Mrs. Roy Bellows Charming Hostess

One of the most brilliant luncheons of the season was given today at the home of Mrs. Roy Bellows in west Roseburg. Mrs. Bellows was a very charming hostess and her luncheon served at 1 o'clock consisted of all the dainties of the season. A color scheme of yellow was used in the decorations and the table was beautiful with clusters of many colored spring blossoms with the yellow blossoms predominating. Place cards with French girls wearing large bouquets were very appropriately used in carrying out the Easter suggestion and with yellow baskets filled with candy and nuts were used to mark each cover. Mrs. Bellows was assisted in serving at her luncheon today by Mrs. George Dolter and Miss Gertrude Rast. At the luncheon tomorrow the hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Stanley Kidder and Mrs. Charles Wharton. The guest list for the two days includes Mrs. J. F. Barker, Mrs. I. G. Broadway, Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mrs. R. L. Gile, Mrs. S. A. Sanford, Mrs. Lee A. Wells, Mrs. Harry Stapleton, Mrs. Stanley Kidder, Mrs. J. E. Sawyer, Mrs. Walter Hamilton, Mrs. J. W. Perkins, Mrs. George Dolter, Mrs. Dexter Rice, Mrs. L. B. Skinner, Mrs. G. A. Johnson, Mrs. George Bradburn, Mrs. Bert Gruen, Mrs. H. C. Waddell, Mrs. Harry Hildeburn, Mrs. Nathan Fullerton, Mrs. T. W. Graham, Miss Gertrude Rast, and the hostess, Mrs. Roy Bellows.

Let Roseburg's future be reflected in her schools. Vote for the bond issue Saturday afternoon at the high school.

Surprise Dinner for Mr. Hyland

B. L. Hyland, manager of the Standard Oil Co's plant, was pleasantly surprised last evening with a birthday dinner at his home on Oak street. The dinner was sponsored by Mrs. Hyland, and was a complete surprise to her husband. The fourteen Standard Oil Co's employees in this city were the invited guests. The delicious five-course dinner was served at 6:30 at a table made beautiful with a large cluster of red roses. Mrs. Hyland was assisted in serving by Mrs. B. H. Laird. Following the dinner the guests presented Mr. Hyland with a musical instrument.

Klansmen Advertise Coming Lecture

Two Ku Klux Klansmen in regular parade the streets for about two hours last night on horseback advertising the Ku Klux Klan picture which is to be shown at the Antler's theatre tomorrow, Friday evening. The picture, "The Face at Your Window," is attracting a great deal of attention wherever it is being shown in connection with Mr. Sawyer's lecture on this subject. Indications are that the Antler's theatre will be crowded to the limit, and it is quite possible that the lecture and picture will be given on Saturday night also if suitable quarters are procured for the second evening.

Is Roseburg going to be a one horse town by turning our schools back twenty years.

STORES ARE ROBBED.

Stores at Oakland and Wilbur were robbed last night by transients. At Oakland revolvers, knives and razors were taken and at Wilbur several pairs of overalls, shoes, socks and other articles of clothing were appropriated. From evidence gathered by the officers it is apparent that both robberies were committed by the same party, presumably some one traveling by automobile.
