ABOUT "BLUE LAW" PROPAGANDA

Roseburg, Oregon,
April 18, 1922.

To the Editor:

Will you permit a few remarks in your columns regarding the innocent looking little "blue law" which it is proposed to put over on the people of Roseburg. This law is ostensibly being sponsored by disinterested parties, but it is safe to say that religion in some form or other is behind all such laws.

One of the most striking things about all religious beliefs is the fact that the holders of such beliefs are so anxious to have the balance of mankind follow their particular creed that they will go to any extreme to put their ideas over.

In the good old days when one religion or another was in power in every country and the people of the world were actually ruled by religion, sufficient force was always used to maintain that power and wherever force was found to be necessary there was no limit to its application. No one knows the number of people who have given their lives because they were unable to conform to some religious belief or other, no doubt it was millions. And there can be no doubt but that Christianity including the religion of Jehovah has just as many if not more scalps in its belt than any religion ever conceived by man. This does not apply to any particular creed or denomination of the Christian faith but is equally true of all denominations in any country and at any time wherever any particular creed has been in absolute control; nor is there any religion or denomination of religion in America today but would turn our nation into a madhouse in short order, given the majority of the population as members and the lawmaking powers in its hands. Put a particular creed in the saddle and see how they'll ride.

There was a vigorous reaction to this sort of thing, especially in America, about the time of the Revolution. Religious power in law-making was finally crushed, and all religious ideas were compelled to depend upon their attractiveness and the oratory of their ministers for the addition of new members to their rolls. This is as it should be, for an idea crammed down a man's throat is certain to upset his digestion.

But the exponents of religion are not satisfied with the present order of things, they are ever watchful for opportunities to increase their control over the people. Church attendance is the very essence of their existance. Any law that will exert an influence to increase attendance is desirable. People must first be brought into the holy sanctuary before the devil chasers can get in their work. But once within the house of worship the subtle and masterly oratory of trained spellbinders can be depended upon to appeal to your sentiments, fears and superstitions in such a way as to insure your regular attendance and tithe thereafter.

All through the ages laws have been framed having for their purpose the bringing of the masses within striking distance of the pulpit and among the most frequent of such laws are those designed to stifle "Sabbath" competition. Renewed efforts along this line are to be expected now that workers are demanding and for the most part have wrested from their employers one day of rest out of each week. It is sought to make unlawful any and all recreation not approved by the ministers of the gospel. Which means of course that if you leave your shack at all on Sunday you must go to church and swell the contributions and listen to hot air for a few hours.

The latest attempt in Roseburg is a subtle effort to slide through the council an ordinance closing theatres on Sunday. If this attempt is successful we may look for a drive on all games, and sports of all kinds, and if you want to know where normalcy in this direction lies just read over some of the laws written and passed when Protestants were in complete control of the law making power in America, Scotland and England, or when Catholics were in control of other nations of Europe, the Mormons in Utah, the Domicites in Zion City, in fact anywhere or at any time that religion, regardless of faith or denomination has been actually in power.

It is up to the people of Roseburg to resist in a manner that will not be misunderstood every effort of any creed or group of creeds to write any religious laws on the books of our city council.

Any law having for its object special privilege to any sect, class or belief is unfair to the rest of the people, and well meaning people who are inclined to support such laws should be reminded that according to our last census more than 55 per cent of our people registered themselves as not being connected with religion of any kind.

Every liberty loving citizen should make his protest heard by the city council, in the way of letters and petitions.

Yours truly,
FREE THINKER.

TRUE DA VINCI IN LOUVRE?

Museum Director Scoffs at Theory That Famous Painting Has Been Brought to America.

Artists and friends of the Louvre museum may reassure themselves. The original of Leonardo da Vinci's painting, "La Belle Ferronniere," hangs in the museum and is not in America. This on the authority of D'Estournelles de Constant, director of national museums.

"This is an old story," said the director. "It is not the first time that the authenticity of our masterpieces has been questioned by foreign collectors. There seems to be no way of putting a stop to the habit.

"The painting entered among our collections under the title of 'La Belle Ferronniere' was certainly from the brush of Leonardo da Vinci himself. It was among the art treasures of Francis I and, in 1612, Pere Dan, the king's minister of finances, identified it as the portrait of the duchess of Mantua. Certain historians, on the other hand, have maintained that it was that of Lucrezia Crivelli. It is generally conceded today that the picture represents La Belle Ferronniere, one of Francis I's favorites.

"Whoever it may represent, however, the painting had always hung in the private apartments of the king until it was transferred to the Louvre. Its authenticity might possibly have been questioned had it been stolen at any time. But no such misadventure ever occurred to it."—From Le Petit Paris. (Translated for the Kansas City Star.)

