

It never rains but it pours!

IT WAS "company night."
 BUT WHEN I got home,
 I FOUND the Browns.
 HAD A sick baby.
 AND COULDN'T come.
 SO I chortled "Oh, joy,
 WON'T SUE and I have,
 SWELL EATS for two!"
 BUT NO, Sue said,
 "YOU DON'T suppose,
 I'D WASTE all this food,
 JUST ON you!"
 AND SO I said,
 "LET'S PHONE the Smiths."
 BUT THEY had headaches.
 THEN WE tried the Joneses,
 AND THEY fell for it.
 AND WHEN grub for four,
 WAS JUST about ready,
 THE PHONE bell tinkled.
 AND THE Brown baby was better.
 AND A minute later,
 THE SMITHS changed their mind,
 AND THE Missus fainted.
 "OH, WELL," I said,
 "THE MORE the merrier.
 WHAT'S THE difference?
 IF THERE isn't enough food,
 I'LL FEED the males.
 ON THE cigarettes that satisfy.
 AND YOU women can talk.
 AND BETWEEN the two,
 WE'LL ALL be Satisfied."

With acknowledgments to K. C. B.

Former Emperor Attempts to Regain His Throne

(By Associated Press).
 LONDON, Oct. 24.—An unverified report that former Emperor Charles of Austria has been assassinated, was received by the Exchange Telegraph company today.

A Vienna report says that the British high commissioner there declared the entente will construe the continued presence of Charles in Hungary as the casus belli. An ultimatum has been sent to the Hungarian government by the Czecho-Slovaks giving the former 48 hours to secure the removal of Charles from the country.

To Expel Charles.
 PARIS, Oct. 24.—Jugo-Slavia, Czecho-Slovakia and Rumania, members of the "little entente," are reported to be mobilizing to bring pressure upon Hungary to expel Charles. Hungarians Win.
 BUDAPEST, Oct. 24.—The Hungarian government forces, fighting against former Emperor Charles' attempt to regain the throne, won pronounced successes. The government reported that the town of Raab had been recaptured and the Carlists are being attacked in the rear.

NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—The first time in the history of New York City a woman has been named for manager for a political party in a municipal campaign. She is Ms. Helen S. Amend who is to run the campaign for the Farmer-Labor party.

The largest collection of books by and about the negro race that has ever been assembled is one of the things for which New York is famous among the colleges and research libraries of the world. It is housed in Young's Book Exchange in West 135th street. George Young, who started the exchange six years ago, is a former Pullman porter and became interested in the idea of such a shop when he was going out on private cars with occasional whole weeks in one place and plenty of time on his hands.

Calamity strikes a good many New York voters in the face this fall, and several hundred of them are losing sleep wondering if their comparatively innocent sin is going to be found out. The Honest Ballot Association has brought forward an all but forgotten law and is dangling it before the eyes of the careless ones. This is a clause making it a felony to register or vote in an election after making a bet on the results of that election. Yes, it's in the constitution of this state.

For the first time in this city's multiple building operations, an obscure clause in the new height regulations has been taken advantage of for the benefit of the Hotel Commonwealth, now being built at Fifty-sixth street and Broadway. This clause says that a building may be carried straight up for 200 feet above the sidewalk building line. Then it must increase its height so that it remains within a line supposed to be drawn from the center of the street to the 200 feet point and from then on to infinity. However, the "obscure clause" allows 25 feet to be added to the 200 "if the building fronts on four streets." The Hotel Commonwealth will occupy the block between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets and Broadway and Seventh avenue and thus gains by this hitherto unused ruling. With its 2500 rooms it was originally planned to make the Commonwealth thirty-six stories high but this added sidewalk height will allow several full-sized floors more than at first planned. Although this will decrease the height of the building, it will still be the tallest as well as the largest hotel in the world.

An interesting group of business men, artists, and foremost members of the Italian nation are gathered together at the Caruso Foundation. The foundation has been promoted for the sake of establishing a permanent American memorial to the great singer in the form of provision for musical education for youthful singers who need financial help in order to realize their ambitions.

Grace and Gertrude Mason, of Long Island City, aged four and five respectively, decided that they were tired of playing school without the real atmosphere about them. So they started out to hunt a school. They walked four miles looking for one, and then were picked up by a sympathetic patrolman and taken to the police station while he telephoned their parents. When their father arrived for them, Grace and Gertrude were joyfully doing sums for the policeman, basking in the thought that they were in a real school.

George M. Cohan, is leaving us— for goodness knows how long. He has threatened it for several months. But no one took it seriously. Now he's actually sailing for Europe this week.

I created more than passive comment the other day when an army officer went on a parade in the hotel Commodore to the extent of reviewing his shoes and hosiery and patterning about the lounge in his bare feet. He seemed to have erred in his choice of soft drinks.

SCHOONER BURNS
 ABERDEEN, Wash., Oct. 24.—The four-masted schooner, David Evans, which sailed from the Columbia river April 25th with lumber for Cape town, burned and was scuttled off an island near South Africa, according to a message from Captain Spicer to his wife. The entire crew was saved.

Miners' War Is Investigated

(By United Press).
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Attempts to solve the West Virginia coal mine war continued today before the senate committee. Phillip Murray, representing the miners, declared that the following was essential to a continued peace:

- Freedom of speech guarantee.
- Right of collective bargaining.
- Protection of the union miners from discrimination.
- Protection of the unorganized laborers from intimidation by the union miners.

Abolition of private guard systems in the mine districts.
 Frank Walsh, noted labor leader, charged the United States steel corporation and the J. P. Morgan company, as responsible for the "campaign conspiracy and murder" in the coal fields.
