

MAKING STRENGTHS FIGHT TO KEEP DIAMOND LAKE OUT OF A NATIONAL PARK

Strong Resolutions Passed by Roseburg Chamber Last Night Exploring Reversal of Decision of Portland Chamber—Fighting to Save Wonder Resort of County.

Protesting against the annexation of the Diamond Lake country to the Crater Lake National Park and decrying the action of the Portland chamber of commerce in reversing their decision on the project, the Roseburg chamber of commerce last night passed strong resolutions which were forwarded today to the various chambers of commerce throughout the state and to the Oregon senators at Washington, D. C.

When the proposition of annexing Diamond Lake to the Crater Lake park was first suggested and brought before congress the local chamber of commerce immediately took action to block it and passed resolutions setting forth their objections. The Portland chamber of commerce then notified the local chamber that they would conduct an investigation from a neutral standpoint and report the result in resolutions. This was done and in a short time very strong resolutions were drafted by the Portland organization unholding the viewpoint of the Roseburg chamber. This strong pressure was brought to bear upon the Washington senators and in view of the public opinion expressed it was believed that the matter was closed as far as congressional action was concerned.

Then came the thunderbolt from a clear sky. The Portland chamber of commerce, after expressing their opinion in the strongest terms, started to "back water" and reversed themselves. A new set of resolutions were drafted by them favoring the annexation of the vast area of Diamond Lake into a national park and setting forth their reasons in flowery language which was absolutely contradictory of their former decision.

The Roseburg chamber of commerce was astounded by this action and for that reason last night passed the following resolution:

Whereas, heretofore the chamber of commerce of Portland, Ore., passed resolutions protesting against the inclusion of the territory embraced in and adjacent to Diamond Lake within the boundaries of Crater Lake National Park; and

Whereas, the said chamber of commerce of Portland did set forth in said resolutions that said Diamond Lake country is now under the supervision of the forestry service, and being under this service is opened to the public with fewer restrictions than it would be under the national park service, and that the forestry service is not restricted by appropriations for any particular project and therefore has more freedom in developing sections of the country most needing development; and

That under the control of this forestry service the natural resources of this section, such as the cutting of ripe timber, the acquisition of power sites, etc., would continue to be open to the public and

That under the forestry service there are fewer restrictions on the use of this land for recreation purposes, than under the national park service; and

That Diamond Lake is a natural reservoir for storing and regulating the flow of the North Umpqua river, the power of which river will at some future time be developed to supply electric energy for that part of the state; and

That the inclusion of this territory in the Crater Lake National Park would preclude this power de-

CONDEMN DELAYS OF COMMISSION

Legion Declares Loans for Vets Are Wound Up in Red Tape.

APPEAL TO GOV. OLCOTT

Direct Resolutions to Governor Urging Him to Make His Commission Function Without Delays—Cases Are Cited.

Appealing to Governor Olcott to use his power as governor to force the state bonds and loan commission, appointed by him to expediate their work in allowing loans on property of the veterans and charging that the commission at present is hindering the actual intent of the bill as passed by the voters, Umpqua Post No. 16 of the American Legion last night adopted vigorous resolutions which were forwarded today to the governor.

Umpqua Post intends to carry through the fight for veterans, contending that the voters passed the bonus and loan measure for the benefit of the ex-servicemen and that action on appropriations should not be delayed and that unnecessary red tape should be eliminated.

The resolution, which follows, will be sent to all of the legion posts, with the request that they join in the fight to force the committee to function without long delays:

Whereas, the legislature of the state of Oregon, at its 1921 session and the people of the state of Oregon, at the election held on June 7, 1921, concurred in extending to the veterans of the late World War and to their dependents the aid of the state of Oregon for their industrial rehabilitation, and to that end provided for a certain cash bonus or property loan to such veterans or their dependents;

Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of said statute, Hon. Ben W. Olcott, governor of the state of Oregon, appointed certain persons to be members of the World War Veterans State Aid Commission, to administer said aid;

Whereas, the administration of said state aid statute by said commission has given rise to general dissatisfaction throughout Douglas county by reason of the fact that, although said commission has now had several months in which to begin disbursements of the funds entrusted to its hands and all things to be done by the agents of said commission, to-wit, its appraisers and attorneys, and by the veterans have been done, still said commission has not yet made a single loan, to the knowledge of the members of this post;

