ROSEBURG NATIONALLY KNOWN BROCCOLI CENTER

IF PLANS TO SELL BROCCOLI FOR CASH SUCCEED COUNTY WILL RECEIVE ADDED FAME

Coming Crop Will Be Three Times as Large as That Shipped Last Spring—Growers Will Receive Handsome Profit—Big Tracts Set Out

If the plan upon which the majority of the broccoli growers of the county are working succeeds, Roseburg will become a nationally known market for this vegetable which is rapidly increasing in popularity and demand. Instead of shipping the carloads of broccoli east to be sold there, it is planned to sell the crop in Roseburg and let the dealers attend to the shipments. Broccoli should be sold, many of the growers maintain, the same as prunes, turkeys and many other products of this county are sold. At turkey season buyers come from all parts of the coast, recognizing Roseburg as the leading turkey center of the northwest. Likewise Douglas county becomes at prime time the center of activity when the buyers representing the large companies go out to the orchards and buy directly from the growers and take the prunes for cash upon their delivery in this city. Broccoli growers are asking why broccoli cannot be sold on the same basis.

Under the proposed plan, however, the buyers would take the cars f.o.b. Roseburg and upon the turnover would pay spot cash, enabling the grower to settle up for his expenses without delay. Such a plan would soon make Roseburg nationally known as the broccoli center and would result in a great deal of favorable publicity for the city and county as well as profit for the growers.

Great Increase in Crop. Growers feel that if Roseburg is to be established as a market for broccoli that now is the time that such action should be taken. The industry is just starting, it is believed, and indications are that it will grow enormously in the next few years. Next year's crop will be almost three times as large as the crop taken of last March, and in the event of a successful year, there is no doubt but that the succeeding season will be much larger.

Wac Interfered. Broccoli has been grown in Douglas county for a great number of years. For a long time it was purely experimental and no one realized the great commercial value of the crop. Then there came a strong demand for it and quite suddenly the industry materialized. It made gigantic strides until the war came with its demand for the production of staple articles, and broccoli growers turned from that product to the less profitable but more necessary lines.

With their war duty done, they found an unstable and unsatisfactory condition of the market, coupled with a year of bad weather which played havoc with the broccoli. Last year, however, they returned to a more normal basis and with a fair return have again resumed the work and with one sweep have gained back all the ground lost during the war and the period of readjustment.

Great Future Predicted. The future of the broccoli industry looks very optimistic. Within a brief span of years Douglas county residents have seen the crop grow from a garden freak to one of the most profitable products of the county. Next year, if the elements are favorable, will see over two hundred carloads shipped out of this county to the eastern markets. This order to pay their field expenses.

Would Sell for Cash. Sales here would be strictly for cash. Under the old plans growers have been forced to wait several weeks for their money and have been in many cases forced to borrow in order to pay their field expenses.

Officials "Kick" Over Mess, But Kids Had Glorious Feed At the Concert Last Evening
Bright and early this morning the telephone rang in the office of A. T. Lawrence, real estate dealer, and manager of the Douglas County Concert Band. Mr. Lawrence took down the receiver and the voice came over the wire.
"This is George Quine speaking. When are you going to get this rubbish off the courthouse lawn?"
"Am I responsible for that?" asked Mr. Lawrence.
"Who else would be?" thundered the voice. "It's a helluva looking mess. Get it off quick or I'll have the whole d— thing, bandstand and all, carried away."
This gentle conversation was the result of the watermelon feed given the youngsters of Roseburg in connection with the band concert last night, at which 325 watermelons, making up two tons, were fed to the kiddies of Roseburg. Mr. Lawrence made the following statement this morning:
"The band contends that while it may have disgraced and made a mess of the courtyard, still it got away with a good time for the kids, and both the band and the kids are satisfied, no matter what the cost. The band paid for the watermelons; it can afford to pay for clearing up the courtyard too, if necessary."

Irish Note Meets General Favor
(By United Press.)
LONDON, Sept. 9.—The British press and public are optimistic over the chances of Irish peace. All parties regardless of political faith are backing the premier's last note to De Valera, which embodies the extreme limit of liberality, as far as even the most liberal Englishmen would approve. Lloyd George is being lauded for his generosity and firmness. Dublin reports indicate that the Sinn Fein cabinet is split over the question of whether or not Ireland should be bound by any conditions whatever in entering the coming Inverness conference. Some factions fail to agree on Lloyd George's assurance that Ireland must remain a part of the empire.

Farewell Party Given Students
The Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church will entertain all Christian Endeavorers of other Roseburg churches, all visiting endeavorers and all young people of the city who do not belong to any endeavor—in fact, every young person in town is invited. The entertainment will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

Yap Mandate Problem Solved
(By United Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Both the United States and Japan have agreed to a tentative plan for the settlement of the Yap mandate problem. Ambassador Shidehara and Secretary Hughes have adopted a plan which includes Japan's recognition of the rights of the United States over other nations for the use of Yap as a cable point; the American government to drop objections to the allocation of the Yap mandate to Japan; the German cable to be so distributed that the United States shall have the line from Yap to Guam, Japan that from Yap to Shanghai, the Chinese end being diverted to Japan. Both nations to recognize the right of the Netherlands to an interest in the line from Yap to Menado in Dutch East Indies. Formal ratification of the plan will be made shortly.

Roy Gardner Still Eludes Prison Guards
MCNEIL'S ISLAND, Sept. 9.—Two shots were fired last night at a prowler believed to be Roy Gardner, who it is thought was attempting to steal food from the ranch home of Charles Savage, who has a place near the center of the island. Savage, who serves as a prison guard, fired the shots when he heard a man prowling about the house. Neither of the shots were effective. The prowler, whom the guard is confident is Gardner, fled when he heard the owner moving about in the house. Fog still hangs over the island and Gardner, whom the officers are confident is still on the island. The prowler suspected of being Gardner also visited the Rudolph Senburg ranch last night. Penitentiary guards in the vicinity were doubled today.

