

ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW

There's no substitute for circulation — The News-Review has over 20,000 readers

Consolidation of The Evening News and The Roseburg Review.

DOUGLAS COUNTY

An independent newspaper published for the best interests of the people.

OF ROSEBURG REVIEW.

ROSEBURG, OREGON, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1922.

VOL. X, No. 251, OF THE EVENING NEWS.

WIMBERLY PROPERTY SOLD FOR AUTO CAMP GROUND AND A SERVICE STATION

Commercial Auto Tourist Camp and Oil Standard Service Station to Replace Residence and Municipal Camp Grounds — City Will Retain Lease on Cardwell Property.

A deal long pending was closed today whereby the old Enoch Wimberly estate, owned for the past thirty years by Lee Wimberly, was sold to J. Young, who arrived in this city a year ago from St. Claire, Wis. The property sold includes the site of the auto camp grounds north of Deer Creek and west of Jackson street. A lease has been entered into by the purchaser with the Standard Oil company whereby the beautiful service stations will be built on the portion of the property now occupied by the Wimberly residence. The balance of the property will be improved for a commercial auto camp grounds and will be made one of the most beautiful spots in the northwest. The plans for the improvements have been completed and include shower baths, laundry trays, stoves, benches and tables, gravelled driveways, gardens, terraces, and many other beautiful conveniences which will doubtless make the camp grounds one of the best on the coast.

grounds will be made accessible in this way. This will give incoming tourist the privilege of choosing either the free camp grounds or the commercial grounds and it is quite probable that a system of cooperation will be worked out in the future so that a minimum fee can be charged for the privileges of the commercial grounds even though tourists are camped on the city's property. Work of moving the Wimberly residence and leveling and smoothing the camp grounds will be started at once. The Wimberly house will be moved to the rear portion of the tract on which it is now situated and will be used for residence purposes, probably to accommodate some of the employees who will work about the camp grounds and service station. The present site of the house will be used for the Standard Oil company's service station. This station will be somewhat similar to the one now located on South Stephens street. The beautiful gardens, hedges and shade trees surrounding the house, however, will be left intact, as far as possible and expert gardeners will make this place one of the beauty spots of the city. A representative of the Standard Oil company, who is here making plans for the erection of the station, says that it will be beyond question of doubt be the most beautiful Standard Oil station in the entire state and will compare well with the most attractive stations maintained by the company on the coast. The buildings will be of the same pattern and design as those now used at the Stephens street station, while the gravelled driveway, bordered by beautiful flowers and shrubs and the whole lot bounded by heavy hedges and shaded by tall trees will form a spot of exquisite beauty.

The camp grounds have also been laid out with the aim of bringing out the beauty to be found there. The grounds will be enlarged by opening up the rear portion of the property, giving fully 100 feet more in depth. The grounds are almost horseshoe shape and around the outer boundary will be provided the camp sites. The ground will be leveled and smoothed off and each camp site will be marked with tables and stands of permanent construction. These camp sites will be between the outer boundary and a beautiful gravelled driveway which will leave Jackson street just south of the Standard Oil station and will follow the shape of the tract entirely around connecting up with the city's property and reentering Jackson St., forming an oval.

In the center of the tract will be an attractive little park, in which will be situated the bath houses, laundry, and other buildings. Four gravelled paths will lead in from each direction connecting with the main gravelled roadway. Around the park will be a flower garden nine feet in width, built in the form of a circle, cut only by the four paths. Between the garden and the driveway will be additional camp sites. This arrangement utilizes the best of the camping sites and makes the best of the room afforded by the property.

Approximately 60 camps can be accommodated. This together with the camp grounds to be maintained by the city will give Roseburg facilities for accommodating about 100 tourist parties each night. It is believed that this will be sufficient room as many will prefer to use the camp grounds which the state highway department is to maintain along the highway.

There is no doubt but that this commercial camp ground will add greatly to Roseburg's beauty as every precaution will be taken to preserve the natural beauties to be found there. The stream which has been cleaned of refuse which has been dumped in it in past years, the undergrowth is to be cleared away and the large trees shown to the best advantage. All of the large shade trees around the Wimberly property will be left and the fruit trees in the rear will not be touched except the few which will be cut away to make room for the house which is to be moved to the back of the lot and remodelled. These changes will provide much shade and will preserve the attractiveness of the property. Experts in landscape gardening will lay out the gardens, hedges, etc. for the remainder of the grounds and will enhance the existing beauties by their additions.

