Brumfield Like Statue In Cell

ward left for his office. When interviewed regarding the capture of Brumfield, Mr. Meredith made the following statement: "I cannot think that Dr. Brumfield would have committed such a crime if he had been in his right mind, but I must admit that everything looks black against him. When I viewed the body in the morgue which had been taken from the wreck of Dr. Brumfield's car, I was positive that it was that of the Doctor. I testified to that effect at the coroner's inquest, and I was sincere in my belief, for that body resembled Dr. Brumfield so closely I was convinced that it was him. The shape of the body was exactly like that of Brumfield, but the hair found on the pieces of scalp did not resemble the hair of Dr. Brumfield. I have not talked with Dr. Brumfield since his return to Roseburg. When I last talked to him it was on the night of the murder and auto accident, July 13th. I was talking to him at about 7 o'clock that evening and he appeared perfectly normal at that time. He conversed on several subjects and I informed him of the insurance I had fixed for one of his farm hands. He was not agitated or nervous. If he had been suffering from insanity at that time I would surely have noticed it. But again, when I look at the fierceness of the crime and the connection of Brumfield with it, I cannot believe that the doctor would have committed such a murder and still be in his right senses."

Mrs. Brumfield had not visited the county jail up to a late hour this afternoon. She visited her husband for only a few minutes yesterday. Her friends state that she remains composed in spite of the terrible circumstances surrounding the case and is staunch in her belief that Dr. Brumfield is innocent of the crime charged against him.

1920 Prune Prices Reduced Half Cent

Cleaning up the entire stock of 1920 prunes in its western warehouse, the Oregon Growers Cooperative association sold three-quarters of a million pounds of prunes during the last week of sales at an advance of a half cent a pound over regular quoted prices on the New York and Chicago markets.

The price received was 7 cents a pound for 50-60s packed in 25-pound boxes, while formerly the price on the Chicago and New York market was 6 1/4 and 6 1/2 cents plus two cents for freight and cartage.

The former price on these markets was due to the fact that these eastern markets were flooded with prunes, the Washington growers having shipped all their prunes and held them in cold storage. The Oregon growers held their stock in the bins of the warehouse, and thus saved the expense of storage and were able to take advantage of the new freight rate which went into effect yesterday, reducing freight cost from $1.56 a hundred pounds to $1.25 on the gross weight and making the price to the jobber a half cent less.

Nearly a million pounds of the old crop are still in the hands of the association, in eastern warehouses, however. It is expected that these stocks will be completely cleaned up by the middle of October. The total amount of the 1920 crop marketed by the growers is 12,984,488.

Millinery opening at the Hat Shop, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 25th and 26th.

Peppy Address Is Promised For Band Concert

Many prominent citizens would be insulted if they heard Roseburg called a village. Those who would feel hurt at this case of municipal slander had better stay away from the band concert tomorrow night, for that's what they will hear if they come. But those who are of the opinion that there is still room for growth in this municipality will be delighted to hear Hon. O. P. Co-show's fifteen-minute address, the subject of which is "How to Make a City of This Village of Roseburg."

The speech, as described to the news reporter, is to be a "jazzy, razzle-dazzle, ring-lall splitter," which, translated into plain United States, means that it is to be short, snappy, and full of pep—one that will make the audience stop yawning and prick up their ears.

Then, as announced in last night's paper, there's to be a weller roast for all the kids in town, a real community sing led by a chorus of 50 voices, a special concert by the Umpqua Jubilee Singers and a number by the Royal Quartette.

It's going to be by far the biggest event of the summer, and the whole town is expected to be there. It's tomorrow night on the courthouse lawn at 8 o'clock.

Millinery opening at the Hat Shop, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 25th and 26th.

Mrs. C.S. Heinline Returns To Studio

Mrs. Charles Heinline has returned to her studio and will resume her work Sept. 1. The Kindergarten and Dunning classes will begin September 15. Miss Robinson, who takes the position formerly held by Mrs. Arthur Knauss and who will also conduct the Dunning classes, will arrive in Roseburg next week to meet her pupils and to explain her Dunning equipment, which has already been received at the conservatory. There were numerous applicants for this position and Mrs. Heinline made a special trip to Portland and to Corvallis, where she interviewed numerous teachers applying and also consulted Mrs. Carrie Louise Dunning, the originator of the Dunning system. Because of the splendid recommendations from Professor and Mrs. Gaskins and Professor Dankelberger of O. A. C., as to Miss Robinson's musical ability, intelligent musicianship, personality, and also because she had studied directly with Mrs. Dunning rather than with one of her representatives, Mrs. Heinline decided upon Miss Robinson. Mrs. Heinline will be glad to give all old pupils preference as to choice of lesson hours, provided they register before the first.

Ready for business now, in annex to Peoples Supply Store, 111 South Jackson St. Shower and tub baths will be ready soon. Wm. U. Keller, Proprietor.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hannah Daniels was held at the Parlor today. Many friends gathered, and many beautiful floral offerings were received. Interment followed in the Melrose Cemetery.

MONEY FOR SOLDIERS

SALEM, Or., Aug. 24.—At a state emergency meeting with the veterans' loan bonus commission held today, a resolution was adopted pledging itself back of the bonus board to the extent of $90,000 as the minimum for the administration of the veterans' aid act. The $90,000 appropriated by the act for administration was deemed insufficient to take care of handling the loan business involving some thirty million dollars.

BILL IS SIGNED

(By United Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—President Harding today signed the Capper-Tincher anti-grain and cotton gambling bill. This places the grain and cotton exchanges under the direction and control of the department of agriculture.

Marshfield Pastor Is Still Missing

PORTLAND, Aug. 23.—Portland police yesterday were requested to aid in a search for Rev. Jesse T. Anderson, a Baptist pastor from Marshfield, who has been missing since Saturday morning. Mrs. Anderson, according to reports from Marshfield, is fearful that her husband has met with some accident.

Rev. Mr. Anderson was in Portland several days last week, and had been stopping at the Clyde hotel. He was to have left for Marshfield that day. He left the hotel, but failed to return home. Investigation showed he did not take the boat he was to have taken.

The missing man was described as 30 years old, weighing 165 pounds, and 5 feet 7 inches in height. He is of light complexion, with light brown hair and blue eyes. He also was smooth shaven. He was wearing a drab colored business suit with a black slouch hat.

The police were informed that Rev. Anderson had been in poor health, and this, it was believed, may have something to do with his unexplained absence.

Friends Suspect Foul Play

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 23.—Rev. Jesse T. Anderson of this city, who left here on the steamer Curacao August 14, and who is now sought by friends and his family, has been pastor of the Baptist church of Marshfield for the past two years. So far as known he had no worries or troubles and no reason for disappearing, and if his absence from his Portland hotel is not explained soon his friends will be convinced that he has been foully dealt with. He has many friends throughout Oregon, and it is supposed here that he is visiting at some point and is not aware of the search being conducted for him.

Rev. Mr. Anderson's family, a wife and two children, are now at Medford, with friends, where they went a month ago, intending to spend the summer. Mrs. Anderson heard from her husband Friday but not since. That he was missing was first learned when a funeral which he had promised to attend occurred, and he was sought by telegrams at his Portland address. Reports came back that he was not to be found, and this started the search.
