ROSEBURG, OREGON, MAY 29, 1922.

HONORING THE SOLDIERS.

The American people desire to live in peace and harmony with all men. Unfortunately all men do not think alike, and out of the intensity of conviction and rival ambitions great wars have been born. The men who asked only to live their lives in useful industry have been compelled to leave the sweetness of home, bid farewell to wives and children, and suffer the horrors of war. It is the greatest sacrifice that human life is ever called on to make. Recognizing the grandeur of this abnegation, the world pays its tribute of deep affection to those who have given their lives in their country's service. The United States sets apart its National Memorial day, as the time to honor all soldiers who have given their lives for their native soil. Originally created to honor the veterans of the civil war, the day will now for many years be employed to pay like tribute to the boys who fell in the latter conflicts. Recognizing that a sincere sacrifice is entitled to honor, regardless of opinions as to the merits of the cause in which it is made, the nation today does equal honor to the soldiers of the Confederate army who fought for the ideal that seemed good to them. The old animosities have passed away, and true American hearts today have forgotten that any sectional line once divided the North from the South. In many cities the fine custom has been developed of sending the old soldiers around to the schools at this time, to talk to the children about the lessons of war and patriotism. Few veterans of the civil war are equal to that task now, but the privilege is handed on to the soldiers of later wars, who feel equally the same sentiment of love for country. Their words will inspire these young people with that love for country which they must have if America is to be worthy of its past.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—
Speaking of radio
We were eating
In a local restaurant
Today and heard a
Fellow eating soup
Over the radio
And we'll say he was
Some little broadcaster.

Tomorrow is Memorial Day and with heads bowed we will honor the hero dead. The solemnity of the occasion should not be placed on the shelf following the brief memorial services but to our opinion the entire day should be dedicated to the boys who "went west." In some cities, automobile races will be staged and in others baseball games will provide amusement to those who have forgotten. The mother who has a son in France must find it very difficult to understand why a nation can howl and yell in the bleachers of a baseball field while they, with the deepest reverence and love in their hearts, place a wreath upon the grave of their loved one.

Doc Shoemaker hooked a good sized sawl-moon near the Winchester dam yesterday, much to the disgust of Tom Weatherford and several other Isaac Wattsons who so far only been able to spear a few minnows.

Every once in a while ye ed. has to publish something to please some member of the force in order to keep life sweet and worth living around the place. We have been requested by the gentleman at the adjacent desk to publish the following free verse entitled "Durn it All," which we are doing, but please understand that ye ed. assumes no responsibility for so doing:

Where kin a lad buy a cap fur his knee?
Or a key to the lock o' his hair?
Kin his eyes be called an academy
On account they's pupils there?
In the crown of his head, what
Joels are found?
Who crosses the bridge o' his nose?
Kin he use when shingling the roof of his house?
The nails on the end o' his toes?
Kin the crook o' his elbow be sent to jail?
If so, what kin he do?
How do he sharpen his shoulder
blades—
Oh, no, I don't know, do you?
Kin he set in the shade o' the palm o'
his hand?
Or beat on the drum o' his ear?
Do the calf o' his leg?
Eat the corn on his toes?
If so, why not grow corn on the ear?

Just a few days ago ye ed. was praying for mushy pavement and the withering rays of Old Sol. Well, we've got 'em both now and we'd be satisfied if we could find some substitute for the ice bill.

The more we see of Portland the better we like Roseburg. We may not have street cars, short-haired flappers, uniformed cops and oriental tea-rooms, but we've certainly got jitneys, long-haired reformers, Chief Mathews and several coca-cola joints.

A CHEERFUL GIVER.
A colored revival was in full blast, and one old fellow was exhorting the people to contribute generously.
"Look what de Lawd's done for you-all, bredren!" he shouted. "Give Him a portion of all you has. Give Him a tenth. A tenth belongs to de Lawd!"
"Amen!" yelled a perspiring member of the congregation, overcome by emotion. "Glory to de Lawd!"
Give Him mo'! Give Him a twentieth!"