Commercial auto parks are a new thing in the Northwest but have been found very practical in California where they are to be frequently found. Most tourist parties prefer to pay the nominal fee which is charged in order to obtain the bath and laundry privileges which the found quite enjoyable after hot dusty rides. The grounds are always kept carefully polished and attendants are on hand to look after the needs of the tourist so that satisfactory service is rendered in return for the small fee required.

Commercial auto parks are a new thing in the Northwest but have been found very practical in California where they are to be frequently found. Most tourist parties prefer to pay the nominal fee which is charged in order to obtain the bath and laundry privileges which the found quite enjoyable after hot dusty rides. The grounds are always kept carefully polished and attendants are on hand to look after the needs of the tourist so that satisfactory service is rendered in return for the small fee required.

Commercial auto parks are a new thing in the Northwest but have been found very practical in California where they are to be frequently found. Most tourist parties prefer to pay the nominal fee which is charged in order to obtain the bath and laundry privileges which the found quite enjoyable after hot dusty rides. The grounds are always kept carefully polished and attendants are on hand to look after the needs of the tourist so that satisfactory service is rendered in return for the small fee required.

Commercial auto parks are a new thing in the Northwest but have been found very practical in California where they are to be frequently found. Most tourist parties prefer to pay the nominal fee which is charged in order to obtain the bath and laundry privileges which the found quite enjoyable after hot dusty rides. The grounds are always kept carefully polished and attendants are on hand to look after the needs of the tourist so that satisfactory service is rendered in return for the small fee required.

Commercial auto parks are a new thing in the Northwest but have been found very practical in California where they are to be frequently found. Most tourist parties prefer to pay the nominal fee which is charged in order to obtain the bath and laundry privileges which the found quite enjoyable after hot dusty rides. The grounds are always kept carefully polished and attendants are on hand to look after the needs of the tourist so that satisfactory service is rendered in return for the small fee required.

Commercial auto parks are a new thing in the Northwest but have been found very practical in California where they are to be frequently found. Most tourist parties prefer to pay the nominal fee which is charged in order to obtain the bath and laundry privileges which the found quite enjoyable after hot dusty rides. The grounds are always kept carefully polished and attendants are on hand to look after the needs of the tourist so that satisfactory service is rendered in return for the small fee required.

William Jennings Bryan Will Make Race For Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Announcement of William Jennings Bryan's candidacy as United States senator from Florida is expected shortly, it was announced today. Bryan is expected to seek the seat now held by Senator Trammell, a Democrat. The Commissioner will have lived the requisite year in Florida by the time the primaries are held.

RIVAL OF PONZI FLEECES CHICAGOANS

Young Man Loses Savings of 6000 People In Get Rich Quick Deal.

OIL WAS HIS WATERLOO

Money Was Only Borrowed—Got Start With $250 and a Lucky Deal in Markets—Large Returns Were Paid.

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Raymond J. Bischoff, aged 25 years, detained here in connection with an alleged shortage of $4,500,000 as a result of dealings with six thousand residents of the "back of the yards" district, said he began with a lucky deal with a friend for $250. He said this friend begged him to play the market with the money and he consented, doubling the money in a week.

"I told my friends and immediately I was besieged with similar requests. That was the beginning of it," he said.

Bischoff, whose financial operations apparently rival those of Charles Ponzi, the Boston "wizard," breathed a huge sigh of relief when taken into custody.

The Central Trust company yesterday was appointed receiver for Bischoff. Felix Streckmann, attorney for the creditors, said he believed Bischoff's liabilities will run near $7,000,000.

Bischoff only 25 years old. Bischoff, only 25 years old, objected strenuously when it was suggested that he accompany deputy marshals to the section of the city where his creditors reside.

Bischoff told federal officials that he had been in trouble since last November and lost much of his money in several oil deals in which he said he was double-crossed.

Bischoff, by paying large returns on money borrowed in a few particular instances, gained a reputation as a financial wizard among the people with whom he dealt, according to federal agents. Profits of 40 per cent on short term loans were said to be common and Bischoff was said to have paid as high as 100 per cent interest.

