Burns Pleads Bryon Removal Due to Economy

(News-Review Washington Bureau.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Into the department of justice and through offices of the members of the Oregon congressional delegation are flowing many telegrams of protest against the proposed removal of W. R. Bryon, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice for the Pacific Northwest with headquarters at Portland, whose immediate resignation was demanded early in the week by W. J. Burns, the new head of the bureau.

During a very brief stay in Washington, the first in a week, Mr. Burns told Senator McNary's office that the call for his resignation implied no reflection whatever upon the excellence of Mr. Bryon's service, but was incident to the orders issued by Attorney General Daugherty to reduce the personnel of the service because of reduced appropriations.

May Give Him Place.

Mr. Burns said that Mr. Bryon's place was less necessary than some others and was to be eliminated. He intimated that if congress consolidates all of the secret service agencies of the government as proposed in the general reorganization scheme, into the one department of justice bureau, a place probably will be found for Mr. Bryon.

Consolidation Remote.

The fact is, however, that this consolidation is remote and is rendered more difficult by the appointment of Mr. Burns, against whose establishment at the head of the bureau of investigation vigorous protest has been made by New York and other powerful influences, some of which were behind the attempt which was made in New York a few months ago to obtain the revocation of private detective license of the Burns private detective agency on the grounds of unethical conduct in a number of cases, notably in the cases arising at the time the Burns agency was doing detective work for German steamship and other interests in the period between 1914 and 1917. Mr. Burns has been given a free hand by Attorney General Daugherty to reorganize the personnel of the bureau.

Other Protests Come.

Mr. Burns spent the past week in the middle west and is in New York effecting changes. From other cities where he has eliminated officials, protests of the same character that are coming from Portland are flowing to Washington.

Attorney General Daugherty has been out of the city since Sunday and is not expected to return until after Labor day when these protests will be brought to his attention.

OBITUARY.

Lena Patterson, wife of J. Patterson, of Gardiner, after long years of suffering away August 31. The deceased was a woman of lovely disposition and character; respected and beloved by a large circle of relatives and friends. A very large gathering of friends at the burial attested the high esteem in which she was held. The abundance of flowers which obscured the grave were the expression of those who loved her in life. Besides a sorrowing husband there are left one child, one brother and six sisters. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. C. Dix of Elkton and interment made in Scottsburg cemetery on Friday afternoon, Sept. 2.

Mrs. Archie Taylor and Mrs. James Goodman left Sunday morning by auto stage for Marshfield and other coast points, where they will spend a week or ten days enjoying an outing.

Reedsport Mill To Be Rebuilt

REEDSPORT, Sept. 3.—The Reedsport planing mill, destroyed by fire some few months ago, is being rebuilt. A crew of men started to work last Friday morning removing the debris of the fire and laying of the mud sills upon which the foundation will be started. The loss of the plant was a serious blow to the community as it employed about 25 men and had sufficient orders for steady running over a period of a year's time, but the indomitable spirit of Reedsport business men, and others, and those heretofore employed in the Reedsport planing mill and other financial assistance received from the outside, has made it a possibility to build a better and larger plant than heretofore.

The building of the plant will be much larger and convenient to railroad facilities, and a great deal better to waterway.

It is expected with the forces on hand which will be increased this week, that the foundations of the building will be so placed that the machinery for engines and boilers and planing equipment will be able to start operations within the next fortnight as all machinery has been ordered.

It is expected as soon as some of the present machinery is installed so as to get the plant under operation, other machinery which has been ordered, will be installed, so as to make it a complete factory as before.

When this plant was burned down a few months ago, the company had large uncompleted contracts with Chicago and other eastern firms which have been held up on account of the destruction of the plant which have not been abrogated and the firms mentioned have been willing to wait until the new plant has been rebuilt and have further signified their intentions of taking larger orders in the future than heretofore.

This mill is a purely Reedsport concern backed and financed practically by Reedsport people which will prove a practical concern to the interests of the people of Reedsport.

Well Known Couple Married

A very pretty wedding occurred last night at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson on E. Douglas street, when Mrs. Nella Melva Cannon became the wife of Cornelius M. Koikema. The wedding service was performed by Rev. C. H. Hilton, minister of the Christian church, who used the ring ceremony. The house was decorated with asters and at the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the bride and groom by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. Mrs. Cannon has been for some time employed in the surveyor's office as stenographer and Mr. Koikema is a carpenter.

To Plan Opening of Local Cannery

Frank Norton, the Sutherland packer, who has leased the Roseburg cannery from the Oregon Canning company is expected to come to Roseburg the early part of this week to formulate plans for running the cannery this fall.

It was formerly planned to open the cannery about October 1, and so far as is known, no change has been made in this plan. Mr. Norton expects to work extensively with apples this year. He has been running the cannery at Drain full blast, working largely in pears.

A large quantity of old stock put up by A. Rupert company has been stored in the cannery building and this is now being removed and shipped or stored elsewhere, and a crew of men are at work putting the cannery in shape for fall operation.

The opening of the cannery will mean work for a large crew of both men and women until late in the season. Starting late, however, after the opening of school, the cannery will not employ as many young people as it has in former years. The wage scale for employes this year has not yet been announced.

I am not responsible for any bills run on and after this date, August 31st by Mrs. A. H. Beckley. A. H. Beckley.

Letters have been sent out to various men inviting them to join the Umpqua Jubilee Singers. This is a new musical organization which has just started in Roseburg, and which will put on concerts throughout the winter. It is not made up of professional singers, but anyone who can carry a tune is eligible for membership. Mrs. Heinline has offered the use of her studio for rehearsals, and has even offered to instruct the singers without cost.
