns than hard, aimless plodding. If your talent is salesmanship, develop the talent. The boy who tramps miles to the nearest mill pond and sits all day in the blazing sun and returns at night triumphant with a slender string of goggle eyes, has worked, but it has never been labelled as such. His sole object has been gained. He got what he went after, and he was as much a success as any builder of great fortunes.

A city park and a children's play ground are the two much needed acquisitions to the city of Roseburg. We need a public natatorium also, but can get along with a wash-tub bath for a few generations if we can get the other two public improvements under way and on the road to early realization.

This is the kind of weather that makes a fellow feel like a scarcity of wearing apparel is just about the proper thing. We never did think much of "rolled socks," low, and high-cut dresses, but we must confess if Old Sol don't stop throwing his hot rays we will have to start pulling something off.

Dr. Brumfield, it is alleged, appeared in the limelight late yesterday afternoon as the principal in a hold-up—pulled off in the regular western style. The much-wanted man is heading straight for the movies.

An ounce of authority quite frequently destroys a normal equilibrium. It has a regular "white mule" kick when given to some fellows.

The new parking ordinance applying to automobiles has accomplished one thing. The town youngsters have a temporary playground.

It's dangerous business for a hunted man to play tag with the officers.

Most of the time is the time for silence.

Newsboys Get Watermelon In Ears on Picnic

"Hully gee, but I'm full," moaned one of the News-Review carrier boys following the picnic in Umpqua park last night. And the rest of the gang chorused, "Gosh, so'm I."

It was a real picnic—ice cream, cookies, soda pop, wienies and buns, watermelon, candy, etc. A big bonfire was built on the banks of the river, following the delightful swim in the water, and the newsboys "gathered 'round" for the big eats. If ever a bunch of kids had a good time, that bunch last night carried off first honors.

If your paper don't get to you so early tonight it is because the boys have not yet recovered from the "banquet."

The newsboys and chaperones who enjoyed the picnic were as follows: Thomas "Wild Cat" Williams, Willard "White Hope" Thomas, Earl "Go Get 'Em" Long, Wilbur "Sand Lot" Walker, Ross "Scoop" Bates, Virgil "Knockout" Swanson, Floyd "Professor" Church, Ralph "Watermelon" Church, Ernest "Hot Dawg" Britt, Coburn "Goat" Fisher, Russell "Speed Demon" Churchill, Calvin "Fried Egg" Webber, Arthur "So" Long, Mr. and Mrs. James Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bates and B. W. Bates.

Prune Pickin's

By Bert G. Bates

PASS 'EM 'ROUND AGAIN.

Days Creek, Aug. 5.

Chief Prune Picker, Roseburg News-Review:

Roseburg, Oregon.

Dear Prunes: Apropos of the prevailing styles in women's wear how do you like this one?

When every pool in Eden was a mirror
Which unto Eve her dainty charms proclaimed,
She went about undraped, without a fear,
Or thought she had need to feel ashamed.

'Twas only when she'd eaten of the apple
That she became inclined to be a prude,
And found that ever more she'd have to grapple
With the much debated problem of the nude.

Thereafter she devoted her attention,
Her time and all her money, to her clothes,
And that was the beginning of Convention,
And Modesty as well, I do suppose.

Changes come about in fashions recent,
Now girls conceal so little from the men,
It would seem in name of all that's decent,
Some one ought to pass the apples 'round again.

Yours for pure prunes,
S. O. R.

We have been reading the "want ads" and we find when roomers or boarders are wanted the adlets almost invariably say: "Men" or "Men Preferred." Yet for these many years we have been told that men are careless about their rooms, require twice as much cleaning up after as women do, and that they eat twice as much as any woman can. Most women take care of their own rooms, and they will eat anything as long as it has this stuff they call "Thousand Island" dressing poured over it. They do not pay their bills any more promptly than men, but they are probably quite as prompt. Why then, "men preferred?" We inquire to know.

Colyum conducting is a case in point. In colyums, dreary men write dreary paragraphs day after day, airing strange views on a defenseless world. Did you ever hear of a woman colyum conductor? You never did, and the reason lies in the fact that a woman has a sense of humor.

Trustee Escapes From Flax Fields

SALEM, Aug. 6.—Twenty prison guards and a score of Marion county officers were this afternoon combing the Salem district in search of James Ward, 26, convicted of manslaughter, who, while working in the flax fields near the state penitentiary, slipped away quietly about 9:30 this morning. His escape was detected at 10 o'clock.

Ward, a trusty, was committed from Linn county on March 15 for an indeterminate period of not to exceed two years. He would have been eligible to parole after having served one year.

The peaches are ripe,
And a lot on a tree,
So come and see.

Movie Closeups

George Stewart, brother of the beautiful and talented Anita, is also climbing the ladder of success in the motion picture world. He has the most important role of his screen career in "Old Dad," playing as Mildred Harris Chaplin's leading man in her new First National starring vehicle, which will be shown at the Antlers theater tonight.

Inspired by his sister's remarkable success as a star, George has carefully prepared himself for a career in the silent drama. Heretofore he has played only minor parts in cinema productions. George Stewart's growing talent and progress, however, came under the observation of Director Lloyd Ingraham, who decided that he would make an ideal lead for Mrs. Chaplin in her new photoplay.

That Mr. Ingraham was not mistaken is borne out by the declarations of those who have seen a preview of "Old Dad," which they declare not only represents the best work yet screened by Mrs. Chaplin, but also reveals young Stewart as an actor of marked histronic ability.

Other members of Mrs. Chaplin's supporting cast are John Sainpolis, Myrtle Stedman, Irving Cummings, Hazel Howell, Edwin Brown, Loyola O'Connor, Bess Mitchell and Tula Belle.

Harry Carey, starring in "The Wallop," his latest Universal photodrama which opened last night at the Antlers and which will show at the Majestic tonight, returned to a western town after a long absence to claim a girl he loved. He discovered that she loved a younger man, made sure that he was worthy of her according to the standards of the old west, and then set out to help him through the fastest series of perilous misadventure ever filmed.

That, in brief, is the theme upon which this highly entertaining Universal picture play is based and in the telling of which the popular star rises to rare dramatic heights.

Mignonne Golden, a newcomer to the screen, plays the role of the girl. Bill Gettinger, J. Farrell McDonald, Noble Johnson, Charles LeMoyne, Joe Harris, Mark Fenton, Otto Myers and other players whose work is well known, play the supporting roles.

Lady Grateful for Help Received

"For 15 years I suffered increasingly with stomach and liver trouble. Bloating with gas distressed me very much and caused serious heart fluttering. All medicine only relieved temporarily. I gave up hope of ever being cured. My druggist advised me one day to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I am feeling like a new woman since and can now eat anything with no ill results. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.

WILL SPEND NIGHT HERE.

The party of Portland boosters who are to be here next week on their way to Medford, notified the local chamber of commerce this morning that they will spend Friday night here instead of at Eugene. The party is going to Medford for a banquet with the chamber of commerce there. There will be about 50 persons traveling by auto and they will arrive late Friday evening and leave early Saturday morning.
