"Purple Flashes," Elks Show, Elaborate Song Revue

"Purple Flashes," the three-act farce-comedy with music which is to be produced here December 13 and 14 at the Antlers theater by local Elks under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell, had its second rehearsal last night. The chorus of 30 rehearsed its dances and musical numbers and then the speaking parts were run through. According to Mr. Powell the cast has taken hold in professional manner and he predicted the show would go over with snap unusual in amateur performances.

All costumes for the production together with scenery and sets are carried by the producers. Special lighting arrangements for effects in various numbers are also carried and a wardrobe mistress fits the cast with their costumes.

A cyclorama, used only in the highest class of theaters for special productions has been brought here to be used in several of the interiors.

The "Old Song Revue" is a number that is being worked upon at rehearsals. Songs of long ago are sung by girls in appropriate costumes with a chorus background and gradually through a 15-minute act, the songs are brought right to the present day of Irving Berlin and Broadway musical show hits.

The entire proceeds of the production will go to the Elks' Christmas fund for charity.

We are leaving for Portland with truck; can take any amount of freight. Get your order in by Saturday, 9 a. m. Call 414.
