ROSEBURG, ORE. MON. AUGUST 16, 1921.

THE SERVICE MAN'S DEPARTMENT.

The day of dual responsibility, of divided authority in the government's dealings with former service men is over. All governmental agencies engaged in administering soldier legislation as provided to benefit veterans of the world war are at last consolidated into one organization, under one head, and with one object, to demonstrate that the United States can make of its dealings with ex-service men a co-ordinated and an efficient business, conducted as great going concerns are run anywhere else in the land.

That his is the responsibility of solving that heart-rending and imminent problem of providing hospitalization for all ex-service men who have been war-crippled or disabled in any way. That, supplementing the hospital construction program for which $19,600,000 has already been appropriated and plans for the disbursement of which through the treasury department are under way, the new director is now given authority to enter in contract with state, municipal or private hospitals for the accommodation at once of those veterans in pressing need of hospital care. That the rigid inspection of these hospitals will now be under his management and that the administration of them as business institutions as well as their humane functioning as havens of sympathetic care and rest for the disabled men shall be his charge.

Under the act which created the veterans' bureau, those "powers and duties" in behalf of the service man formerly vested in the federal board for vocational education pass to Director Forbes to carry on. That he is the head of an insurance business of 651,054 active policies, 397,890 term (war risk) policies with a commuted value of $2,980,660,235, and 298,386 policies of United States government insurance with a value of $1,000,702,500. And he is responsible for the average million dollars a day expenditure by the government in meeting the compensation and insurance claims which are increasing at the rate of 700 new claims a day.

The necessity of keeping country roads in good condition is shown by a report recently compiled by the bureau of markets and crop estimates, United States department of agriculture, showing the extent to which they are used in hauling farm products to market. According to the report, which shows the tonnage of 11 products hauled on country roads, giving the yearly average for the period from 1915 to 1919, there were 27 tons of these 11 crops hauled for every 100 acres of land.

Hardly a day has passed within the last few weeks that some atrocious murder has not been reported. And the funny thing about the whole crime wave is the fact that soon after the apprehension of the criminals they show a ferocious tendency toward insanity. There should be some means devised to nab these fellows before they go off "half-cooked." There's a chance of the asylums holding more than their quota of criminal inmates.

There's certainly enough trouble charged up to Dr. Brumfield to derange his mind. And it is usually the trouble-maker that suffers in the end.

A nearly bald man is prouder of the few hairs that still adorn his cranium than a movie actress is of her golden tresses.

Only a few Elks will be left in Roseburg after tomorrow.

Half the world doesn't care how the other half lives.

This is sure great weather for the stay-at-homes.

DAIL EINEANN IN OPEN SESSION

Parliament Debates Peace Offer Made By The British Government

DESIRE INDEPENDENCE

De Valera, President of the Irish Republic, Opens Session With Fiery Address Declaring Policy of Irish Government.

DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—The first open session of the Irish republican parliament, the Dail Eireann, opened this morning with a hundred and thirty members in attendance. The galleries were thronged with spectators and thousands stood without in a heavy downpour of rain.

De Valera, president of the Irish Republic, opened the session with a brilliant address. He told the Dail Eireann that Ireland will treat with foreign countries, meaning England especially, only on a basis of recognition as an Irish republic. The parliament met here to determine the acceptance or rejection of the British peace offer, or the reference of Ireland's peace question to the Irish electorate for settlement.

De Valera declared that the Dail Eireann is the only government the Irish people will recognize, having elected its members through popular vote.

"Ireland stands for the ideals enshrined in the American Declaration of Independence," De Valera said. He described the British attitude as that of a great nation demanding guarantees for safety from a small one, when it should be a nation guaranteeing safety to a small state.

Following De Valera's uncompromising demand for independence, the members of the Irish parliament signed the oath of allegiance to the "Free Irish State" with serious faces.

BREAK IN TRUCE FEARED

LONDON, Aug. 16.—All British soldiers on leave from Ireland are ordered to return immediately. No explanation followed this announcement. However, following on the heels of De Valera's speech to the Irish parliament, insisting upon complete independence, it is taken to indicate the fear of a possible break in the truce.

Prune Growers To Adopt Wage Scale

At the request of a large number of prune growers of the county Loyal V. Emery has called a meeting of growers to be held at the city hall on Saturday, Aug. 20. This meeting is called for the purpose of adopting a regular and uniform wage scale for hired help, which scale will be put in effect over the entire county and will greatly aid in the obtaining of hands to assist in harvesting the crop and will also prevent the hands from shifting around from place to place in the search of better wages.