Victims Hunt Speculator. CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—(A. P.)—While Bischoff was explaining to Judge Landis what became of the money entrusted to him, several hundred persons today stormed Bischoff's office, searching for the boy

(Continued on page six.)

Peril of Lying in Bed Too Long Seen By London Doctor

Peril of Lying in Bed Too Long Seen By London Doctor

(By International News Service.) LONDON, Feb. 13.—The peril of lying in bed is one of the latest ideas of doctors.

"Get up and move about," is the new prescription. Dr. R. F. Rowlands, surgeon to Guy's hospital, is the apostle of the "don't lie in bed too long" creed. He expounds it vigorously in the British Medical Journal.

It is people who have undergone operations who are in peril if they stay in bed too long.

"It cheers a patient," states Dr. Rowlands, "to know that he may move about as much as he likes in bed from the first, having the freedom of the room after four days, of the bath after seven days, and may take short walks in the sunshine after ten days."

Here are some of the bad effects of lying in bed, as expounded by the doctor:

- The heart beats less forcibly.
- Breathing becomes slower and shallower.
- Appetite falls.
- Digestion fails.
- Action of the intestines becomes sluggish.
- Muscles waste and lose tone.
- All these are reasons for not lying in bed, and Dr. Rowlands says that, as regards the healing of wounds, years of observation have convinced him that complete rest is unnecessary.

UTAH SENATOR IS SORE AT OREGON

(By United Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Senator King of Utah wants a showdown with President Oregon of Mexico, whose regime, he charged today, has driven 4000 Mormons from their peaceful colony in the southern republic. He would like to obtain recognition for Mexico on the following basis: Oregon's agreement to the appointment of a claim commission to settle America's claim; Oregon's agreement, in advance, to abide by the decisions of this body; and another agreement to give guarantees for future protection of American lives and property in Mexico.

ALPINE CLIMBERS STOPPED BY STORM

(By United Press.) PARADISE VALLEY, Wash., Feb. 13.—The first attempt of three Alpine climbers to scale Mt. Rainier in the winter failed when they encountered a blinding snow storm yesterday. They are now at Anvil Rock awaiting favorable weather.

"UNCLE JOE" WILL NOT MAKE CAMPAIGN

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon announced today that he would not be a candidate for reelection as representative of the 18th Illinois district.

SMOOT SAYS TAX DISPLEASES PEOPLE

(By United Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Senator Smoot today ventured an opinion that the proposed special tax method for raising money to pay the soldiers' bonus would be shelved and short time bonds be substituted.

The house ways and means committee is now considering this alternative, convinced that special taxes would be unpopular with the country. Smoot told Harding in plain words that taxes would displease the country at large.

Soldier of Fortune Will Keep His Job at Baldwin's and Punch Clock.

(International News Service.) CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 13.—"I shall stay and work at Baldwin's—how long I do not know," replied Anastase Andreitch Vonsiatzky-Vonsiatzky, 23, when questioned as to his intentions following his marriage to Mrs. Marion Stephens, 45, heiress to $40,000,000, in New York.

"The house at No. 505 Swarthmore avenue, where we will live, it is to be mine. I may take out citizenship papers for America, but that is not certain. I would return to my own country if they would restore the czar, for I am a monarchist. Affairs in Russia now are chaos—I do not even know if my brothers and sisters live. I have lived horrors. I have lived horrors. My wife is younger than her years, but I—I am older than my years, for I have seen men dying, suffering wounds, death!"

He shuddered and seemed to visualize the last stand of the shattered remnants of Admiral Kolchak's army against the encircling hordes of the Bolsheviks. Anastase was aide to General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak before they were overwhelmed in the rising Red tide.

Works as Chemist. Before his marriage Vonsiatzky lived like an average American here. He roomed at the Y. M. C. A., where each morning an alarm clock routed him from bed to time to punch the time-clock at Baldwin's before 7:30. In the big Eddystone shops he may be seen in acid-splattered overalls, at work in Shop No. 1, Contract No. 16, in his capacity as chemical helper. He is well liked by his fellow workmen, to whom he is known as "V. V."

Ever since he came to Baldwin's he has been working to establish the home at Ridley Park, on which he has paid a month's rent in advance. The love-nest for the $40,000,000 bride is of the familiar Pennsylvania Railroad school of Swiss architecture so frequently found in this section, but its lack of artistic merit does not bother Anastase.