Whereas, having made application for the state loan and relying on the speedy action of the commission, great numbers of veterans have contracted temporary loans at high rates of interest, and are now required to pay said high rate of interest till said commission at its pleasure shall complete its plans to disburse said loans;

Whereas, in a number of cases in Douglas county, the commission has refused to grant to loan applicants a loan applied for, up to 75 per cent of the appraised value of the security offered, thus, in effect, appraising the man instead of the security, which is against the spirit as well as the letter of the statute and defeating the very object of the act, the industrial rehabilitation of the veterans, by reducing the amount of aid extended to the very ones who need it most; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that Umpqua Post number 16, of the American Legion of the Department of Oregon, at its regular meeting on the 2nd day of May, 1922, condemn the lack of action of the World War Veterans State Aid Commission which is causing great loss to veterans throughout the state and condemn the action of the commission in refusing to loan to any qualified person the full amount of the loan applied for when such loan does not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised value of the security offered, and be it further

Resolved that said Post strongly urge the Honorable Ben W. Olcott, governor of this state, to use his great power to cause said commission to function as it is by law required to do, with such dispatch and such equity as will give to the veterans of the World War of this state what the legislature and the people of the state has with one voice extended to them, speedy, industrial rehabilitation, equally and without favor.

JOHN E. FLURRY,
Commander Umpqua Post No. 16, Department of Oregon.

DIAMOND LAKE SUMMER RESORT CONCESSIONS ARE GRANTED BY FOREST SERVICE

George L. Howard of Jacksonville is Given Privilege of Constructing Summer Resort at Popular Vacation Spot—Agrees to Spend $15,000 in Three Years.

George L. Howard, of Jacksonville, Oregon, was today granted a permit to construct and maintain a summer resort at Diamond Lake, according to an announcement made by Forest Supervisor Carl B. Neal. In receiving this concession Mr. Howard agrees to spend $15,000 in three years in constructing this resort, and will start in July of this year to provide facilities for the entertainment of the tourists and campers who may wish to spend a portion of the summer vacation season at the popular lake.

Under the terms of his contract with the forest service Mr. Howard agrees that before July 15 of this year he will place twelve strong rowboats on the lake, construct a gasoline station and store building and put in a temporary sanitation system.

Before July 1 next year he will construct a main resort building which will contain a dining room, kitchen, etc. He will also install a pressure water system with a sewer system connecting up with the free camp ground to be maintained by the forest service. The forest service reserves the right to connect up with this sewer for the purpose of providing a sanitary system for the camp grounds, which will be open to the public at all times without charge. The program for 1923 also includes bath houses, one for men and one for women, each to contain ten dressing rooms. He also agrees to provide bathing suits in a sufficient number to take care of the ordinary demand, and also put in ten more rowboats the second year with an adequate boat house and pier.

In 1924 the contract calls for six cottages to be 12x20 feet in size and to be adequate for domestic use.

The forest service in granting this concession provides that all buildings shall be of a rustic type of architecture, shall be substantially built, and shall be constructed with view of future expansion of the resort.

There is no question but that the Diamond Lake resort will become one of the most popular vacation spots in the west within a few years. It is situated only a few miles from Crater Lake, a nationally advertised attraction, which each year lures thousands of tourists and campers. Diamond Lake is free from the restrictions of the national park and persons can fish and hunt without cost and without restriction other than the state laws and the ordinary forest rules. Although Diamond Lake is not as great a natural wonder as Crater Lake, yet it is a very beautiful place and is an ideal spot for a summer vacation. The lake itself and nearby streams afford fine fishing, while the hills around abound in deer and wild game.

Each year Diamond Lake is becoming better known and hundreds of people go there for their outings. If summer cottages are erected there will doubtless be many who will spend several weeks at the lake during the summer months and the resort owner would have a paying concession.

Roads into Diamond Lake are rapidly being built and improved. At the present time little difficulty is experienced in reaching the spot and with the completion of the road now being built from Crater Lake north, Diamond Lake can be easily and quickly reached.