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

To the Voters of Douglas County, Oregon:

I hereby announce my candidacy on the republican ticket for the office of County Judge at the primary election to be held on the 19th day of May, 1922. I ask your support upon my record as County Judge for eleven months, and also upon my record as Sheriff and Tax Collector of Douglas County for ten years. If I am nominated and elected I will discharge the duties of my office faithfully and endeavor to conduct the affairs thereof as economically as is consistent with good business judgement, equalize the assessments so as to distribute the tax burden more evently and see that one hundred cents' worth of work is received for every dollar expended in the construction of roads, and that the bond money shall be expended where it was voted by the people of this county.

(Paid Adv.) GEO. K. QUINE.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

A thorough business administration of county affairs, with strict retrenchment in the conduct of each and every department pertaining thereto, is the only platform I have to offer to the voters of Douglas county. If nominated and elected I will carry out an administration strictly along business lines. If this is the kind of an administration taxpayers desire, I respectfully solicit your vote at the May primary election.

(Paid Adv.) W. E. ST. JOHN.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the republican nomination for the office of county surveyor at the primary election to be held on May 19, 1922. If I am nominated and elected I will during my term of office render an efficient, economical and courteous administration and will make a complete duplicate record of all surveys as required by law, and will work for the best interest of the voters and taxpayers of Douglas county. HARVEY L. EPPSTEIN.

(Paid Adv.).

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

To the Voters of Douglas County:

I hereby announce my candidacy, on the republican ticket, for the office of County Surveyor at the primary election to be held on the 19th day of May, 1922.

I have been connected with this office about one half of the time since 1911, and for the past ten years have been engaged on highway and land surveys. I have thoroughly studied the laws pertaining to property lines, and if nominated and elected, I will employ enough efficient help so that applications for surveys will receive prompt attention. I will make legal and accurate surveys, durably marked on the ground, and file complete and accurate records in both the surveyor's and clerk's office. I ask your support upon my record for honesty and fair dealing with those who have previously employed me throughout the county. JESSE W. COLE.

(Paid Adv.).

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the republican nomination for County Commissioner, subject to the will of the voters at the primary May 19, 1922.

I believe in tax reduction and retrenchment along all lines where possible. I believe in giving the taxpayers value received for their money, and that every road district in the county should have its just share of road money.

Also believe in developing the resources of the county along practical business lines.

If elected I promise an active administration of the county's affairs.

Pd. adv. C. O. GARRETT.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the republican nomination for County Commissioner at the primary convention to be held on May 19, 1922. I pledge myself to a progressive and economical administration and will do all within my power for a reduction of the tax burden.

(Paid Adv.). EDWIN WEAVER.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the republican nomination for the office of State Representative, fourth district, at the primary election, May 19, 1922.

A. E. SIBBIA.

WILL ARRIVE THIS EVENING

Phil Metscham and wife, accompanied by their daughter, Phyllis Ann, will arrive in Roseburg this evening to remain here for a brief visit as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Weaver, of the Hotel Umpqua. Mr. Metscham is making a tour of the southern part of the state in the interest of a reduction in telephone rates and the abolishment of the public service commission, making the commission appointive, instead of elective. He is president of the Oregon Hotel Association, which is also taking a very active part in the reduction of telephone rates.

News Stand to Change Location

As soon as the alterations are made to the Douglas National Bank building, Miss Agnes Pitchford will move her news stand from its present location on Jackson street to Cass street where it will be located in the bank building, and Tom Weatherford will increase his cigar stand to include both of the window spaces in front of his barber shop.

The interior of the bank building is being remodeled and the president's office will be moved to the Jackson street front. The present office on Cass street will be made over into a stand for Miss Pitchford who will increase her line of magazines and periodicals and will also take up other lines. She will handle kodak supplies of all kinds and will also specialize in children's periodicals and novelties.

Mr. Weatherford will install new fixtures in his cigar and tobacco stand and will increase his facilities for handling the trade. The change is expected to be made about the first of the month.

"Boys will be boys, and girls will be girls."

BASEBALL MEETING TONIGHT

All persons interested in baseball are urged to attend a meeting to be held at the Armory tonight at which time the matter will be thoroughly taken up and discussed. The American Legion committee has called the meeting and will place the matter before the fans. It is expected that one or more city teams will play Sunday baseball, as there appears to be considerable demand for Sunday ball. If this is formed the team will be in addition to the twilight league sponsored by the churches which will hold games in the evenings of week days.
