Aviation Fields Needed Says Flyer

EUGENE, Aug. 19.—If all Pacific cities were as progressive as Eugene in providing landing facilities for aircraft, commercial passenger planes would connect every point on the coast at the present time, according to the opinion of a party of representatives of the West Coast Aviation company, who were in the city yesterday on a motor trip looking over the possibilities for the establishment of future routes along the coast.

Regular passenger routes are still several years in the future, says Thomas Sketcheby, who is at the head of the aviation party, but the purposes of the survey of the coast are for the gathering of flying data in regard to feasible sites for landing stations and the climatic conditions during certain times of year. The party is entering the coast from San Diego to Seattle.

Fast aerial passenger service is no longer an experiment, says the visitor, but the great lack of ground facilities for an airplane route that could maintain a regular schedule is a big factor in preventing the establishment of permanent commercial plane service.

The possibility of a chain of landing fields on the Pacific coast from Canada to Mexico within the next few years is the prediction of Mr. Sketcheby, who sees a wonderful future for the aerial passenger plane on the coast.

Eugene to Dedicate Aviation Field

EUGENE, Aug. 19.—Fourteen planes will take part in the big aerial circus that is planned as the feature event for the dedication of the Eugene aviation field labor day, Monday, September 20, according to officials who are arranging the details for what is intended to be one of the greatest air demonstrations ever to be held in the northwest. A captured German fighter plane now at San Francisco will be brought to this city especially for the affair, said Captain Lowell Smith, commander of the 91st aero squadron, yesterday.

Efforts are being made by the special committee in charge of the dedication day program to bring several carnival attractions here in addition to the lengthy list of events that are planned for the ceremony, according to Carl G. Washburn, head of the Chamber of Commerce committee working in cooperation with the city council and the officers of the 91st aero squadron on the program.

Officer Needed At Band Concert

Last night at the band concert there were two men who cannot consistently call them gentlemen—apparently traveling men, who arrived rather late and with as much confusion as possible and took seats on the ground, and in a place where they might disturb as many people as possible. Evidently they desired to make it known that they were from a city and chose as their means of presenting such evidence, an audible discussion of the merits of the band.

It is true that Roseburg's band is not perfect. It may not compare with some big crack city bands, but it is a mighty good band at that and Roseburg is proud of it and any "sophisticated" criticism such as was presented by the two "wiseacres" makes a jaded spirit citizen sore.

Not content with their audible interjections, one of the men who chortled and sneezed, seemed to be his ability to throw out a wit and offensive remark from an elbow chair, commenced a series of caustic and offensive remarks directed toward the band, the members and director, finally, as no attention was paid him he got up and walked away.

A fine improvement could be made if the city would provide an officer to patrol the court house square during a concert and keep order among the few rowdies, and take care of such "birds" as those "civilized" men who seem to have a habit of coming around enough to keep silent if it is something they don't like, there should be someone present to see that they move on to a place where they will not disturb those who are interested.

Portland Painter Says HE COULD HARDLY HOLD OUT TO STAY ON HIS JOB

"I give Tanlac the credit for keeping me on the job, for I was about ready to give up when I began taking it," said L. W. Fields, well-known painter of 286 North Eighth street, Portland, Ore. "My trouble started with lead poisoning, which seemed to throw my whole system out of gear, and for two years I was in wretched health. My stomach was badly out of order, I lost my appetite and at times the very sight of food made me sick. My nerves got all upset, I didn't get enough sleep at night, and in the morning I felt worse than when I went to bed. I had such terrible headaches at times they would drive me almost wild. I became despondent, as it seemed to me I was about on my last legs.

Tanlac took hold of me at once and it wasn't long before I was feeling like a different man. I eat anything I want, sleep sound at night, and when I do get up I feel fine. I can do a bigger day's work than in years, in fact it's just great to feel as I do now."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. P. Chapman's Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.

WILL GIVE PICNIC

The Women's Auxiliary and the American Legion will give a picnic at the forks of the river Tuesday evening, Aug. 23. All members, wives and sweethearts are cordially invited. It will be at the army at 4 o'clock. All those with cars are requested to bring them and transportation will be provided for all.

Paris Is Gay Says Writer

(Written for the United Press.) PARIS. (By Mail.)—"Paris is gay again; yes, monieur," said the wife of the Boulevard des Italiens banker.

