Another Judge Says Divorce Laws PORTLAND MARKET Are Good-Says Strict Laws Would Result in Deluge of Divorce Cases.

(International News Service).

NEW YORK, March 2.—Diagnorizedly opposite views as to the best way of remedying or solving the "problem of the age"—marriage—are held by two modern Solomons of the New Yorksbench.

Judge Alfred J. Tally, of the Court of General Sessions, holds that more stringent marriage laws will result in fewer divorces. Senior Justice Leopold Prince; of the Eighth District Municipal Court, in answer to Judge

School District Leopold Prince, of the Eighth District Municipal Couri, in answer to Judge Tally, holds that stricter marriage laws would desuit in a deluge of di-vorces, and that easier divorce laws would result in a far happier condi-tion of life and living. tion of life and living.

"Did taxation without fermenta-lien make for a prohibition that pro-hibited?" asked Justice Prince. "Make Man Jump Over."

"Barriers of any kind only want to "Barriers of any hind only want to make man jump over them," he explained. "Make marriage laws stricter and you will have a similar effect to that produced by prohibition. Everyone known that there have been more hip-bottles and more drinking, even among young people, than ever before.

People want to be free to do as

"People want to be free to do as they choose. Legislative restraint imposed upon them that deprives them of their rights makes them want all the more to do a thing they are told that they cannot.

"Before a man and a woman are married both wear their best clothes, as it were. Both are on their best behavior. Neither shows his or her real self to the other. They cannot foresee what the other may turn out to be like after married life. And just as they themselves cannot foresee, noither can any law. For that rea-

"There have always been runaway marriages, and there always will be. Often they turn out to be happier marriages than those where the two have kept company for years before

What I advocate, then, is not son that even stricter marriage laws but easier diadeges from vorce laws. In the beginning of civilization, in the days of Moses, a man

This is not a selling campaign. We are not asking the farmer to buy out to listen to our story. Through this school we are offering him a furtion to his many many problems. It is a school of Power Farming.

There will, by Professor Gilmore of the Oregon Asricultural College, needing no introduction, who will talk to you on power mechanics.

Charles Harrison—one of the sate's oldest plow morn and the assistant manager of one of the world's biggest plow works, will help us solve our plow and cultivating problems.

Victor Nichols, who has been altending adonx Automobile and Aviation school is Portland for the past winter months passed through this city last night enright to be home all inpekway. The will spend some flux with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Nichols, at that place.
