ADVICE TO LOVELORN AND OTHERS

BY MRS. ELLSBURY
A Daily Column of Questions and Answers Conducted by a Woman Who Knows. Address your Letters to Mrs. Ellsbury, Care Roseburg News-Review.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I am forced to take a long trip, beginning within a few days. I will be nearly two weeks on the train, counting both ways. I am puzzled as to what to wear. A light dress becomes too hot and dirty, and a silk dress looks so, and a suit is too heavy. Would be pleased if you could advise this right away, as I must leave on Monday.
MRS. R., Roseburg.

Ans. It is one of the real problems of dress while traveling in the summer to know what to wear that will be cool, comfortable, and also smart. For travel by water there are any number of nice costumes, but for the long, dusty, smudgy train ride in the heat of the mid-summer it is difficult to combine coolness with chic. Many women solve the problem with lightweight jersey suits of a silk-ponce waist, while others wear a one-piece dress in some material which will not show the dust, such as tulle, light brown, or tan. Probably the smartest outfit how-the dye of the waist, although dyes of today are not always to be depended upon.

Show Appreciation For Food Service

Roseburg, Ore., Aug. 12, 1921.
B. W. Bates, Editor of News-Review, Roseburg, Oregon.
Dear Sir: In behalf of the W. C. T. U. we wish to thank you for the splendid cooperation shown us in giving us the space in the paper, also furnishing us with a reporter to take notes during the convention.
We especially thank you for the splendid editorial which we feel will be of great value in our work.
You cannot understand nor can we express what your help means to our unions, and with such help we feel inspired to work all the harder.
Most sincerely yours,
MRS. A. C. MARSTERS, County president.
MRS. P. E. NYGREN, Corresponding secretary.
MRS. F. D. BODIE, County Treasurer.

HAS FINE PRUNE CROP.

Although reports from all over the state show that the old prune orchards are not bearing as well this year as usual, R. M. Knight of Canyonville has sent the News-Review some samples taken from some of the oldest trees in Douglas county. Mr. Knight says that his old orchard is bearing fine this year and the samples sent prove his statement to be correct. His newer trees are bearing somewhat better than the old ones, he states, but the old orchard is far from being a failure. Some excellent looking Hungarians were also included in the samples sent by Mr. Knight.