Trucks Produce To Klamath Falls

R. F. Huntley of Olalla is leaving tonight for Klamath Falls with a second truck load of melons and tomatoes. Mr. Huntley recently loaded his truck at Dillard with these things and went through the mountains to Klamath Falls where he disposed of his load at a very fair profit.

"There is an opportunity for a big truck trade between the Umpqua Valley and Klamath county," Mr. Huntley said. "The market there is ready for fresh fruit, vegetables and melons and the freight rates are so high that the cost to the residents of that section of the state is such that auto trucks can make the trip overland and put the products into the market there at a lower price than the merchants can get them by train. There is also the advantage of less delay and the produce arrives in better condition and finds a better sale on the market. I talked with a number of Klamath Falls merchants who are very desirous of seeing a truck line established between Roseburg and Klamath Falls, and from all indications the profit in such a business is all that could be desired. The roads are in fairly good shape and a truck can make good time."

Mr. Huntley spent the day in Roseburg having his truck repaired and overhauled and will leave this evening on a second trip.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

THE RECALL ELECTION.

GARDINER, Aug. 15.—(Editor of Roseburg News-Review)—Saturday's issue of Roseburg News-Review has an editorial as follows: "Nobody seems to like a recall election. Might just as well wipe the law off the statute books. It is a weapon the people fail to have any respect for and is an expensive piece of political machinery devised to antagonize faithful office holders. In other words, it is nothing less than a club wielded by any person who thinks he has an axe to grind."

The recall is a law purporting to be a protection to the people against unscrupulous office holders. When used in this capacity it is of vital importance to the people, as it acts as a check on mismanagement and extravagance. When I say "the people," I mean the permanent people of the district whose money, by means of taxes, is at the disposal of these officials. There is another class of people, who are found, to a man, at the polls voting, not with a sense of justice to the man who pays the bill, but with implicit faith in the empty promises made by office holders.

For instance, in the recent recall election held on the lower Umpqua, records will show that the people in precincts where the voters are property owners, taxpayers and people who have practically formed the foundation of their various communities, have voted for the recall and have made a campaign against the mismanagement and extravagance of the present office holders. However, they were out-voted by people, who in the majority, are not property holders and who may be here today and gone tomorrow. Many of our communities throughout the state are showing the effects of such votes by keeping men in power who are leading up the country with indebtedness. In many instances communities being in control of such people, the taxpayers find themselves hardly able to meet their obligations. Records will show these facts to be true in the city whose votes so overwhelmingly defeated the recent recall.

ADVICE TO LOVELORN AND OTHERS

BY MRS. ELLSBURY. A Daily Column of Questions and Answers Conducted by a Woman Who Knows. Address your Letters to Mrs. Ellsbury, Care Roseburg News-Review.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: I am going to accept an invitation to a very smart beach hotel for a week end. I have plenty of clothes except a sport outfit. Will you give me a good idea as to what to get. I want to make it myself and I want something clever and unusual, not just an ordinary sweater and skirt like everyone is wearing. Much depends upon my making a good impression at this visit and I would be pleased if you would give my question a little thought. I am expert with a needle.

MAE L. ROSEBURG.

Ans. I saw this idea worked out in a Paris model that caused much comment at a fashion show. If you can obtain the material it would not be difficult to make. If you cannot obtain the material and colors given you could substitute others. Make an orange colored flannelette tunic, of tricotee. The round Peter Pan collar and the cuffs on the short sleeves should be made of sheer white linen, piped with the tricotee. For the skirt get silk material in large orange and black checks. The material is prettier when it can be pleated so that the checks will come on top and the solid color beneath. Perhaps you already have a drooping Leghorn hat. If so, cover the top with orange and red changeable silk, and accentuate the droop with a bunch of red cherries.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: Will you please print some words of grace to say at meals?

A BEGINNER, Roseburg.

Ans. One of the simplest and most reverent graces I know is: "For what we are about to receive, may the Lord make us truly thankful. Amen."

SIGNS TO BE PLACED

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 16.—Signs calling to the attention of all motorists of speed limits allowed on the highways of the state soon will be distributed to free auto camp sites, garages and tourist hotels by the Oregon Tourist and Information Bureau, according to announcement today of Sydney B. Vincent, manager of the bureau.

These signs will read: "Speed limit is 20 miles an hour and on dangerous turns 15 miles. Speed limit in municipalities regulated by city ordinances. Motorists should obey speed laws and avoid clashes with traffic officers."

Numerous complaints of tourists that they have been arrested for violation of the speed laws has led the bureau to prepare these signs.

TRESPASS NOTICE.

All persons are hereby warned not to hunt or otherwise trespass on my ranches at Happy Valley and at Green. Any person violating this notice will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.