He is proud of it and delighted to be ordering furniture for it from Camden. Also, he prides himself on the acquisition of a second-hand automobile. He paid $100 down on the car and displayed a telegram signed "Marion" to the salesman in which the balance of the sum of $1,400 was guaranteed.

Dislikes the Publicity. After several encounters with groups of newspapermen he has assumed a bored expression, which publicity says that he would rather face the hordes of Lenin and Trotsky ten times over than run the gauntlet of questions and telephone calls he has had to submit to since he sprang into the limelight.

Anastase prides himself on having been aide to both of the famous leaders of the "White" Russian forces. His romance with Mrs. Marion Stephens, wealthy divorcee, was the

TAYLOR'S NEGRO VALET BREAKS DOWN UNDER QUESTIONING IS REPORT

Detectives Declare That Slayer of Director Was Man—Shooting Was Not "Woman's Style" Says William Pinkerton, Head of Famous Detective Agency.

(By United Press.) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Breakdown of Henry Poovey, Taylor's negro valet, under questioning, and a report that he had predicted Taylor's murder, marked the hunt for the director's slayer today.

Detectives are now agreeing that a man did the deed. William Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton agency, declared that the shooting was not "woman's style."

The hunt seems concentrated again on Sands, the missing butler.

Run Down Clues. LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—The investigation of the slaying of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, proceeded today with what chiefs of the inquiry described as "a checking up of remote possibilities."

Detectives of the police department, district attorney's and sheriff's offices were dispatched upon a score or more of missions of this kind and most of them had checked up before midnight with the report that they had reached the blank wall which had been reached in every previous activity of investigation.

Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, said he had been in touch with most of the investigators during the day, and felt that little progress had been made, so far as a lodestone of who actually fired the shot which killed Taylor was concerned.

"We have several lines of investigation upon which a check will be made probably tonight, but it is impossible to state whether they are vital to the case," the district attorney said.

Reports Show Nothing. "I have been at home practically all day waiting to hear from the various groups of investigators, but up to the present time have had absolutely no report which gives any additional light."

Both the district attorney and Captain David L. Adams, head of the Los Angeles police detective bureau, said the man they were the most eager to find was Edward F. Sands, formerly secretary and butler of Taylor, who has been missing since last August. Captain Adams said he thought there could be no doubt now that Sands "is hiding for some good reason of his own."

"We have sent out descriptions of this man which must by this time be in the hands of every police officer in the country, and probably the same descriptions have been printed in newspapers in even the remotest sections," the captain continued. "I cannot for the life of me see why he should remain in seclusion if he has nothing to relate about the Taylor case. It is true he was accused of grand larceny by Taylor and that we still have such a charge on file against him here, but he is an intelligent man and must know what the ultimate result is upon the death of the complaining witness to a charge of such a character."

TEXTILE WORKERS PROTEST WAGE CUT

(By United Press.) BOSTON, Feb. 13.—Twenty-five thousand textile workers struck today in protest against a 25 per cent wage reduction.

LOVE IN A COTTAGE ENTERS LIFE OF WEALTHY AMERICAN DIVORCEE, WHO WEDS YOUNG RUSSIAN

(International News Service.) CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 13.—"I shall stay and work at Baldwin's—how long I do not know," replied Anastase Andreitch Vonsiatzky-Vonsiatzky, 23, when questioned as to his intentions following his marriage to Mrs. Marion Stephens, 45, heiress to $40,000,000, in New York.

"The house at No. 505 Swarthmore avenue, where we will live, it is to be mine. I may take out citizenship papers for America, but that is not certain. I would return to my own country if they would restore the czar, for I am a monarchist. Affairs in Russia now are chaos—I do not even know if my brothers and sisters live. I have lived horrors. I have lived horrors. My wife is younger than her years, but I—I am older than my years, for I have seen men dying, suffering wounds, death!"

He shuddered and seemed to visualize the last stand of the shattered remnants of Admiral Kolchak's army against the encircling hordes of the Bolsheviks. Anastase was aide to General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak before they were overwhelmed in the rising Red tide.

