W. H. Canon in Portland—

"Homesteads are becoming scarce, and the country is being scoured for something worth while, but good places are difficult to find," according to W. H. Canon, of the Roseburg land office, in Portland on business. "There are practically no timber entries any more and land office business is on the decline everywhere. We have, or had, quite a bit of the Oregon and California land grant in the jurisdiction of the Roseburg office, but the timber is not being sold off for there is little demand. Big timber operators own their own timber, but occasionally there is a sale of the timber on 40 acres or so to some small mill." The Roseburg land office district comprises Lane, Douglas, Coos, Josephine, Jackson, Curry and a small portion of Benton, Lincoln and Linn counties. Mr. Canon holds his appointment under the recent democratic administration.

City Improvement Discussed

At the regular meeting of the Rotary Club today noon reports were made in reference to various city improvements suggested recently by the club. Dr. Finlay, chairman of the committee appointed on improving the grounds of public property throughout the city, stated a willingness was being shown both by the city council and the various Parent Teacher associations to cooperate in the matters and that definite results would be attained in the very near future. It has been proposed to bring to the city a state landscape gardener who will aid in perfecting plans for carrying out a city beautifying program and offer suggestions to those in charge of the work, that it may be properly executed. Several projects already initiated by the Rotary Club are meeting with good support and the members are a unit that every effort possible be put forth to build a bigger and better city, and assist in every way possible all matters that are of vital importance to the city's best interest. M. F. Rice, Chas. McElhinny and B. W. Bates were appointed on the program committee for the next meeting of the club.
