Stage Drivers Beat Franchise

Feb. 4.—Salem stage drivers have defeated the city council's attempt to grant a franchise for their service, as the council's ordinance was defeated by a vote of 10-4.

Handsome Skipper Seeks Wealthy Wife

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—(United Press.)—The latest novel offer to become a wife, first come, first served, was made here by John B. Mulder, 31, handsome, master of five languages, and former lieutenant in the Dutch navy, who arrived here recently and registered at the Palace hotel.

John was looking for a wife, and here were his specifications: She must have $50,000, be under 35 years of age, and be ready for adventure. He announced that he would marry the first woman who met these specifications.

In addition to getting John as a husband, the prospective wife was offered a chance to engage in a regular Treasure Island venture, with pirates, buried sea chests, doubloons and Spanish pieces of eight all there in regulation style.

Seven years ago, according to Mulder's story, he befriended an old sailor on a windjammer in the Indian ocean. To show his appreciation for this treatment, the ancient mariner revealed to John the story of buried pirate treasure on the California coast—the treasure consisting of a number of sea chests bulging with Spanish gold.

For seven years John has tried to save enough to finance the treasure-trove expedition. He came to California and went to work, but thus far he has failed to accumulate the $40,000 which he believes necessary for the hunt.

The other day he got a bright idea—why not marry $40,000? So he came to San Francisco and put an ad in the paper.

Since then he has been besieged by hosts of young women, all of them, according to John, beautiful and winning, but all of them without the necessary four thousand.

So he's still waiting.

Just to show that he will regard the woman as a regular wife, he says that in truth, if the $40,000 girl arrives, she will be an "angel" to him.

Science Is Had Punishment

AND, Cal., Feb. 3.—(United Press.)—A tale of conscience which would cause those who might be written by a Poe or De Maupassant around the recent action of C. McDowell, former policeman, whose record with the force was excellent, recently was asked to be dealt with after from the United States years ago. He said that his name was Charles J. Swaney, who was enlisted in the 11th in 1917, and deserted while in the rank of corporal at Douglas, Ariz., in 1915.

Swaney, enlisted in the Army again in 1917, at the time of the war, and served over a year, was honorably discharged, but he is still classed as a deserter under the war department records and is the father of a family of five. He had talked over with his wife, and she decided to give himself

Frost Damage In Marion Co. Small

SALEM, Feb. 4.—Frost damage to loganberry vines has been slight, according to experts who have been in close touch with farmers since the heavy frosts a few days ago. There are but few vines which have reached above the ground in growth and these have not been severely hurt.

Some damage has been done to late sown grain in the lowlands because of the ground freezing, but no estimates are available.

The oat crop is believed to have suffered most.

The brocoli has suffered to some extent also, but before the damage can be estimated it is necessary for it to thaw out.

Own your own home and see how much better you feel. Page Lumber and Fuel Co. has material to build them and fuel to heat them.

Voting Contest to Close Tonight

Interest is high today in the phonograph contest being conducted at Fisher's store, and candidates and their friends are working hard. Ruth Burnett and Marie Vogelphol still lead the race, with Ruth Burnett slightly in the lead. The race has been close between these two with Miss Vogelphol, of Sutherland, ahead until today. The voting will close tonight at 9 o'clock, when the votes cast today will be counted, and the winner declared. A beautiful $125 phonograph is the prize. The standing of the contestants this morning was:

Ruth Burnett, 70,800; Marie Vogelphol, 65,900; Lela McComas, 36,100; Mrs. A. J. Ford, 30,100; Mrs. H. E. Haslett, 28,800.

GLENDALE NEWS.

Indications of a sunny day and a slight change in temperature at this hour, 10 a. m., are encouraging.

The series of earth tremors yesterday were the one theme under discussion and caused no fear to anyone.

The awful tragedy at Washington called for the heartfelt sympathy of all. And re noted with approval that our president deferred the celebration of the McKinley birthday dinner while so many were mourning for their loved ones. The heart of our leader is in unison with all of our bereavements.

Our city is prospering and indications of activity in mill circles are fine. Social gatherings are of every day occurrence. Our public schools are now aided by a fine parent-teacher association, which means so much along educational lines. Yes, we all read the News-Review and our city news, the Glendale News, and in their opinions and discussions relative to our county and city officials, we do not in any way join or express an opinion, the unexpressed opinion, while we read, and appreciate each of the papers, is and has ever been, our line of a correspondent. If we can't approve, at least we can remain silent. If we cannot say a good word, we will not speak at all.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid will meet Feb. 2nd, with Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Selmers at their home in this city. Important work is being considered by this society that is prospering.

Olivet church is holding regular mid-week church meetings that are very well attended and very interesting.

Dr. Fawcett has returned from a business trip to Portland and is in his office again. The general health of this city and valley is very good.

Glendale residents are much interested in the claim of Miss Jack Platner to her right as the only living child of the late F. O. Platner. By his will he bequeathed her $100,000 and the residue of a large estate goes to his widow, Mrs. Clara B. Platner, of San Francisco. How fine and motherly it would be if the step-mother would make suitable and equal division with his only child, who is a native of this city, and who is earning her living by driving. Miss Platner lives with her aunt, Mrs. Florence Dewey, near Glendale. She has many friends and relatives here, who thoroughly appreciate and sympathize with her, and hope she may fully establish her legal claim. She has secured the ablest legal talent in our state to carry on and prosecute her claim.

