ROSEBURG, ORE. MON., JUNE 5, 1922.

MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

The opportunity to join one of the federal military training camps, at which 30,000 young men will study military science this summer, should be regarded as a privilege. Every young man of spirit ought to consider fitting himself to serve his country. This is one of the essentials of manliness. The youth of the land are coming to the front, and they are taking up the burdens of the community, and gaining the benefits of the efforts made by previous generations.

The American City magazine gives an account of real estate development at Kokomo, Indiana, which sets a fine example. In that city the owners of a tract of 46 acres submitted their plans to the municipal authorities and the same were accepted, so it was assured that the development would be beneficial to the city. One fine feature was that almost every tree on this tract, and about one fourth of it was handsomely wooded, was saved, the streets being so arranged as to allow the trees to stand.

In Saturday's issue of the News-Review a communication setting forth a tentative plan for a railroad from Boise, Idaho, to the coast, passing through Roseburg, thereby shortening the distance some 800 miles over that of any other railroad from coast to coast points, is worth of more than passing interest. While the project may look to some entirely too large an undertaking, there is, nevertheless, much merit to the proposition.

Summer tourist trade for cities on the Pacific highway is beginning to show the results of good roads. Within a very few months the highway will be completely paved to the California line and instead of this revenue being confined to the summer months only, it will be a year-around asset. Good roads is the biggest asset Oregon ever took on. Millions of dollars will be left in the state by the stroke of enterprise that brought about our splendid paved highways.

With the proposed plans for a public library for Roseburg let us not get side-tracked on any other project until this much-needed acquisition to the city becomes a realization. One thing at a time is better than a half-dozen propositions hanging in the air and already to fall in a heap.

When her husband dies, a young widow doesn't know what is to become of her, and she is greatly surprised soon afterward to find out that she has more real money in her pocket than she ever had before.

Roseburg's baseball club didn't win yesterday's game, but the event was a close contest for the honors that were won by the Yoncalla boys.

The bride who promises to love her husband "in sickness and in health" is either utterly reckless or she never has been around a sick groom.

This is a fine time of the year for the fellow who can afford a vacation to get out in the open.

Want to Play Game—The "Aviators" baseball team has wired to Manager Peterson of the Roseburg team asking a game here in this near future. The "Aviators" are from Los Angeles and are making the trip in the interest of recruiting for the air service. It is thought that a game will be arranged during their visit in Roseburg.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—Gawge Miller, The Yoncalla bumble, Who shut his eyes while Making a decision on third In yesterday's game, Was running from the diamond After the game when a Fan stopped him and asked: "Where's yer dawg?" "I ain't got no dawg," said Gawge. "Well yer ougter," Was the reply. "You're the first blind man I ever saw without one."

After perusing the list of local fellows who've signed up to play gawf this season ye ed. is prompted to explain to our readers that gawf is a small ball chased by a man who is too old to chase anything else.

Our city editor came dashing into the sanctum and announced to the editor that he had a wonderful story. "Have you got it down on paper," asked the editor. "No, but I have it all in my head," replied the reporter. "Ah, I see," said the ed., "you have it all in a nut-shell."

Several of the wives of the local firemen are contemplating divorce. They say their hubbies don't keep their eyes on the right kind of hose.

In the good old days we used to leave our mugs at the barber's, but now we only take 'em when we want 'em shaved.

Dear Ed.: Do blondes have more admirers than brunettes?" UNDECIDED.

ANS.: Why not ask some of the janes who have had experience in both capacities?

In reading about redolphvalentino's bigamy case we note that some silk bridal garments were introduced as evidence. If any of us common ducks ever get into trouble the news of it won't be half so thrilling. Can you imagine picking up a newspaper and reading about such evidence as outing flannel night shirts.

We wish that Mathilde would hurry up and hook up with that hunk of Swiss cheese, Max Oser. We've heard of newlyweds and their "love in a cottage," and we guess that Mathilde and Max can get along on "love in a livery stable."

It's all in the day's news, but somehow we also wish that Henree Ford would hurry up and purchase Muscle Shoals. If he does maybe sea food'll be cheaper.

Last Sat. some jans shot up on an army officer in Kansas City because he wouldn't marry her. The newspaper claimed it was a case of the "eternal triangle"—but from the looks of the dead man's love letters, it was a case of the "eternal hexagon."

R. R. Turner, former resident of this village, but of late school teacher at Dallas, is back amongst us with the result that many hearts are fluttering.

Mike Gentry, pressman for Prune Pickin's, went and got married yesterday against the advice of those who know better.

Bernie Hyland, who fought four rounds to a draw with the Greek heavyweight, Tensillitis, is on the str. once more with his oily gift of gab.

