FOLK KNOCKED OUT
(By United Press.)
NEW YORK, March 3.—Harold G. Gage, negro heavyweight boxer, knocked out Kit Norwood in the second round of their scheduled 15 round fight here tonight.

and High Gym Floor to Be Played On
PORTLAND, March 3.—It has been decided that the Ashland high school gymnasium will be used for the basketball games of the same floor which has been heretofore.

The Salt Lake Bees have lost a valuable player in "Doc" Johnston, who was claimed at the waiver price by the Philadelphia Athletics. It was practically agreed earlier in the year that Johnston would be sold to the Bees. While Lane was east he consulted Jim Dunn of the Indians, and was told he could have Johnston provided waivers could be secured, but both the Athletics and Red Sox refused to waive. The Bees are thus without a first-sacker.

Angeles high schools on the Stanford circuit path on that date. About 40 athletes in all will make the trip. They will be chosen from Lincoln, Hollywood, Los Angeles and Polytechnic high schools, and will be accompanied by a complete battery of coaches, trainers and managers.

The contract offered Jim Thorpe, the star Indian athlete, by the Portland hall club is said to be filled in at one of the highest figures ever received by a minor league player. Thorpe is a sensational player, a good crowd-drawer, a fast base runner, but his fall from the majors is due principally to his inability to elude the ball for a high average.

She taught in the rural schools of Lincoln and Lane counties and was employed as instructor in the Baker schools for eight years, while Mr. Churchill was superintendent of the school there. ### OLD TREE IN CITY OF LONDON

Mulberry Planted Four Centuries Ago Still Flourishing in England's Grimy Metropolis.

That a tree which has entered its fourth century of life should still be flourishing in the heart of the west end of London is an interesting fact, apart from its historical associations.

King James the First, anxious to promote silk production in the metropolis, planted many young mulberry trees from abroad, over an area of nearly five acres, where Buckingham palace now stands, and the Mulberry garden, if it did not fulfill royal hopes, provided a place of public amusement, to which the people—including Dryden, the poet laureate—resorted to eat tarts and otherwise regale themselves. A mansion erected nearby was called Tart hall, apparently from the local associations referred to, and from this mansion many works of art found their way into Horace Walpole's collection at Strawberry hill, as is set out in the sale catalogue of 1842.

Touring Devastated Areas.

Large numbers of tourists have been keenly disappointed during the last year by the ruins of the war. Several have gone so far as to say that they were persuaded to visit the French battlefields by fraudulent statements. Not only do they find the battlefields a mere few miles in width in spots, but they find grass and flowers growing all over them, so that in many places they seem quite cheery, instead of having the desolately desolate appearance that one is led to expect from reading war books. Some tourists have been so sadly disappointed that they say they will never believe anything else they hear about the war; while others speak of the war with open contempt. Conservative students of the tourist problem agree that a new war ought to be staged for the special benefit of these people. Unfortunately they are of a type that is never seen on battlefields until wars are over, writes Kenneth E. Roberts in the Saturday Evening Post.

Spoiled Her "Makeup."

A few of my friends and I were playing in moving pictures as extras. We were very interested and slated over our "wonderful fame," and purchased every kind of makeup we had ever heard of. I had a new eyelash "beader" which I applied with a brush after wetting. I arrayed myself in splendor and went to fill a dinner engagement with one of my sharers of fame. A funny story was told and I laughed till the tears came. These tears wet the dashing black of my eyelashes and trickled down my cheeks, leaving a smears trail on my weebone face.—Chicago Journal.

The DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time,
INHALED as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested air passages.
VICKS STANDING OFFER
Vicks doesn't relieve every case. No remedy can possibly do that. But it is successful in so many cases that we have had for years this standing offer: Buy either the 35c, 75c or $1.50 size from your druggist. If you are not delighted with the results, mail us the top of the carton and we will cheerfully refund the purchase price. Or, if you wish to try Vicks before you buy, mail the coupon below for a free sample.

Prevent Spasmodic Croup

By the DIRECT Treatment, at Bedtime

MOTHERS who have adopted Vicks for children's cold troubles lose their old dread of Spasmodic Croup. One application at bedtime usually keeps croup away but, if an attack does come unexpectedly, the use of Vicks often brings relief in 15 minutes. Externally applied and quickly effective, Vicks is a wonderfully satisfactory substitute for the old method of nauseous dosing to induce vomiting. Vicks penetrating, stimulating, vaporizing action makes it invaluable in the same way for the cold troubles of all the family.

How Vicks Should be Used for the Children

Spasmodic Croup—At the first sound of harsh breathing apply Vicks over throat and chest, rubbing well in—then apply more, and cover with a hot flannel cloth. Arrange bed-clothes in form of a funnel so the vapors will be freely inhaled.
Children's Colds—Apply Vicks over throat and chest. Cover with a flannel cloth. Leave the clothing, and at night, the bed-clothing, loose about the neck, so that the rising vapors can be freely inhaled. Apply a little Vicks up the nose, and, if the throat is sore, have the child swallow a piece the size of a pea.

The Origin of Vicks

Twenty-five years ago, Druggist Lunsford Richardson, of Greensboro, N. C., seeking a better way to treat colds, hit upon a wonderful formula. He combined Camphor, Menthol and certain volatile oils in the form of a salve, so that when applied to throat and chest, it not only penetrated and stimulated like a liniment, but the ingredients were released as vapors by the body heat and inhaled directly into the affected air passages. This remedy, Vicks VapoRub, won instant local favor and its fame has spread, county by county, state by state, until now Vicks is a family standby from coast to coast and over 17 million jars are used yearly.

From the Ends of the Earth

Vicks contains valuable ingredients brought from distant countries—Camphor from Formosa, land of head-hunting savages; Menthol from picturesque Japan; Oil of Eucalyptus from far Australia; Oil of Juniper Tar from Bedouin haunts of Northern Africa; Oil of Thyme from smiling Southern France; Oil of Turpentine from Dixie; and penetrating healing oils from other foreign climes.

Good for a Host of Daily Ills

Vicks is good for congestion or inflammation, whether found in lining membrane or on the surface of the skin. Thus it is useful for dozens of daily hurts and ills of all the family.

For Deep Chest Colds, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis, Coughs—Vicks should be applied over the throat and chest—if necessary, first using hot, wet cloths to open the pores of the skin—then rubbed in well until the skin is red; spread on thickly and covered with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. If the cough is annoying, a small piece the size of a pea can be swallowed every few hours.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever—Vicks should be melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled, or a little can be applied up the nostrils and snuffed up the head.

Used as a Liniment, Poulter or Plaster—On account of its penetrative and rubefacient effect on the skin, Vicks has been found excellent for many minor ailments, such as Bites, Boils, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Frost bite, Itchings, Muscular Soreness, Poison Ivy, Sunburn, Headache and Sore Calloused Feet.