The Tillier-Crater lake cut-off road will put Diamond Lake within a day's travel of Roseburg and this is expected to add to the popularity of the resort. As the facilities for handling the trade increase the place will doubtless be widely advertised and will become better known.

Diamond Lake has received considerable publicity lately through the efforts of the national park bureau to secure possession of the lake and its surrounding territory. It was the aim of the park bureau to annex Diamond Lake to the Crater Lake national park, and a vigorous campaign to obtain possession was waged. Opposition on the part of residents of Douglas County, and stockmen on the east side of the mountains, however, is believed to have overcome the element favoring annexation. The lake is a potential power resource and its inclusion in the national park would prevent development, while the present plan is apt to speed up development by making its possibilities better known. The extension of the park boundaries would also have withdrawn valuable grazing land from use and would have placed restrictions on hunters and fishermen visiting the lake.

CHINESE LEADER REPORTED KILLED

(By Associated Press.)
PEKING, May 3.—General Chang Tso-Lin's headquarters announced today that General Wu Pei Fu, central Chinese leader, had been killed in action. The announcement is not otherwise confirmed. General Wu's main army is in a drive toward Tientsin to isolate Chang Tso-Lin's forces by cutting their line between Tientsin and Taku, on the seas. The success of this move would also cut off Chang's 40,000 men north of Tientsin. The American gunboat Wilmington has been ordered from Hong Kong to Tientsin.

Barnes Circus Coming Tomorrow

Considerable interest is being shown in the Barnes Wild Animal Circus, which is to be here tomorrow. From all indications there will be a fine crowd if weather conditions improve and even in the event of continued showers, the circus will undoubtedly draw a large number of people. A parade will be given shortly before noon, and it is expected that there will be a large crowd ready for that event. Schools will be dismissed between the hours of 10:30 and 1 o'clock only.

Fight Lands Two in Police Court

Ack McCulloch and J. Deming were each fined $10 in the city court today following their arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct. Both have been staying at the Roseburg hotel and recently Deming applied to McCulloch for aid in finding work. McCulloch says he directed him to several jobs, and told Deming that he might do some spading at the McCulloch place in North Roseburg. Deming did not do the work then and so a negro was hired to plow it. Later Deming did some spading there and applied to McCulloch for money. McCulloch, according to the story told City Recorder Whipple, refused to pay, saying that he had not hired Deming. Monday night, in the lobby of the Roseburg hotel they engaged in an altercation in which hot words were passed. Finally, as near as could be ascertained, McCulloch invited Deming outside and on the way out the latter took occasion to land several good husky kicks on McCulloch and struck him in the face under the left eye, inflicting a bad bruise. The next night, it is alleged, that McCulloch appeared on the scene with a club, which he said he had cut for a stove poker. Deming saw the club and proceeded to swing on McCulloch again, striking him several times about the face and head. Officer Wilcox was called and both men were placed under arrest and given a hearing before Recorder Whipple this morning. After hearing both sides of the case each was fined $10. McCulloch paid his fine at once and Deming was given one week in which to raise the money.

Old-Time Slang "Kicks In" as Flapper Evolves New Jargon

DEFINES "FLAPPER."

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, May 2.—A flapper, according to Cosmo Hamilton, famous author, is a girl with a twelve-cylinder engine and a "jitney" body.

She was caught in the unrest that followed the return of the boys from France," Hamilton states, "and is bursting with enthusiasm and vitality that she doesn't know what to do with."

Origin of Slang.
BUTTE CITY, Cal., May 2.—The term "flapper" originated in Scotland, declares Eugene H. Grubb, noted livestock and agricultural authority, and applied to young girls whose long braids of hair flapped against their backs as they skipped along the streets.

By MAX KASE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, May 2.—"I must blouse now to meet some tomato and lap some noodle juice and then for an egg harbor."

A strange language, you say. But adjust your wae length to the proper distance and hark to the "flapper" in conversation with the "shifter."

A "flapper," says Cosmo Hamilton, well-known author, is one with a jitney body and limousine mind. The "shifter" is a new species who flaunts as his banner "Something for nothing and then very little."

