AROUND THE TOWN

Fair at Yoncalla—

A very successful community fair was held at Yoncalla Saturday, with a large crowd in attendance. The exhibits were plentiful and of high quality.

Demonstration Postponed—

The poultry culling demonstration which was to have been held at Drain Saturday, has been postponed until about the middle of September, on account of the road construction work near Drain.

On Way to Crater Lake—

Mr and Mrs. Chas. Fisher, Attorney and Mrs. E. O. Immel, and Miss Lyle Bryson, of Eugene, passed through Roseburg yesterday on their way to Crater Lake and other points of interest in the southern part of the state.

Fair Today—

A community fair is scheduled for this afternoon at Oakland. A poultry demonstration is being held in connection. This morning a poultry culling demonstration was held at the ranch of John Sinclair in Garden Valley.

Oregon City People Here—

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Heskett and three children, of Oregon City, arrived in Roseburg Friday to visit with the former's brothers, C. L. Hewkett and wife. They left today for the North Umpqua to enjoy fishing in the waters of that river.

Week-end Visit—

Mrs. W. A. Pierce, Thelma and Stanley Pierce and Leroy Howard motored to Eugene Saturday and visited at the home of Mrs. J. O. Anderson. Miss Helen Pierce, who has been visiting in Eugene for the past week, made the return trip with them Sunday evening.

Returned to Medford—

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Gilbert of Medford, who have been visiting in this city for the past few days, left Sunday for their home. They have many friends in Roseburg and vicinity, who were pleased to greet them, having made their home here for many years before locating at Medford.

Lived in Medford—

The news has recently leaked out that Dennis Russell, the man whom it is alleged was murdered by Dr. Brumfield, was a former Medford resident. It is said that he lived with the Larkin family in West Medford and that he worked on a paving crew in and near the city for a considerable time. Many Medford men were formerly acquainted with him. —Medford Sun.

Lookout House Completed—

A lookout house has just been completed on the summit of Fairview mountain, near Bohemia, at an elevation of 6000 feet. The house is built on the regular plan, with living quarters on the ground floor, and the upper story enclosed on all four sides with glass, where the fire-finding instruments and telephone are placed, and where the lookout spends his time watching for fires.

New Postage Stamp—

The picture of Crater Lake will probably appear on the new postage stamp, according to the following dispatch from Washington: "Postmaster General Hays will be asked in the next day or two to outline views of the post office department with reference to size, design and lettering of postage stamps commemorative of Portland's exposition in 1925. Senator McNary has received photographs of Mount Hood and Crater Lake from Julius L. Meier of the exposition committee and advisibility of their use will be discussed."—Medford Sun.

625,000 BOTTLES HAVE BEEN SOLD IN NEW YORK IN LESS THAN ONE YEAR

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tanlac is sold in Roseburg by W. F. Chapman's Pharmacy and by leading druggists everywhere.

THINK WHAT YOU OWE THE TELEPHONE GIRL.

The telephone girl sits in her chair
And listens to voices from everywhere.
She hears all the gossip, she hears all the news,
She knows who is happy, and who has the blues;
She knows all our sorrows, she knows all our joys,
She knows every girl who is chasing the boys.
She knows all our troubles, she knows all our strife;
She knows every man who is mean to his wife.
She knows every time we are out with the boys,
She hears the excuses each fellow employs;
She knows every woman who has a dark past;
She knows every man who's inclined to be fast;
In fact, there's a secret 'neath each saucy curl
Of that quiet, demure looking "telephone girl."
If the telephone girl would tell all she knows
It would turn half our friends into bitter foes;
She'd start a small wind that would soon be a gale,
And engulf us in trouble and land us in jail.
She would let go a story (which gaining in force)
Would cause half our wives to sue for divorce.
She would get all the churches mixed up in a fight
And turn all our days into sorrowing nights;
In fact, she would keep all the world in a stew
If she told a tenth part of the things she knew.
Now, doesn't it set your head in a whirl
When you think what you owe "the telephone girl?"

