THIRD BALLOT ON NEW POPE FAILS

Thousands Waiting Outside Sistine Chapel Watch Puff of Smoke.

SIGNALS AT INTERVALS

As Soon As Election Is Complete the Waiting Through Will Rush Through the Gates to Greet New Religious Leader.

ROME, Feb. 4.—The third ballot for the new Pope, taken this morning, was unsuccessful, the little puff of smoke from the Sistine chapel announced to the waiting thousands.

ROME, Feb. 4.—The college of cardinals, which meets in secret conclave at the Vatican today to elect a new Pope, numbers when complete 70 members, but rarely is attended by more than a part of the college.

There are now living about 60 cardinals, including six cardinal-bishops, six cardinal-deacons and the other cardinal-priests.

Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli is dean of the sacred college. Italians compose about one-half of the membership of the college with Spain next in order with seven members. England and the United States have two each with one in Canada and one in South America.

The college is required to meet on the 10th day after the death of a Pope. A two-thirds vote is necessary for an election. While there is no law against the election of a layman, it has become tradition to elect the new Pope from the membership of the college of cardinals.

The cardinals will meet for the opening of the conclave in the Sistine chapel where mass for the Holy Ghost will be said by the cardinal dean. They will then proceed with their officers and assistants to that part of the Vatican set apart for the election. This will form a secluded precinct where they will be guarded by the marshal of the conclave. This seclusion will be strict.

Communication with the outside world during the sessions of the college is possible only through small windows equipped with something like a revolving door used in office buildings in the United States.

Each cardinal-bishop will have three rooms and each cardinal-priest and cardinal-deacon two rooms. Telephones have been installed in the apartment of each of the cardinals so they will be able to communicate with each other.

The cardinals will be waited in within the large hall of the Vatican which is divided so as to provide these small compartments. At prescribed hours twice a day the cardinals will come together to vote, the actual balloting taking place in the Sistine chapel. This must continue until a candidate receives more than two-thirds of the vote.

The ballots are burned after each indecisive vote is taken. Large crowds gather daily in the square of St. Peter to watch the smoke of the burning ballots issue from the chimney.

Failure to see the smoke at the usual time serves as a signal to the crowd that a new pontiff has been chosen and the throng rushes inside the basilica to await the appearance of the new head of the church to appear on a balcony and bestow his first apostolic blessing.

County court adjourned today, having finished the business for this meeting. The court will meet again later in the month to attend to other road matters. A contract was let today for a large quantity of culvert pipe to be used in road construction work.

OPEN SEASON FOR CANDIDATES AT THE MAY PRIMARIES IS IN FULL SWING

Senator Eddy Urged to Run For Circuit Judge—Attorney J. O. Watson Is Avowed Candidate Also—Six Offices to Be Filled at the Regular Election.

Now that the horizon has been cleared of many pending problems following the holiday season, and people, generally, are "down to earth again," considerable campaign chatter is in evidence, not only among the "habitual politicians," but those conservative fellows who have the welfare of their party uppermost in their mind.

Owing to the fact that County Judge Quino was appointed by Governor Olcott to fill the unexpired term of former County Judge D. J. Stewart, resigned, this office becomes vacant and it will be necessary for the judgeship to be filled through the regular manner.

At the present time there is no semblance of anxiety either in the republican or democratic ranks, from an official source, regarding the general aspects of the coming campaign in this county.

The proposed retirement of Judge Hamilton opens the way for a new man to be elected judge. There is little news in this connection since the situation was explained in these columns some weeks ago.

At Roseburg, his district embracing a large part of the territory of this judicial district, and because of his several years of service in the senate, he is well known throughout the six counties of the judicial district.

Attorney J. O. Watson is a definite candidate for the circuit judgeship of this judicial district.

Members of the state's official family at Salem whose terms expire with the present year include Governor Olcott, State Treasurer Hoff, J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction; C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner; Fred A. Williams, public service commissioner; Chief Justice George H. Burnett and Associate Justice John McCourt and John L. Hand, the last two having been named to fill vacancies on the supreme bench.

There are three circuit judges to be elected at the November, 1922, election. Those whose terms expire are Judges G. C. Shipworth of Lane county, J. W. Hamilton of Douglas, and John S. Coke of Coos county.

District Attorney Geo. Neuner, Jr., is also being mentioned in connection with the circuit judgeship race, and there has been no definite statement yet made that he is not to be considered in the May primaries for the above office.
