NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Anyone who cherishes the thought that New York women adhere to the old-time curse of being "slaves to fashion" is getting considerable of a blow this season. She has broken her chains part way through, at least, and is doing it with a gesture of sheer delight. "Long skirts," said Paris, and the fashion dictators on this side echoed, "Hide your ankles." Has the New York woman responded en masse. She has—with a blithe but elation, "No, indeed." On the stage one sees instead approaching draperies and lower hems in the straight around skirts. In some of the shop windows one sees them. And occasionally, oh, very occasionally, some woman wears one down town with an effort not to look too self-conscious. But for the vast majority, of smart well-dressed women, there has been no knell of the ten inch skirt and no intention of sounding or hearing any knell.

One New York hotel has opened a "thinking room." It doesn't attempt to describe what the guests are to think about nor how hard they are to think. They just provide perfect and complete silence—no talking aloud, no being paged, not even a rustling of newspapers—and then leave the rest to the occupants of the muffled, heavy-walled and heavy-carpeted room. Several men have been found devoting their time there-in entirely to a contemplation of their hotel bill.

The combined waistlines of Dr. Copeland's class of fat women have been reduced by eight feet since their training started.

A new play for John Barrymore, who has just arrived home from England, is said to be all ready and in the hands of Arthur Hopkins, who will present Barrymore this season. The title and nature of the play has not been allowed to creep to public ears as yet. One rumor is that it is based upon the life of a prominent American literary figure. Another and more interesting story is that Mr. Hopkins will present the three Barrymores in "Othello"—Lionel as the Moor, John as Iago and Ethel as Desdemona.

More than 1,000 Boy Scouts made their second annual pilgrimage to the grave of Theodore Roosevelt in Oyster Bay, and knelt in silent prayer beside it after decorating it with fifty wreaths and listening to speeches eulogizing the former honorary president of their organization.

The center of congregation on the part of out-of-towners who are here for a day or a week is Forty-second and Broadway; the center for those who are here for a month or a season is the New York Public Library at Forty-second and Fifth avenue. The home newspaper is the attraction for those who are cut off from their old associations for more than a few weeks. It is the connecting link with "back home." "The number of young men and women who come in here increases in the fall of every year," said an attendant. "They're the students who have come here to college and are homesick."

The strictness of New York state divorce laws is affording free rent for a year to one young business woman of this city. Her sister who also lives on Manhattan Island is suing for divorce. She didn't want to get it under our laws, so she took a house over on the Jersey side. But she won't live there. Consequently she turned it over carte blanche to her self-supporting sister, goes out herself to spend Sunday and has all of her mail sent there. The law is therefore satisfied, she can keep on being near her Manhattan friends, and the sister will have several hundred dollars in the bank at the end of the year instead of in the landlord's till.

One more tradition has fallen overboard in this inconclusive age. A little group of serious thinkers went out to the Bronx zoo the other day to test the claim about music soothing the savage beast and so on. They sang Schubert's entrancing "Song of Love" to Brown Ivan, biggest of the zoo bears, and he only reared on his hind legs and protested. The solid buffaloes walked out on the performance and left it flat. So it was all along the line. No appreciation; no evidence of being soothed; nothing at all like a conscious reaction to uplift.

"THEY Satisfy"—nothing else so well describes Chesterfields' mildness, their mellowness, their delicacy of aroma and smooth, even "body." It took the finest varieties of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos to do it—and the highest order of skill in blending them. Yes, the Chesterfield blend is a secret. It can't be copied.

High Schools Given Credit

EUGENE, Nov. 16.—(Special)—The high schools in Douglas county—those at Canyonville, Drain, Garrettsville, Myrtle Creek, Oakland, Riddle, Roseburg, Sutherlin, Willbur and Yonahla—have courses of study of such high grade and taught with such efficiency that they are accredited by the University of Oregon.

To be admitted to the freshman class of the University of Oregon a student must have completed a four-year high school course or its equivalent requiring not less than 15 units of work. The term "unit" means the equivalent of five recitations per week of not less than 40 minutes each, in one branch of study, for a school year of not less than 35 weeks. Considering these high requirements it is a distinct honor for a high school to be on the University accredited list.

Although there are more than two hundred high schools in the state, only 177 are accredited by the University.

The University of Oregon makes the following specific requirements: Three units of English, one unit each of algebra, plane geometry, history and science; two units of one foreign language; an additional unit of any three and five units in elected subjects. But it is recommended that in elective significant amounts of each subject be taken, not just a little of several subjects, which is described as buttering your bread too thin.

NOTICE OF SCHOOL ELECTION TO INCREASE TAX MORE THAN SIX PER CENT OVER THAT OF THE PREVIOUS YEAR.

Notice is hereby given to the legal voters of School District No. 4 of Douglas County, State of Oregon, that an election will be held in said District at the High School on the 26th day of November, 1921, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, to vote on the question of increasing the amount of the tax levy in said district for the year 1921-1922 by more than six per cent over the amount of such levy for the year immediately preceding.

The Board of Directors of said district has determined and certified by resolution heretofore duly adopted that said increase of the tax levy is necessary, said certificate setting forth substantially that, in the opinion of said board, necessity exists to levy a larger amount of taxes for the fiscal year beginning on June 21, 1921, and ending June 30, 1922, than the amount limited by the Constitution of the State of Oregon, for the reason that funds are needed to create a sinking fund for the redemption of outstanding warrants, and to provide an emergency fund of $2600.00 as required by law, and the amount of such necessary increase is $12,942.95.

Dated this 5th day of November, 1921. E. H. LENOX, Chairman of Board of Directors. Attest: V. J. Maslin, District Clerk.