The Glendale State bank is one of our live, wide-awake institutions and invites deposits.

MOLLIE.

Mrs. N. J. Dale, who has been visiting in this city for the past few days with her daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Sturtevant, returned to her home at Dillard last night.

FARM NEWS

Oregon farmers needing the help of a specialist in determining the feasibility and probable profit in draining wet lands now have access to a newer and more economical source of competent help—the new state drainage extension specialist, George W. Kable has been transferred from agricultural agent of Benton county on recommendation of the O. A. C. extension service to fill the new position. He will endeavor to give help in the most satisfactory form to farmers in bringing their over-watered lands into profitable production.

"Mr. Kable is exceptionally well qualified by training and experience to conduct this new work," says Paul V. Maris, extension director, in announcing the policy. "He has had six years of training in irrigation, drainage, soil management and engineering, and a still longer experience in the field, mostly in western states and Alaska. Drainage reclama-

Ben Scovell at Antlers Tonight

One of the big attractions at the Antlers theatre tonight will be Ben Scovell, noted actor, who will give several of his best known readings. Scovell is a nephew of the late Sir Henry Irving, and a son of the late Very Rev. Frank Scovell, Dean of Salisbury England. With Irving he played in "The Merchant of Venice," "Macbeth," and others, with Wilson

Barrett in "The Sign of the Cross," and others, and with Richard Mansfield in "Henry V." He has also appeared with other famous actors.

During the world war Mr. Scovell acted as entertainer to the soldiers and sailors in Belgium, France, Great Britain, United States and Canada. He is very popular wherever he appears, and will delight theatre patrons tonight.

after a break with his father, a lawyer. He takes to the roof when his money gives out and lives and works there in a tent. He meets a girl (Lila Lee) who is in similar financial difficulties and a love affair develops.

Possibly it may be news to some that in New York there are one or two fine bungalows built on the tops of skyscrapers in the heart of the city—but these would command big rentals.

However—a tent ought to come cheaply. Why not try it out the next time you are facing a housing problem? The air is fine and the summer days would be cooler "up in the air." Howard Higgin directed this picture.

THREE ACTS OF VAUDEVILLE

In addition to the regular program at the Antlers theatre tonight, there will be three acts of vaudeville. Ben Scovell, the famous actor-entertainer will give several humorous readings; Delmar Luper, saxophone specialist, will play several numbers; and Prof. C. M. Sullivan, a new arrival in this city, will sing. The picture is Wallace Reid in "Rent Free."

PRESENT MOVIE STARS DIDN'T TWINKLE TEN YEARS AGO

Adolph Zukor and Sarah Bernhardt made their movie debut in "Queen Elizabeth," the former as producer and the latter as star, ten years ago. It was the first great five-reeler ever made and marked the beginning of the modern cinema industry. In March a big birthday celebration will be held in approximately 12,000 theatres throughout the country in commemoration of the tenth anniversary.

In this connection some surmise might be made as to what the stars were doing ten years ago. Here's what some of them did:

Wallace Reid was working as a pick-and-shovel man on the Shoshone dam in Wyoming.

Betty Compson was playing around the silver mine in Utah, near which she was born.

Dorothy Dalton was attending Sacred Heart academy in Chicago.

Thomas Meighan was making his debut as a stage actor with Henrietta Crossman, in Pittsburgh.

Gloria Swanson returned to Chicago with her family, after several years spent at an army post in Porto Rico.

Agnes Ayres was the reigning belle in the town of Carbondale, Ill.

William de Mille was writing plays for David Belasco.

Rodolf Valentino was attending a military academy in Taranto, Italy.

George Melford made a picture called the "Boer War," and spent $26,000 on it. This was a stupendous price for the day and almost broke the hearts of the Kalem officials.

Leatrice Joy was the prettiest girl in her class at a convent in New Orleans, La.

Lila Lee was attending public school in New York City.

Lola Wilson was hoping soon to

TURKISH HAREM

As a girl reared in a Turkish harem, and suddenly, at eighteen, transplanted into an atmosphere of British culture and sophistication, May McAvoy, in "Morals," which is showing at the Majestic theatre for the last time tonight, has one of the most appealing and delightful feminine roles ever shown on the screen.

Carlotta, the little Anglo-Turkish waif, is as wistful as Grizel, as picturesque as Little Lord Fauntleroy, but as full of childish mischief as Topsy and Peck's Bad Boy and Sis Hopkins all together.

What consternation her naive questions and frank remarks occasioned in decorous London drawing rooms only those can imagine who have dwelt with an "enfant terrible." Yet she readily won the hearts of those she most distressed.

WALLY LIVES ON THE ROOF

You who have had trouble with the landlord over raises in rent or who have found it impossible to rent a house at all, should consider the solution offered by "Rent Free." Wallace Reid's clever new Paramount picture which is to be shown at the Antlers theatre tonight only.

MF. Reid plays the part of a young artist who is in low financial straits
