Entered as second-class matter May 17, 1920, at the post office at Roseburg, Oregon, under the Act of March 2, 1879.

ROSEBURG, ORE. MON. MARCH 29, 1922.

SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT

Some very definite figures to prove that the tide of business depression has turned and that the worst is over were made public recently by the president's conference on unemployment. Reports from the United States employment service bureaus showing the trend of unemployment in the entire country have been charted and indicate a distinct gain. The mass of statistics dealing with the hundreds of thousands of applicants and the jobs available for them, have been figured on a percentage basis, and it comes out that for every 100 jobs available at the various employment bureaus, there were 226 applicants in January, 205 in February, and 194 for the first ten days in March, showing a gradual drop. In other words, there were only jobs in January for 44 per cent of the applicants while in March the number had gone up to 51 per cent. Assuming that 3,500,000 were jobless in January, this shows work for 245,000 persons, or more than the population of Delaware. For every 100 registrations, 38 found jobs in January, 41 in February, and 43 in March. With the falling off in applicants there has been a corresponding gradual increase in the number for whom work is found, which figures out at a 5 per cent gain.

Officials of the conference are now a good deal concerned as to the best methods to bring about the salvage of the many men who, during the winter, have been forced from the independent into the dependent class.

"There is no doubt, I am afraid," said Arthur Woods, chairman of the emergency committee of the conference, "but that there are a great many thousands of men who have been entirely self-respecting and self-supporting but who have been driven through the stress of the times, without fault of their own, to become public dependents. From points of view both of humanity and of the conservation of man power of the country, these men must be helped back into the independent class. What are the best ways to do it is our problem today."

BENEFIT OF PIECE WORK.

C. E. Chambers, who was mechanical assistant to one of the regional directors of railroads under government control, testified the other day that the abolition of piecework in the railroad shops in 1919 was one of the worst things that ever happened to the railroad industry. The federal officials removed one of the best incentives to work, he said. A good many people oppose the piece work system in industry on the ground that it speeds up labor too fast, and forces a man to work at such a rapid rate as to exhaust his physical ability at a premature age. Yet it is a method of determining wages that enables a bright and competent worker to get high pay, and at the same time reduce the cost of his labor to the consumer. In Germany and Russia recent reports have told how socialist authorities had reached the conclusion that the piece work system, which had been mostly abolished, would have to be introduced again in certain industries. They call it "payment by results," and it is an effective way of expressing it. In an idea system of compensation, every man should get pay according to what he accomplishes. Many kinds of work contain so much fussy detail, that they could never be handled on a piece work system. But where a job consists of some regular operation that has to be done over and over again, it is an ideal method of determining wages, if a fair payment per piece is decided upon. The worker should not be crowded by forcing him to accept a price that requires him to labor on his nerve and with a feeling of strain in order to make fair pay. There is nothing gained by wearing a man out and casting him on the scrap heap. Human life is both too valuable and too sacred for that. On the other hand, some men will do two or three times as much as others. To pay all alike is preposterous, and their earnings should depend so far as possible on results accomplished.

The school election to put over the bond issue occurs next Saturday. Mark the date on your calendar and get out and vote—and vote right.

You cannot successfully conduct a modern school system without proper funds any more than you can run a Ford without a steering wheel.

BACK FROM LONG TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher and Mrs. William Bell, returned this morning from a three weeks auto trip through southern California and along the Mexican west coast. The trip was made in Mr. Fisher's auto and a wonderful time was enjoyed.

They report a delightful vacation and found roads very good with practically no trouble. They stopped last night in Grants Pass and came on into Roseburg this morning.

PUBLIC INVITED 10 to 12 GENTLEMEN 5

Dr. Prune Pickin's

By Bert G. Bates

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—

The farmer sells a load of wheat, And all the world grows fair and sweet.

He hums a couple of cheerful tunes,
 And pays the Grocer for his prunes.
 The Grocer, who has had the Blues, Now buys his wife a pair of shoes.