Ye ed. of Prunes is constructing a small radio set, small enough to be carried in a pocketbook. This will come in handy for the r. r. shopmen so they can pick up the news of a wage increase.

THE POOR PIED PRINTER

An Oakland printer collided with a street car in that city and got all "spiced up." They lugged him to the hospital, where the doc picked three or four two-point wedges of glass and four or five sticks of ground-up bone from his anatomy, and then attempted to send him out as a regular edition with a screw-head attached. It was no go. He was "off his feet," and the surgeons say he won't be fit for distribution until he is "sorted," as he didn't create a good impression when they pressed him as to the cause of the accident.

The printer is disappointed, as the galley intended to marry rules that she can't stick to him for any longer period in his present make-up, and the printer swears he will kill her off on sight. But the girl is composing herself by the thought that she will continue to chase the males just as long as men of the type she is after will letter.

"That's a stunning hat you have on, dear." "Yes. At any rate, that's the effect it had on my husband."

An aged mother had called upon her son, to be with him during a sudden spell of sickness. The young son of the sick man took quite an interest in his grandmother, crawling up onto her lap the moment she was seated. "Are you my grandma?" he asked. "Yes, I am," she replied, "on your father's side." "Well, you'll soon find out you're on the wrong side," was the reply.

AS THOUGH US MEN CARE!

The most concealed co-ed we know of is the one who turns and scowls at the man who gets on the street car behind her.

ONE BLESSING.

Whatever trouble Adam had no man could make him care, by saying when he told a joke, I've heard that one before.

VIII. MORE ABOUT AERIALS

If there are several sending stations at various points from your set, it is often a very good plan to run several aerial wires at right angles or radiating as shown in figures 11 and 12, connecting them together and running the lead-in from the point where all join, as shown. Sometimes this principle may be reversed and several lead-ins may be carried from the outer ends of the radiating aerials and joined to form a single lead-in and will bring even better results, figures 13 and 14. These several lead-ins may be connected with multiple point switches as shown in Figs. 13 and 14. This switch arrangement has the great advantage that you can largely cut out stations you do not wish to hear by using the lead-in towards the station you desire to hear. This will result in the others being fainter or weaker in comparison and they can therefore be more effectively tuned out by your instruments.

Aerials are most peculiar affairs and a little experimenting will enable you to determine the best size, height and type to use. It is well known that wireless waves are directive, or in other words, that they travel more strongly in one direction away from the sending aerial than in others and while this has been largely obliterated in up-to-date stations, yet the ordinary receiving aerial is directive and will get stronger signals if the lead-in is towards the sending station, or is pointed towards it, so to speak. I know of several cases where amateurs failed utterly to hear voices, music, or even connection with tin-foil and fine wire and wrap it with adhesive tape. Where no pipe is available carry the ground wire to a sheet of copper, an old copper boiler or a copper tank or basin filled with charcoal and buried at least five feet under the surface of the earth. A lightning rod or fire escape will sometimes make a very good ground. But it is not so much what you use for a ground as how good the connections are and how well the object is grounded. Do not use an electric light or telephone, telegraph or door bell wire for a ground. To repeat, be careful of your connections and sure of your grounding.

Douglas County Reunion Announced

The eleventh annual reunion and picnic of natives and former residents of Douglas county as well as those now sojourning in the vicinity of Portland, will be held at the reserved community center, Peninsula Park, on Sunday, June 18, 1922. Final arrangements have been made at a meeting of the Douglas County association of officers and executive committee.

The day's program will begin with a business meeting of the association at 11 a. m., followed by basket lunch from 12 to 2 p. m. Between 2 and 3:30 p. m. there will be speeches, music and reminiscences of Douglas county and its people and visiting the rest of the day.

Among the 1000 or more members of the association are Judge William Colvig, Hon. Binger Hermann, Justice George M. Brown, George H. Himes, secretary of the Oregon Historical society, and many others high in the affairs of the state and nation. This annual reunion immediately follows the meeting of the Indian War Veterans and the Pioneer association.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS

The precinct committees of the democratic party for Douglas county will meet at the city hall in Roseburg, on Saturday afternoon, June 10, 1922, at the hour of 3:30, for the purpose of organizing for the campaign.

The following precincts of the county neglected to name a committeeman. It will be the duty of the central committee to fill the vacancies thus caused by the oversight of the voters. If the democrats in these several precincts will get together and select someone to attend the meeting of the committee on Saturday, the 10th instant, no doubt the committee will be glad to elect such person a member of the county central committee.

A lively campaign is in prospect and every precinct should have someone representing it on the county central committee. Will the democrats not arise to the situation and choose someone to represent them at the meeting of the central committee aforesaid?