The birds with a face full of whiskers must feel the heat a lot these days.

Roseburg moths will never get indignation from eating the clothes the Roseburg flappers wear.

Palm beach suits are the order of the day but we feel so bashful wearing one of 'em. Only this a. m. we noticed a local young buck prancing down the main drag with one of the thin attires hung loosely over his frame and we could see his Paris garters just as plain as plain could be.

Judge Landis, the czar of baseball, after ruling out the heads of the Portland ball club, will now probably turn his attentions to the peanut vendors who are really the "outlaws" of the game.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DUKE KENWORTHY.

Dear Duke: Now that Judge Landis has kicked you out of the Beaver's team we would suggest that you sign up with the twilight league and thus get from under the mandates of the kink of baseball. In the twilight league you can tell Doc DeLapp, J. E. McClintock, "Dad" Hadley and other officials to cotoell and they won't even get mad. Wire me your answer.

North Side Parkings Cause of Complaints

The condition of the wide parkings on North Jackson street and Commercial avenue in North Roseburg is causing a great deal of complaint on the part of local residents and particularly the people who reside in that part of the city. Although steps were taken by the city council early in the spring to beautify these parkings, nothing was accomplished, and at the present time they are so dry and so far grown up with weeds that it will be practically impossible without a great expense to accomplish much with them this year.

These parkings if improved at the right time of the year and kept properly could be made a great beauty spot. The fact that North Roseburg property has been greatly increased in value because of the many improvements in that section, should be of some influence in this matter and should encourage and stimulate the movement to make these parkings a real attraction. Roseburg now has one of the finest camp grounds to be found on the coast. At the present time the tourists driving into or away from the camp ground faces the unsightly parkings, where they could be shown one of the most delightful beauty spots to be found anywhere.

Promises have been frequently made that water was to be piped to these parkings and beautiful lawns put in, but so far there is no water in evidence and the ground is so hard that it is practically impossible to cultivate the soil at this time and the only vegetation is a crop of good healthy weeds and a few straggling trees.

GIVING GENEROUSLY.

"Every group of people I have met in Douglas county during the past week has given generously to Near East relief," stated J. J. Handbaker, state director, this morning. "Seven churches in and near Roseburg responded liberally to the appeal yesterday and Saturday. The Knights of Pythias before going into official session of their southern Oregon district convention gave a silver shower which means life to some kiddie in the Near East."

"A man living near Roseburg on a small ranch whose wife is seriously ill brought me two checks for $60 each this morning. I thought we were up against it, but we are not starving," he stated.

Committees representing all the churches of Roseburg organized this morning with Harry White, manager of the Oregon Growers association,

BASEBALL TOMORROW

Big ball game, Baptists vs. Christians at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Twilight League ball park, West Roseburg. This is the regular game that usually would have been played at 6 p. m., but owing to the holiday, the management has changed the hour to 4, so that every one interested in the success of the Twilight League can attend this game. Up to the present time, the attendance has been so small that the gate receipts have not been sufficient to pay the expenses, and if the churches in Roseburg do not take more interest from this on, it will be necessary to discontinue the games. Admission only 15 cents, children under 14 free. There should be 500 people at this game tomorrow evening. Come and bring the family.

J. E. McClintock, President.

chairman, Mrs. B. L. Eddy, vice chairman, Mrs. E. A. Spear, secretary.

"Like Mrs. E. V. Hoover, I feel that the picture, 'Alice in Wonderland,' is one of the best patriotic lessons ever shown here," said Mr. White. "If Roseburg people will see this remarkable picture when it is shown free at the high school auditorium Wednesday night at 8 p. m., they will not only have a most entertaining evening but will come away with a new love for America and admiration for the Americans who daily risk life for the sake of the children of the Near East."