Works as Chemist. Before his marriage Vonsiatzky lived like an average American here. He roomed at the Y. M. C. A., where each morning an alarm clock routed him from bed to time to punch the time-clock at Baldwin's before 7:30. In the big Eddystone shops he may be seen in acid-splattered overalls, at work in Shop No. 1, Contract No. 16, in his capacity as chemical helper. He is well liked by his fellow workmen, to whom he is known as "V. V."

Ever since he came to Baldwin's he has been working to establish the home at Ridley Park, on which he has paid a month's rent in advance. The love-nest for the $40,000,000 bride is of the familiar Pennsylvania Railroad school of Swiss architecture so frequently found in this section, but its lack of artistic merit does not bother Anastase.

He is proud of it and delighted to be ordering furniture for it from Camden. Also, he prides himself on the acquisition of a second-hand automobile. He paid $100 down on the car and displayed a telegram signed "Marion" to the salesman in which the balance of the sum of $1,400 was guaranteed.

Dislikes the Publicity. After several encounters with groups of newspapermen he has assumed a bored expression, which publicity says that he would rather face the hordes of Lenin and Trotsky ten times over than run the gauntlet of questions and telephone calls he has had to submit to since he sprang into the limelight.

Anastase prides himself on having been aide to both of the famous leaders of the "White" Russian forces. His romance with Mrs. Marion Stephens, wealthy divorcee, was the result of a chance meeting in Paris, in which the air of romance surrounding the 22-year-old soldier made a deep impression on the heart of the one-time leader of Chicago north-side society.

Anastase's career as locomotive builder commenced some time ago, when a highly polished Hinesstone drove up to the offices of the Eddystone works and deposited him armed with a letter of introduction to Samuel M. Vaulain, president of Baldwin's. A conference with William Thomas, labor superintendent, followed, and the next day "V. V." as his fellows know him, started work on a leading gang in Shop No. 1, Contract 16.

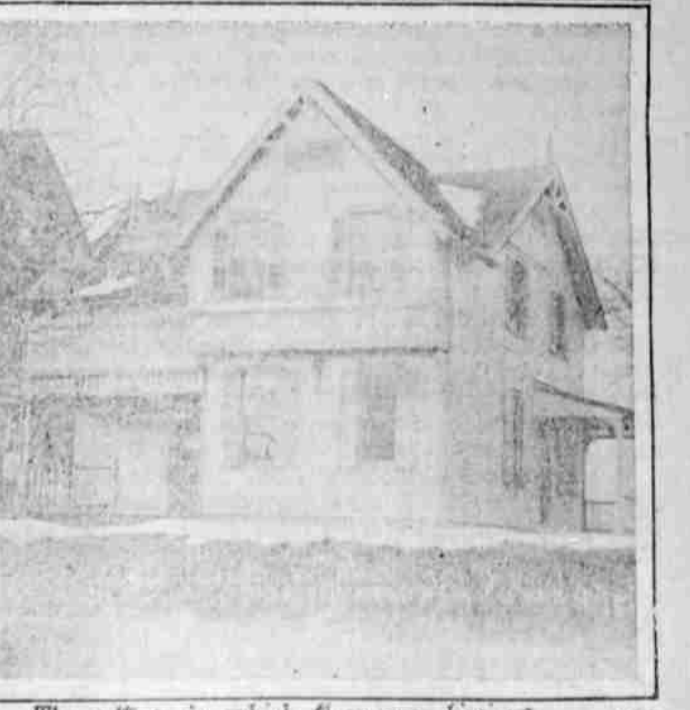

Hopes for New Czar. Since that time he has worked daily from 7:30 to 5. "I do not want my wife to live in any house but mine," he said, "paid for with my own money. The car she is to pay for—it will cost $1,500—the furniture also.

Building, young Vonsiatzky referred to his own fortune of 1,200,000 rubles, which he modestly values at $5. The aristocratic Russian family from which he descended formerly ruled over vast estates in Southern Russia. These were all seized by the Bolsheviks during the revolution, for the family were pronounced monarchists. Anastase himself, while a resident in Paris, following the collapse of Admiral Kolchak, wrote "The Diary of a Monarchist," which, he says, would not prove popular if published in this country, let alone in Soviet Russia.

He plans work to establish himself in a position where some day he may be able to be one of the leaders in the restoration of a new Czar.

Mrs. Anastase Vonsiatzky.

The cottage in which they are living.