Had he done so he would have met at least half a dozen of his former flames, who, according to their claims had been wooed by Kronengeld in other days. The plaintiff stated she met her husband at a dance. He told her he was a returned army surpeon and thrilled her with his countless stories of operations performed under fire.

Later she visited him at his "office" and found it equipped with an operating table and surgical instruments. There was a gas mask in the room and when she asked whose it was, according to her story, Kronengeld told her it belonged to him. Seeing that she was interested in it, he presented it to her.

Soviet Adopts New Tax Plan

By EDWIN W. HULLINGER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
MOSCOW, (By Mail—An Elaborate taxation system, reposing chiefly-upon "direct" taxes on income, profits and production, has been worked out by the Soviet government and will be inaugurated soon, as a result of the return to capitalism, Peter Bugadanoff, president of the Supreme Economic council, announced today.

Part of the scheme, taxes in the Part of the scheme—taxes in the form of busines licenses—has al-ready been put into operation.

Exactly what proportion of the government's revenues will be derived from taxes will depend, Burg danoff said, upon the profits yielde by the four big industries which the Kremlin retained when it institute it as new economic policy.

In the country, for instance, Bugdanoff, said, there will be no land tax. Peasants will pay their taxes in the form of a percentage of their crops. The actual grain will be turn crops. The actual grain will be turned over to the tax collector, who will redispose of it on the market.

In the cities, business will pay several taxes. First there will be a general license for the privilege of running a store or office, similar to the system in France and in several to the system in France and in some American cities. Second, a graded profits or income tax based upon the

As yet no taxes on buildings or land are planned either in the cities or country. This, it is hoped, will place a premium on improvements.

Another source of direct govern-ment income will be the monopoly of foreign import and export, which the Kremlin will retain—in addition to the four big internal industries. All Russian importers will be obliged to buy through the government.

An exception will be made for for-eign capitalists operating in Russia, Dugdanoff said, permitting them to dispose of their output freely and through private agencies on foreign markets, without dealing through the A woman's scream aroused the entire west end district here last A huge crowd gathered and rushed up and down the 1700 block in an attempt to locate the woman in distress. Several policemen aided in the search.
