Movie Closeups

Mr. Geo. E. Mapes, representing the two American Lifeograph pictures, "The Golden Trail" and "The Deceiver," is spending a short time in Roseburg. "The Deceiver" will be shown at the Liberty Theatre, Nov. 22 and 23. This film was taken at Bend, Oregon, on the Deschutes river, and is a wonderfully fine picture taken in virgin territory, with beautiful scenic effects, mostly exterior photography. Some beautiful snow, mountain, and wood scenes are shown in the picture, and will be interesting to people of Roseburg and vicinity. Plans are now being made by the American Lifeograph company to take pictures in southern Oregon next spring, the story and continuity now being selected from many submitted. Mr. Mapes stated that the possibilities in this territory are unlimited.

FOUL-SMELLING GAS WILL KILL INSECTS

Various Kinds of Seeds Subject to Injury by Bugs.

Pests May Be Destroyed by Fumigation With Carbon Disulphid—Liquid May Be Placed in Any Shallow Receptacle.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Many seeds, especially beans, corn, and lettuce, are subject to injury by a number of insects, all of which may be destroyed by fumigation with carbon disulphid, say experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. Carbon disulphid is a liquid that can be purchased in tin cans at any drug store. When poured into a dish it evaporates rapidly, producing a foul-smelling gas that is heavier than air. Therefore, in fumigating seeds, to kill insects attacking them, it is necessary to place the carbon disulphid on top of the seeds in order that the gas may sink into them and reach every part of the container. A tight tin pail, box, or barrel makes an excellent container for fumigating seeds. For a tight barrel full of seeds one-half cupful of carbon disulphid is sufficient. For smaller containers use in proportion.

Seeds to be fumigated must be dry, and if they are in paper bags, the bags should be opened. The gas penetrates cloth bags easily. The liquid may be placed in any shallow dish, such as a saucer or plate, or merely poured on the seeds. The liquid will not injure the seeds if poured directly upon them immediately after starting the fumigation, the container should be covered with several thicknesses of heavy paper, or other tight cover, and allowed to remain covered from one to two days. A longer fumigation in tin pails is apt to injure the germinating power of the seeds.