That Ten the Shoeman thinks God sent.

And runs and pays it on the rent.
 Next day the Rent man hands the bill.

To old Doc Carver for a Pill,
 And old Doc Carver tells his Frau That business is improving now.

And cheers her up and says, "My dear,

You've been quite feeble for a Year.
 I'm thinking you should have a Rest.
 You'd better take a trip out West."

And in a day or two the Frau Is on the farm of Reuben Howe.

She pays her board to Farmer Howe, Who takes her bill and says, "I'll vow,

Here's something that just can't be beat—

This bill's the one I got for wheat."
 He hums a couple of cheerful tunes,
 And goes and buys a lot more prunes.

BROADCASTING JOLLY JOKES.

Radio entertainment is all the vogue since the perfection of broadcasting apparatus and amplified receiving instruments. Programs of diverse nature are daily and nightly "cast" into the air to be "caught" by professional and amateur radio enthusiasts alike. Broadway stars are putting on their complete productions at the big broadcasting stations. Statesmen and eloquentists are reciting at KDKA or WGL. Comedians joke at KYW or WJZ to send out laughs to millions in all directions. This is not the first or only time that jokes have been sent broadcast in our land of the free, brave and jolly. Now, and for over three years past, the latest jokes and quips of the world's wisest wits have been shown broadcast throughout the U. S. A. via the movie screen in "Topics of the Day" films. And these screen laughs may be enjoyed by millions who do not possess radio equipment. The radio is a wonderful invention but you need only to use your eyes to "catch" these jokes PDQ.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

THANKS KU KLUX KLAN

Editor Roseburg News-Review:

Last Sunday just at the commencement of our evening service we were surprised to notice two members of the local K. K. K. approaching the platform, and quietly handed to me a letter which read as follows:

"Believing in the tenets of the Christian religion and our motto being 'Non Silba Sed Anthar' (not for self but for others), we are taking this means of showing our appreciation of the sacrifices you and your family are at this time making for the good of the cause.

We trust you will accept this small gift in the spirit in which it is given, and use it in any way you see fit.

"Yours for pure Americanism.

(Signed) "Fred M. Simonton, Roseburg Prov. Klan, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan."

After having partly recovered I thanked them as they left, and read the letter publicly.

I was recently in receipt of a letter from a Salvation Army officer in Tacoma, Wash., in which he states that he was captured by the Klan, carried away and was very solemnly made a present of a $100 bill to use in the S. A. work as he saw fit.

I wish to express to them publicly my appreciation for their kindness as our financial burden recently has been hard to carry, and I invite them to "come again, and often."

In service for the Master, CAPTAIN CLARENCE FORD.

A FAIR OFFER. ACCEPT IT.

I extend a cordial invitation to anyone suffering with catarrh to call and see Hyomel. I will refund the money if Hyomel does not relieve. W. F. Chapman.

The local chamber of commerce is in receipt of a letter from E. E.
 Faville, chairman of the 1922 Rose Festival committee, in which he encloses a large sheet of white stationery with the words Roseburg Chamber of Commerce and a blank line for the signature of the president.

In his letter he asks that this sheet be signed and returned and states that these sheets are being sent to the different chambers throughout Oregon and will be sent to President Harding as an invitation to the president to be present at the Oregon Rose Festival in Portland June 9th, 1922.

The sheet was signed by J. W. Hamilton, president of the local chamber, and is being returned to Mr. Faville today.

Mr. Faville also says in one paragraph of his letter: "Kindly convey to the people of your community, through your city papers and by other means, the message of good will and cooperation to participate in the Rose Festival both by their presence in Portland and if possible by an entry in our grand floral parade."

 ing of the marriage of Miss Olive was used and after hearty congratulations Mrs. Bailey served the party a lovely luncheon. Mr. and Mrs.

 Myrtle Creek girl and Mr. Schram is