The crowds flock to the modistes, and jewelry shops of the Rue de la Paix are not the aristocratic set seen there a few years ago, but are the bourgeois of Lyon, Marseilles, and other places in the province, new rich, who make tremendous fortunes in the war.

And yet to the visiting American, Paris is the same old playground of officials who are arranging the details for what is intended to be one of the greatest air demonstrations ever to be held in the northwest. A captured German fighter plane now at San Francisco will be brought to this city especially for the affair, said Captain Lowell Smith, commander of the 91st aero squadron, yesterday.

Efforts are being made by the special committee in charge of the dedication day program to bring several carnival attractions here in addition to the lengthy list of events that are planned for the ceremony, according to Carl G. Washburn, head of the Chamber of Commerce committee working in cooperation with the city council and the officers of the 91st aero squadron on the program.

The business men of this city are solidly behind the affair and Mr. Washburn reports that arrangements will be made to handle one of the largest crowds that have ever assembled at the municipal field and expectancies are for a heavy attendance from nearby cities to spend the holiday and perhaps the week-end in Eugene.

GERMANS USE WHALE MEAT FOR HAMBURGER

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 19.—The German taste for hamburger seems to be greater than their supply of meat with which to make it. At any rate, exports of whale meat from this port to Germany are rapidly increasing. It was said that whale meat was to be used in the manufacture of hamburger in Germany, and that in many cases it was as much preferred to any other ingredient.

The latest shipment of whale meat left here recently aboard the Holland-American freighter, Nordorik. Another will follow shortly.

Oregon Growers Association Set Opening Price on 1921 Crop of Oregon Prunes

Opening prices on the 1921 crop of Oregon prunes were announced this morning by the Oregon Growers Co-operative association.

The Oregon prune crop as estimated in the August report of the department of agriculture, is nearly 22,000,000 pounds, and of this amount Douglas county will produce 7,500,000 pounds, according to the report. The Oregon Growers Co-operative association will handle about 60 per cent of this tonnage.

Estimates place the California prune crop at over 20,000,000 pounds, 84 per cent of which is controlled by the California Prune and Apricot association. The Washington Growers Packing corporation will handle 50 per cent of the prune crop in Clark county, Washington, the only prune drying district in that state.

The entire stock of 1920 prunes in the hands of the Oregon Growers on this coast was cleaned up last week when nearly three quarters of a million pounds were sold. However,

These prices are about 5 1/2% lower than the opening prices quoted by the Oregon Growers association last year and about 6% lower than the last year's opening prices of the California association.

ADVICE TO LOVELORN AND OTHERS

A Daily Column of Questions and Answers Conducted by a Woman Who Knows. Address your Letters to Mrs. Ellsbury Care Roseburg News-Review.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: My ankles are very large. I think this is caused by wearing low shoes which I wore this last summer. What will make them small and attractive? And could you tell me how to put a wave in my hair that will last three or four days? I am starting to high school this winter and will have three or four new dresses. How shall I make them? I am 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall and 14 years old. How much should I weigh? Please print the answers to these questions as soon as possible.

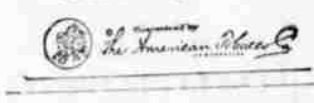

GRATEFUL GIRL, Oakland. Ans. You are young and have not fully developed yet, which may account for the size of your ankles. As you grow older they will become more symmetrical. You might wear ankle bands, but they are expensive and I would not advise you to wear them. Low shoes would not have any great effect on your ankles. If your ankles are naturally large nothing that I know of will make them small. Having a beauty specialist put a marcel wave in your hair is a good way to get a wave that will last some time. However, with a curling iron of your own you can wave your hair so that it will be set for several days. You should tell me more about the material in your dresses before I can give you any details as to how they should be made. You should weigh from 141 to 145 pounds.

Dear Mrs. Ellsbury: If a woman should marry an old soldier and he died, would she be entitled to draw a widow's pension? Is there a fund in Oregon that a soldier's wife can get, if his pension is not enough for their support, both being old? Ans. Yes, she would be entitled to a pension. There is no state fund for this purpose.

Wants His money Back

"I can thank Mr. O'Brien, a neighbor, for my recovery from severe colic attacks and stomach trouble that nearly forced me to cross the river Jordan. I spent thousands of dollars in the past nine years for doctors and medicine and would have died but for my neighbor's advice to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I wish I had the money back I spent for other medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Druggists everywhere.
