

Les Schomaker Ill at Eugene

H. Schomaker, of the lo-Penney store, is in Merce at Eugene recovering from surgery operation performed last night. Mr. Schomaker was taken to Salem to attend the funeral of his father when he boarded the train and was taken to Eugene and removed to the hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Schomaker has had trouble with his health for several years, and was confined to his home several days. The worry over the illness and death of his father brought on another attack necessitating his being taken to the hospital at Eugene. His physician, Dr. R. P. Mortensen, of Portland, performed the opera-

Salvationists Are Coming to City

Officers and Mrs. J. W. Hay, the Salvation Army's Oregon divisional officers, assisted by Captain and Mrs. Anthony and their band, will arrive in Roseburg, Oregon, for a special service in the local hall of the Salvation Army at 311 North Jackson street, Friday evening, Feb. 24, at 7 o'clock. Officers and Mrs. Hay have been Salvationists for many years and have held many important positions in the of the Salvation Army in the United States and in Canada. Those who avail themselves of this opportunity to hear these speakers will feel well repaid for the effort put forth on their part in attending this gathering. Captain and Mrs. Anthony, newly appointed officers for the Eugene division, with their musical comrades will be in charge of the music both at the open air service and at the open air service which will be conducted at 7 o'clock on Cass street. Local officers, Captain and Mrs. Hay and their comrades, will be the visiting comrades in making the important Salvationist service the army's opening in Roseburg. There will be a band of 200 men and you are urged to come that you may obtain a good

MAN WOULD SEE WORLD

Methuselah, at 146, Refuses Consider Himself as Too Old to Travel.

Modern Methuselah, reputed to be the oldest man on earth, has started to see the world before he gets old to travel. Zora Mehmel, a hundred and forty-six years old, has arrived in Paris. The man who has been working pretty steadily for 140 years, is in excellent health and boasts of being able to carry a 200-pound weight. Zora produces identification papers to prove he was born in 1775. He refers to his closest competitor for longevity honors, a Sioux Indian in the United States, aged one hundred and thirty-seven years, as "a boy." Zora has a son ninety-two years old, and he has so many descendants that he long ago lost the aged Turk is a skeptic on the subject of matrimony. Having tried experience four times, he says he speaks with a certain amount of authority. "Women," said Zora, shaking his head bitterly, "women, they may seem sweet as the rosy dawn, but, verily, they are more often like thorns, hidden by a rosy exterior."

Lloyd George's Jokes on Himself.

Lloyd George has saved Lloyd George is his name of humor. He knows how to joke on himself. His favorite story is about a man who was the man who was a drowning person in the sea and explained, "Yes—I dived after him—got him by the neck—buried him over and found he was Lloyd George—and then I buried him over." His next favorite is the old Welsh farmer who walked five miles in Cricklade, where Lloyd George lives. "I'm going to have a drink at David," said this admirer. "Why don't you buy a great man?" "Why don't you buy a great man?" answered the farmer. "The farmer looked at Lloyd George and replied—"it's not a year that matters. Our Davids live near the pile."—P. W. Wilson, World's Work.

SHOWS ONE'S LOVE CAPACITY

"Telegraphone" May Be Used in the Future to Prevent Possibility of Unhappy Marriage.

One of the innumerable uses to which the "telegraphone," an invention announced by the Society of Electrical Development, may be placed is that of preventing unhappy marriages. The inventor himself, name not disclosed, believes that if it can be adjusted over the heart of the girl, her doubt-torn swain will be able to tell whether she is telling the truth or not. He had not invented a way of making the girl put this lie detector on.

The "telegraphone" records the breathing and heart beats. It magnifies irregularities caused by emotions and is regarded by criminologists as a sure method of catching lying witnesses. The lover suggestion is put forward by the inventor merely as an example of what science could do if permitted.

"When John grows doubtful of the reality of Joan's love for him," he says in his dry, academic way, "he can satisfy himself by having her heart flutters measured."