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

MAKES OBJECTION.

Roseburg, Or., Aug. 26, 1921.

Editor News-Review:

I was shocked to see that in seeking to recall the school supervisors, the present board of the Taxpayers' League, which is composed of only eight members, used a letterhead two years old that contained the names of about 40 of the most prominent men in the county, who are not members of the new board. Now, as a matter of fact, a large percentage of those men are friends of education and are in favor of the rural supervisors. It does not seem fair that they should have been placed in an attitude of opposing education. My name appeared on the list and I resent such use of it.

By actual observation in my school and in neighboring schools the efficiency of the schools has been increased at least 50 per cent by means of this supervision. In actual dolars this means many times the paltry sum paid to our faithful supervisors.

If Roseburg can pay over $4000 for supervision of the schools of one district, where, for the most part, trained teachers are employed, how much more in need is Douglas county of rural supervision for her 130 odd schools where as a usual thing untrained teachers are employed? Yet we are paying less for such supervision.

I am satisfied that some may have been induced to sign the recall petitions through the belief that this was asked by the men whose names were wrongly used in the letterhead upon which the recall was requested. To such I would say that I find out by consulting legal authority that they may have their votes recalled by writing to the county school superintendent, prior to September 3, and requesting that their vote be not counted. I trust that this will be done, and that board members will refuse to lend aid to the tearing down of our excellent school system by asking the recall of the competent and faithful supervisors who have been a great factor in placing Douglas county in the front rank because of the excellence of her schools.

It seems to me that 8 cents on each thousand dollars of assessed value is a small sum to pay for the supervision of the rural schools. This is all that it costs. We believe that the Taxpayers' League can find better fields of economy

G. W. BURT.

THE BRUMFIELD CASE HAS NEAR DUPLICATE.

Klamath Falls, Ore., Aug. 26.

To the Editor:

Having kept close account on the Brumfield murder case, and after reading this magazine clipping, I find that the theories as to the cause of both murders are the same. Also it is claimed that Brumfield was a man who read many magazines and novels.

What I am wondering, is it possible that Brumfield (if he is guilty) acquired his idea from this clipping?

"In the jail at Warsaw, Indiana, an eighteen-year-old boy is awaiting trial as the perpetrator of what is said to be one of the most extraordinary murders in the history of the state. Virgil Decker, the accused, is alleged to have confessed to the sheriff of Kosciusko county that he killed his chum and double, Leroy Lovett. Lovett was found, mortally wounded, lying beside the tracks at a railroad crossing. He was dressed in Decker's clothes, and so great was his resemblance to his chum that his body was identified as Decker's by the latter's parents.

"According to the confession, Decker and the Lovett youth, who was nineteen years old, left their homes in Elkhart, Indiana, and went to a summer cottage on the Tippecanoe river. There Lovett lay down on a couch and fell asleep, and Decker hit him over the head with an iron bar. Lovett was not killed then. Fearing that he would be arrested for assault, Decker put his own clothes on the unconscious youth and dressed himself in Lovett's garments. Then he left the cottage to get a horse and buggy. With these he returned to the cottage and, finding his chum still alive, put him into the buggy and drove to a railroad crossing near Elkhart. He guided the horse and vehicle onto the tracks, unhitched the animal when he saw a train approaching, and left Lovett in the buggy.

Decker, it is alleged, thought that his double's body would be mangled and that it would be identified as his own by the garments in which it was clothed. The train, however, was a slow moving freight, which caused the body to the side of the track without marring it beyond recognition. Lovett's parents claimed it as well as Decker's, and an investigation was put in motion to find Decker, who had disappeared.

"It was learned that the boy had taken out insurance to the amount of twenty-four thousand dollars, which was to be paid to the 'brother' of Virgil Decker if the latter should meet death by an accident. Decker, it is alleged, claims that the reason he killed his chum was because 'the devil told him to,' but the police are working on the theory that there was a plot to collect the insurance money."