The precincts are in the following order: Dallas, Carr, Comstock, Deer Creek, Ironville, Drew, Elkhead, Garden Valley, Green, Hamilton, Happy Valley, Hermann, Lane, Leeta, Linn Lake, Melroy, Mill, Millwood, Mount Scott, Nichol, Ocala, Parrott, Perdue, West Reedsville, Scottsburg, Smith River, Soldiers' Home, Tiller, Umpqua, West Port, Wilbur, Woodward and Yoncalla. O. P. CUSHOW, Chairman.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect

A miscellaneous shower was given for Mrs. Florence Leadbetter at the home of Vernita Kohlhagen in West Roseburg Friday night. The invited list contained 18 of Mrs. Leadbetter's friends. The rooms were decorated with yellow poppies and streamers. From the chandeliers "Honey" moons and stars of different sizes were suspended. Upon the guests arrival they were presented with hand painted favors announcing Florence Leadbetter and Fred S. Hamilton as the bride and bridegroom to be. During the evening the game, "A Trip to Candy Island," was enjoyed and Mrs. Leadbetter won the prize. Later the gifts were brought in a large basket shaped like a half moon. The basket held several hand made articles and useful gifts. At the appointed hour the guests enjoyed a two course luncheon. The centerpiece was made to represent the matrimonial sea and placed upon it was a miniature boat which held the bride and bridegroom to be. The place cards were half moons and at each plate was a yellow basket filled with "sweets."

Those present expressed themselves as having a most enjoyable evening and all wished Mrs. Leadbetter much happiness.

Money for Umpqua Jetties Now Probable

MARSHFIELD, June 5.—The port of Umpqua has reason to feel optimistic, A. K. Peck, who attended the port meeting last night, said. They have assurance from Senator McNary that the senate committee is considering an appropriation for the jetty work amounting to $276,000 and it will probably be placed in the rivers and harbors bill before the bill passes. This sum is to be matched by local money, a considerable portion of which has already been expended by the port. The bond buyers present last night offered the port 25 cents for the old issue of $228,000 if they can get an approving legal opinion, and par for $10,000 worth of emergency bonds offered last night by resolution.

AROUND THE TOWN.

Had Fishing Trip—Gordon Burnett and Trevis Dyingler spent Sunday on a fishing trip near Grants Pass. Many from Yoncalla—A large number of Yoncalla folks were in Roseburg yesterday to attend the baseball game between their team and the Roseburg-Legion boys. They were quite elated over the victory of the Yoncalla team. Dance at Canyonville—The dance at Canyonville was largely attended Saturday night. Several carloads attended from this city. The Rainbow orchestra of Roseburg furnished the excellent music for the occasion. Portland Man Here—Mr. Hazen, of Lovejoy and Hazen, insurance men of Portland, was a visitor in the city today. He is enroute to Klamath Falls and will return to Roseburg shortly to establish a branch office in this city for the Guarantee Fund Life association.

Here from Central Point—Ray Henderson and wife, of Central Point, are in the city visiting with Mr. Henderson's relatives. Mr. Henderson has taught school in Central Point during the past year but next year will engage in the insurance business in that city. Legion Meeting Tuesday—An important meeting of Umpqua post American Legion will be held tomorrow night at the armory. Several important matters will be discussed and the delegates elected to the state convention. Umpqua's post will send three delegates this year.

Dance a Success—The Saturday night dance at armory for the benefit of the company D mess fund was a great success and a neat sum was raised for the national guard fund. The boys are attempting to raise the mess fund for the encampment trip to Camp Lewis. Many Shriners on Tour—Several automobiles loaded with Shriners and their families passed through the city yesterday afternoon enroute to San Francisco where they will attend the Shrine convention to be held there this month. They were greeted here by members of the local Shrine club. Here from Albany—Mr. and Mrs. Millard Meredith, Albany, arrived here Saturday to attend the wedding of Mr. Meredith's sister, Retta to Marvin Gentry yesterday. Mr. Meredith was formerly engaged in the insurance business in this city but was transferred to Albany territory. Golf Links a Busy Place—The golf links of the Roseburg Country club is a busy place these days. Yesterday morning, right early, a crowd of local golf enthusiasts were "slaahing" at the ball on yesterday afternoon a large number of the members made the trip to grounds to assist in selecting a site for the club house. Automobile Turns Turtle—A large Hudson speedster owned by Mr. Martin and Dr. Johnson of Oakland yesterday afternoon turned over in a ditch. One of the men was slightly injured. The car was badly damaged, the top and fenders being crushed by the weight of the ditch. No cause for the accident could be given.