Fugitive on Island.
(By United Press.)
TACOMA, Sept. 9.—The Roy Gardner hunt still baffles officers. Warden Maloney still insists that Gardner is on McNeil's island, although some of the other officers fail to agree, thinking that the bandit has escaped. They believe that Gardner is desperate and may fight if discovered. It is also thought that he is after some of the loot which he has cached in some unknown place.

Sutherland Mill Owner Killed By Saw
Frank Filly, prominent resident and mill owner of Sutherland, was instantly killed at about 5 o'clock yesterday evening, when he accidentally slipped and fell against a large circular saw, his head being almost severed from his body. Mr. Filly was working at his mill and was operating the saw, when in some unknown manner his foot slipped and his body was pitched forward against the saw. His head was almost completely cut away and death was instantaneous. The mill where the accident occurred is located a short distance east of Sutherland where the deceased has resided for a number of years. Coroner Ritter was not notified and as a result there is apt to be several prosecutions of those who took charge of the body without authority. The deceased is survived by a wife and several children. No funeral announcements have been made.

County Court In Session Today
The county court spent the major portion of today listening to petitions of minor importance, relating to road affairs and to hearing a few delegations which were present with requests for road money. A delegation was present from Oakland and there was also a committee which met with the court to talk over plans for the county land products show. This afternoon the boundary board met with a delegation from the Glide district to consider the proposed school consolidation there. Several districts desire to form a consolidated school, while at the same time there is objection made on the part of other residents. The boundary board will make an investigation and determine the best policy to follow. The court has had a light session and will probably complete the most of its work today and will spend tomorrow on road inspection.

PORTLAND LAUNCHES PLAN FOR FINANCING EXPOSITION TO BE HELD THERE IN 1925

Capital Stock of $6,000,000 to Be Raised for Exposition—Portland Will Raise $4,000,000 and Remainder of State Will Pay Balance

PORTLAND, Sept. 9.—The financial plans for the 1925 Atlantic-Pacific Highways and Electric Exposition, to be held in Portland, were launched yesterday at a conference of the board representing the city of Portland and all of the counties of the state. Without a single dissenting vote it was decided to hold the exposition in Portland and the up-state representatives unanimously agreed to the holding of the exposition in Portland.

The financial plans adopted provide for a capital stock of $6,000,000, of which amount $4,000,000 is to be raised in Portland and $2,000,000 from the state at large, outside of Portland. The plans provide for 11,000,000 to be raised in Portland by private subscription. An additional sum of $2,000,000 will be raised by direct taxation on Portland property. A tax sufficient to raise $2,000,000 will be placed upon the state at large and as Portland's valuation is one-third of the entire state, Portland will pay $1,000,000 more, making the amount the metropolis will pay two-thirds of the entire amount to be raised.

The tax will be made on the state at large on a three-year, one-mill levy. At the conference every county in the state was represented by two official delegates. The Portland board expressed great pleasure over the intense feeling of co-operation shown by the up-state representatives, who promised the aid of their communities in support of the exposition. Julius L. Meier was elected permanent chairman and Robert E. Smith was chosen as secretary. Governor O'Leary served as temporary chairman at yesterday's conference. A special city election in Portland in November to care for Portland's share in the tax levy for the fair, and a special session of the state legislature in January to deal with the necessary constitutional measures and prepare measures on which the people may vote in May, are plans now being considered and investigated by the exposition board. It has been suggested that if a legislative session is called it will be with the strict understanding that exposition affairs only are to be considered and legislators will be asked to give their services, just as the delegates who came to the conference yesterday gave theirs.

Chairman Meier announced today the receipt of a number of messages from coast cities offering support for the exposition.

The Trail of the Auto Camp Leads West and the East Asks, "How Come?"

Roseburg—once only the stopping place of the four-horse stage, but now the goal of many auto tourists—has been declared by hundreds this season as an ideal city. This wonderful publicity which means thousands of dollars to the citizens of the county, has only been brought about by the auto camp ground. Had it not been for the fact that this city maintained such a camp ground, a great majority of the tourists would have never stopped here. As it is, the auto camp ground has been crowded to capacity every night during the tourist season. Automobile tourists from central, mid-western and eastern states have distributed over $4,000,000 over the west this summer. The east has been devoid of all tourist travel. And yet the east, with its wonderful network of state highways, its great cities, its famous Atlantic coast beaches and even with Manhattan as a lodestone, stands by with envious glances and asks, "How come?"
The west straightens up, looks Old Man East square in the eye, and answers briefly, "Auto camps."
No longer does the tourist "dress up." He has no need of fine clothes with the establishment of the auto camps. Touring for them is no longer an everlasting struggle to keep clean and keep their clothes presentable for swell hotel lobbies and dining rooms. They are in comfortable camp togs with a camping outfit and they head west, the land of the setting sun, where every city and town has an auto tourists' camp ground for their comforts and conveniences.
Roseburg is listed among the top-notchers when it comes to a camp ground, and the travelers have often so expressed themselves this summer. Through Roseburg's camp ground, this tide of tourist travel has flowed. Every available inch of the ground is in use every night and many of the tourists are so impressed with the city and valley that they have remained here for several days in order to take in some of the side trips.
License plates from every state in the Union have been parked here. The man with a flivver has rubbed elbows with the multi-millionaire with the Rolls-Royce.
"We're all for the west this summer," said a central states motorist touring with his wife and two kiddies. "You can't tour and be dressed up, so we're following the trails of the auto camps."
