HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

BACK TO DISPLACE BASEBALL

The short assembly held Wednesday noon was definitely decided by the high school should year give up baseball and devote time to the development of a new team.

Principal Taylor explained that the outlook for this year was of all events, while the possibilities were numerous. He explained that it would be impossible to equip and finance both teams, and one would therefore have to be dropped.

King was called upon to express his opinion upon the relative merits of the two activities and their advantages to Roseburg high. He stated that in his opinion there were many more advantages to track than to baseball. More would be derived from the equipment of a baseball team. More would be derived from the equipment of a track team. More would be derived from the equipment of a track team. More would be derived from the equipment of a track team.

THE SCHOLASTIC DEBATE

TO BE HELD APRIL 14TH

The next inter-scholastic debate in Roseburg will participate will be held in Eugene on the 14th of April. The opposing team will represent the North Bend high school. The question for debate is: "Resolved, that a graduated income tax should be a feature of state government in Oregon." The Roseburg team, composed of James McCracken and Delorne Parrott, has the affirmative of the question. This is the more difficult of the two, because the little material is available, but a comparatively new question. However, Miss Hollopeter is sparing no effort to obtain all available data which can be used by the team. She has sent requests for information and statements to the various Oregon senators and representatives as well as to the secretaries of state of the 48 states in the union. Replies are coming in every day and a great deal of usable material is expected in the event all the requests are answered.

HOW ONE GIRL USED THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

"You're not to give my little girl any more books to read—she's getting too stuck-up."

The librarian in the children's department of a public library in one of the poorer districts of a large city, was very much surprised to hear this from the mother of one of the most regular little visitors to her department.

"Too stuck-up? Why, how's that?"

"Yes," said the mother, "she's getting too stuck-up. Oiled her last good enough for her to eat off of now; she wants white tablecloths, if you please. And I tell you, I've got enough washin' and ironin' without having white tablecloths."

The librarian, with that rare fact which is an essential part of the make-up of a librarian, reached up to a bookshelf and took down a brightly-colored, attractive-looking little book.

"I'll tell you what to do," she said, "I have here a book on 'Housekeeping for Children.' Take it home to your little girl and make a bargain with her—she may have the tablecloths if she will wash and iron them herself."

The mother was a bit dubious, but she departed with the book.

A few weeks later she came in again to see the librarian and said in a somewhat gruff manner, but without being able completely to conceal the pride she felt, "Well, we've got the tablecloths and now she wants the napkins!"

A girl who is willing to wash and to iron tablecloths and napkins in order to have them in her home, won't stop at washing and ironing. We have no doubt that this girl read and mastered the whole of the book, "Housekeeping for Children," and at least one home became a happier place because one of its members attended the public library.—East and West.
