"PETTING PARTIES."

Many parents feel disturbed because of the easy going manners said to prevail among the young people, with the mushy tendency of some girls to hold themselves cheap. A chief purpose of the family automobile in these times, it is claimed, is to take the on their so-called "petting parties."

It may be remarked that there is nothing new about this, and pot all the defense of the latest the solution of the latest the young crowd out into the dark country where they have a loving time on their so-called "petting parties."

Those who are active in are winning out on the field of sports, or ranking high in their studies, or winning attentions in the business field. There is something abnormal about premature sex interest, and it tends to dull ambition and create lack of interest in achievement.

Parents who want their children to attain real success will caution them about free manners, and try to divert their interest to more wholesome ideas. The city mothers try sympathy, encouragement, and personal attention to the needs of each case, and make an effort to win these young people back to parents and community.

These city mothers find that one great cause of delinquency is the unprotected home, where both father and mother go out to work and leave the children to their own devices. The ideal home has the mother at hand to direct the children, but if she must go out, the children need some wholesome and absorbing activity to take up their attention.

AMERICANIZATION WORK.

The chamber of commerce of the city of Rochester, N. Y., has set a fine example of good work in Americanization. It has an education committee that recently conducted a "learn English drive." There were 250 teams organized to secure recruits to learn English, and 2000 aliens pledged themselves to attend these

The "know your country" committee held six meetings during January among the foreign population, attended by 5500 people. Five big dinners are given annually for newly naturalized citizens. Business men mingle with and welcome the new citizens. Business men mingle with and welcome the new citizens and 1000 of the latter attended such dinners in 1921. To accomplish the Americanization of our alien groups, personal friendship toward these people must be shown, and they should feel that the toward these people must be shown, and they should feel that the old residents welcome them and desire to see them attain success.
