Three Bills to Be Put Before Voters by League Working for Tax Reduction

SALEM, Or., April 5.—General reduction of taxes in Oregon through the initiation of several measures to be submitted to the voters at the general election in November was the program outlined here today at a meeting of the so-called committee of seven of the tax reduction clubs of the state.

The committee was appointed following a meeting of the State Tax-Reduction League held in Portland recently, and is composed of J. C. Cooper of McMinnville, W. H. Strayer of Baker, J. D. Brown of Portland, S. H. Vantrump of Salem, F. H. Porter of Halsey, Christ Scheubel of Oregon City, and A. Slaughter of Salem.

At least three initiative measures will be initiated by the league, it was announced at the close of today's meeting. One of these will seek to repeal the 1920 millage tax for the equalization of taxes. Another measure will be for amendment of the constitution so as to prevent the legislative assembly from referring any measure to the people except amendments to the constitution.

The third measure will seek to amend the constitution so as to provide for a two-thirds affirmative vote for the authorization of bond issues.

The committee of seven went on record as favoring the proposal of the state grant to initiate a graduated income tax at the November election. To assist the grange in preparing and carrying this measure to a successful termination, the committee of seven appointed a sub-committee composed of Mr. Brown, Mr. Scheubel and Mr. Slaughter.

This sub-committee was authorized to prepare the several initiative measures to be submitted to the voters through the tax reduction league.

The committee of seven discussed the finances of the state at some length and announced that an effort probably would be made to abolish the emergency board.

It is likely, it was said, that the abolishment of the board will be attempted through an initiative measure, although final decision to this end was not made at today's meeting.

The organization committee of the tax reduction league also met here today and outlined plans for the systematic organization of the entire state. The plan provides for a central committee in which all organized counties will be represented. An official newspaper of the league will be launched in the near future, it was said.

Mr. Cooper, who was the founder of the tax reduction league in Oregon, said tonight that he did not anticipate any difficulty in perfecting a substantial state organization. He said he had received hundreds of letters lauding the program of the league, together with many offers of assistance.

Judge Says Divorces Should Not be Final for One Year

By JUDGE THOMAS F. GRAHAM,
Judge of the Superior Court,
San Francisco.
(Written for the International News Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The present law denying the final or true decree of divorce until a year shall have elapsed after the granting of the temporary or interlocutory decree works excellent results. It blocks the impetuous "affinity" marriage, giving the erring couple time to realize what they are doing and the penalty of flying into the face of decency. Since in the meantime the action may be discussed at the motion of the plaintiff, it affords a year's time in which past grievances may be forgotten.

Apart from its contradiction, selfishness, cowardly baseness and cruelty, divorce is to be condemned because it leads to the decadence, the shame and destruction of the family. Marriage is the bond that holds the family together. It is the foundation and the rampart of the family. Divorces sunder this tie, shatters this foundation and overthrows this rampart; and as a last consequence, degrades society, if it does not ruin it entirely.

"Dissolution of Family." The very word divorce implies the dissolution of the family. Now, the living bond of the family consists in the conjugal union of a man and of a woman. From this union the family emerges and becomes an integral part of society.

The perpetuity of the family lies in the permanence of the union of the spouses. Take away this permanent union and the family dissolves, breaks up and perishes. Chaos and anarchy reign under the roof whence unity and stability have flown.

And divorce brings about this very effect. It dissolves permanent unity, untwists the woven cable that holds together the little domestic fraternity, and loosens the chain that binds conjugal society. Divorce, then, is dissolution, rupture, schism, which, sooner or later, brings about the total ruin of the family.

"Shatters Family Basis."

Divorce not only sunder the family bond but shatters the family basis. Duty is the basis of domestic order, as it is of public order. If this elementary idea be removed the family is left foundationless. To say that divorce is sanctioned by some laws and consecrated by some religions is to say that duty is powerless to sustain the family and to govern souls.

To proclaim liberty of divorce is implicitly to proclaim that duty is secondary, and that sentiment is the prime essential for the family. In emotion, laid down as a rule and supreme explanation of marriage, are advocated in all those disclosures and books that boldly preach the unlimited facility of divorce, and that insolently declare that marriage is a servitude, and that duty is a tyranny.

Such doctrines make marriages depend upon chance or passing whim.