Between the two they have evolved a new language—unique in its terseness and slangy in its construction. "Blouse" is in the "flapper" code is "to go," or "go." Tomato is more complex. A young woman shy of brains becomes known in the "flapper" or "shifter" set as a "tomato." "Lap" means to drink. "Noodle juice" when finally decoded becomes mere plain, ordinary tea. "Egg harbor"—here the shifters and flappers have excelled themselves—turns out to be a free dance.

What It All Means.

So that exudation "I must blouse to meet some tomato and lap some noodle juice and then for an egg harbor" to the initiated means "I must go to meet some girl and drink some tea and then for a free dance."

Simple enough. But the sweet, young thing with bobbed hair and skirts to her knees and mannish hat at a rakish angle, says:

"I gotta date with some slat who, dearie, probably will be a flatwheeler. He's going to grubstake me to a nose-baggery, but if he's a snugglepup I'll soon find out."

"Now watt?" you exclaim in dismay.

"Slat" to the flapper is the male of the species. "Flatwheeler" is her characterization of a "slat" shy of funds who takes his lady friends to free affairs. "Grubstake" is to treat or invite. "Nosebaggery" to the "flapper" is what a restaurant is to the ordinary mind. "Snugglepup" is a young man who is fond of petting and petting parties. And so the cryptic sentence clears to the average human.

Old-Time Slang Passes.

Old-time slang gradually is losing ground before the combined vernacular onslaught of the "flapper" and "shifter." In the dim past the young woman escorted to her home by some "snugglepup" would draw herself up in haughty grandeur, fix a cold stare on the young man and exclaim:

"That's all there is, there ain't no more."

And then swirl away from her company, leaving him oftentimes in a daze at the suddenness and unexpectedness of the occurrence, allowing him to speculate on the strange vagaries of the female of the species.

But in this "flapper" age, when some "slat" takes his "tomato" home, she says:

"Bank's closed." Which means that no petting will be allowed and he will receive not even one teeny, weeny, single little kiss. Terse enough, but it carries the point.

A Flapper's Dictionary.

For the edification of those not familiar with the flapper vernacular, following is part of their "lingo":

Dimbox—A taxicab.

Handuff—Engagement ring.

Anchor—Box of flowers.

Clothealine—One who tells neighborhood secrets.

Static—Conversation that means nothing.

Olecan—An impostor.

Boob tickler—Girl who has to entertain her father's customers from out of town.

Ritz—Stuck up.

Alarm clock—A chaperone.

Crape hanger—Reformer.

Cuddle cootie—Young man who takes a girl for a ride on a bus.

Dud—A wall flower.

Fire alarm—A divorced woman.

Strike breaker—Young woman who goes with her friend's "steady," while there is a cool case.

Espee Opposes Bridge Crossing

Claiming that the law was not complied with in securing the road viewers' report on the proposed road of easement asked for by Stanley W. Taylor, who is expecting to construct a bridge across the South Umpqua, the S. P. Railroad company has announced that it will vigorously oppose the construction of a crossing at the proposed bridge site. According to the remonstrance, the law requires that where the owner of property is a non-resident, that notice of a road viewers meeting must be given by publication. The owners of the railroad right of way in the Oregon-California Railroad company the remonstrance states and as it is a California company notice should have been served by publication. As a result of this technical error, it is claimed that Mr. Taylor must petition that the former order be set aside and that proper notice by publication be given. The railroad company maintains that the Mt. Nebo road is sufficient for the residents of Umpqua Park Addition and that a bridge is not necessary and that any crossing will be opposed.

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $12,000 IN DARING ROBBERY

(By Associated Press.)
DENVER, May 3.—Bandits escaped with $12,000 in currency and liberty bonds after practically wrecking the frame building of the First National bank at Lafayette, fifteen miles from Denver, this morning.

They fired nine shots of nitroglycerine, after binding and gagging the night marshal in the alley, shooting out the electric lights in front of the building and cutting the telephone wires leading from the town. The huge bank vault was blown through a plate glass window and across the street. A fireman picked up connection by climbing a telephone pole and notifying the Denver police.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Tisdale, of Sutherlin, motored to this city today to spend a few hours.
