real wages are low.

"The total earnings of a laborer at the end of the week will buy less food and clothing and fuel today than it would buy before the war."

"Real Wages Have Declined."

"In fact real wages have actually declined for more than 20 years, when measured in the purchasing power of the earnings of labor."

"In a critical study of the relation between wages and the increased cost of living Professor William Jett Lauck, the economist made an analysis for the years 1912 to 1918 inclusive, of the financial reports of all corporations having an annual income of $1,000,000 or more in the lines of business in which the ordinary consumer is particularly interested as reported in Moody's and Poor's financial manuals."

"These corporations were shown to have taken $800,000,000 more in annual profits on the average for the years 1916, 1917 and 1918 than for the three year period of 1912, 1913 and 1914, and the figures for production showed conclusively that the increased profits were not due to increased production. They were due to the fact that the corporation took a larger proportion of every dollar spent by the purchaser."

"The corporations, typical of the practices of all, nearly trebled their average net income on capital stock during the period covered by Professor Lauck's studies."

"That they have continued to fleece the public, the increased prices for 1919, 1920, 1921 and the present year conclusively prove."

"These great profiteering organizations in every line of business raised prices until the people could no longer meet their extortionate demands. They were confronted with the alternative of reducing their profits or cutting the wages of labor. They turned upon labor."

"For more than a year they have been making war on labor unions and charging labor with responsibility for high living costs."

"This attack on labor will fail. There will be great hardships and sufferings, but in the end the truth will prevail. Labor will be vindicated and will come out of the battle with a solidarity welded in the fire of common suffering, a greater fighting force in the eternal struggle between the masses and the privileged monopoly."

Forum Luncheon Greatly Enjoyed

The weekly forum luncheon of the Roseburg chamber of commerce was held at noon today at the South Methodist church. A good attendance was reported and the program was very interesting. Bert Bates, who acted as toast master introduced the various speakers. Dr. Lee Wells, president of the Roseburg Dads and Lads club made a short address concerning the new organization and its aims and objects. Lyman Spencer read the assembly in several songs and Lyman almost raised the roof so good was the result obtained. Rev. Caldwell spoke on "What the New Comer Wants to Know." His address was greatly enjoyed. The nominating committee reported eight new members for the chamber of commerce. Dr. Seely spoke on "Civic Pride" and outlined some vital needs for the city. B. W. Cooner, county agricultural agent, made a short address in which he solicited the aid of the chamber of commerce in his work.

As a humorous feature the toastmaster called on A. T. Lawrence and W. C. Harding to give their experience of earning their first dollar. Mr. Lawrence stated that he "pulled in" his first "sheekle" by covering brick in a brickyard and Mr. Harding avers he corraled his first "sheekle" by pitching hay.

The next forum luncheon will be held June 6th, the regular day, May 30th, being Memorial Day. It will be held at the Hotel Unquapa.

Unknown Foods

You do not ask your family to sit down to the table with unknown guests.

Are you equally careful about the meats you invite them to eat? Equally sure of where they come from, what they are, who stands sponsor for them?

Nowadays, fortunately, the risk is not great. But with Swift & Company's products there is none.

Swift & Company's products are the result of years of experience, of careful, conscientious effort.

Their quality is a constant factor, always to be depended upon. The consumer is doubly protected because, in addition to the care used by Swift & Company, Swift's food products are carefully inspected by government employees and bear the federal inspection stamp.

The word "Premium" on ham or bacon means that we stake our pride and the reputation of years on that ham or bacon.

These products have been selected, cured, smoked, and handled by workmen who take the same pride in our products that we do.

Be sure of Swift's products and thus make certain that no strange or unknown food is introduced into the family circle!

Dads and Lads Planning Picnic

The Roseburg Dads and Lads club held a very interesting meeting last night and formulated plans for the first annual picnic of the fathers and their sons to be held in Laurelwood park next Monday evening at 6 o'clock. Every boy under the age of 18 years is invited to attend with his father. Any men desiring to affiliate themselves with the club and who have no sons can list their names with W. F. Harris at the Douglas Abstract company, and boys will be assigned to them. This project of closer relationship between father and son is a commendable one and the picnic next Monday night will be a regular "circus" for the young and old. Further announcements will be made later in the week.

No Jury For Court Term

No jury was called for the May term of circuit court which convened yesterday. No jury cases are as yet ready for trial and consequently no jury will be summoned until later. In the event sufficient cases are brought to issue later during the term it is possible that a session will be called. Yesterday Judge Hamilton heard the case of C. E. Stotesberg, against L. N. Whipple and wife, a suit to rescind a contract for the sale of land. Attorney Howard M. Brownell of Eugene represented the plaintiff and Attorney Dexter Rice of this city the defense. The case was taken under advisement. Several motions and demurrers were heard today.

Old Soldier Passes Away

Edward T. Warren, who for the past three years has been a member of the Oregon Soldiers' Home, passed away at the Home early this morning. His death was very sudden. He was admitted to the Oregon Soldiers' Home in 1919. He was 87 years of age. Mr. Warren has no relatives here.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the chapel of the Home. Interment will follow the services in the Soldiers' Home cemetery.