If the girl puts up a struggle at a suggestion that she wear this harness during an evening of courtship John may be sure that he is going to get several hours of lies. In that case there is nothing to do but doubt everything she says. Thus will unhappy marriages be prevented.

REMINDER OF MIDDLE AGES

English Clergyman Likely Will Have to Stand Trial on the Charge of Heresy.

Charges of heresy—with the possibility that England will have an ecclesiastical trial such as it has not known since the Middle ages—have been filed against the Rev. H. D. A. Major, principal of Ripon hall, a theological institute in Oxford, by the Rev. C. E. Douglas. Further action rests with the bishop of Oxford, with whom the charges have been placed.

The action grew out of an article by the Rev. Mr. Major, in which he said that the resurrection of Christ was a spiritual but not a physical happening. The Rev. Mr. Douglas charges him with "publishing doctrine contrary to the teachings of creeds and of holy scripture," and also "of importing into the Christian religion the teachings of the eastern mystic, Buddha."

The Rev. Mr. Major holds no benefice, so the case can not be tried through the bishops' court. The procedure which must be followed is the old "procedure by inquisition." Under this the bishop having received the information appoints "an inquisition of priests" to hear testimony.

The Rev. Mr. Major, since the filing of the charges, has announced he will defend his position.

He Was the "Goat."

One day last spring I attended a circus, and while looking for my seat prior to the start of the show, I chanced to walk through the arena. A young "blonde" lady came to me and asked me where the animals were on exhibition. As I pointed the correct directions she fell in a faint, right into my arms. I was badly confused and started to carry her to one of the platforms in the center of the immense coliseum. Then I heard roars of loud laughter. I dropped her and started to fan her with my hat, when, with all eyes on me, I realized that the young "lady" was a clown who had been amusing the audience before the start of the regular show and I was the "goat."—Exchange.

SAW SIGNIFICANCE IN MOLES

Writer of Long Ago Pointed Out the Meaning of Spots on the Human Anatomy.

Have you a little brown mole concealed somewhere about your anatomy that you sometimes show to your friends—and sometimes don't? Well, every little mole has a meaning of its own, according to a chap-book that was current in the eighteenth century, entitled "Dreams and Moles, With Their Interpretation and Significance" (printed and sold in Aldermarsh churchyard, Bow lane, London). Whether you are to be happy or unhappy, lucky or unlucky in life, depends upon where your little pet is located. Here are some of the interpretations given in the old chap-book:

A mole on the right shoulder denotes happiness to man or woman. A mole on the left shoulder denotes a man to be quarrelsome, but a woman to have many husbands.

On the left cheek denotes frankness in man or woman.

On the left ribs, especially in man, vanity and pride in woman.

Near the right shoulder, you are to be a slave to love if a man, and to be beloved of great men, if you are a woman.

A mole on the right side of the abdomen denotes riches for a man and happiness in marriage for a woman.

One under the right breast presages good fortune in your ventures; on the back, riches and honor.

A mole on the right arm denotes that you will rule your own household; one on your left arm, that you will be a slave to duty.

A mole on the right hip signifies good fortune in wedlock to man or woman.—Kansas City Star.

gene for the past several months, arrived in this city last night. Miss Parks has accepted the position of private secretary at the Douglas Abstract company and will remain in this city permanently.

Back From Portland—The Douglas county court returned last night from Portland where they met with the most serious officials regarding the appropriations for various roads to be built on a co-operative basis. Regarding the court's visit to Portland the Oregonian has the following to say: R. W. Long of Yoncalla, and Edwin Weaver of Myrtle Creek are in the city attending the state highway commission meeting. They are commissioners of the county. Since 1914 Douglas county has had more than $4,000,000 of road money spent under the direction of the highway commission. This is more money than any other county in Oregon has received from the state. However, the county court is haggling with the highway commission over payment of a few hundred dollars which the county owes the commission, and until this is settled the commission will hold up further work in Douglas county, including the contract which was about to be awarded to W. C. Stone.

Do not miss the playlet at the Christian church Sunday eve. by the young people.
