California Man is Owner of Button Worn by Washington

(International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 23—Boy, the curious collector!

What is said to be one of the rarest in American history—a brass button declared to have been worn by George Washington immediately after he was elected the first president and which he lost while in Philadelphia to attend a conference with members of his staff—is in the possession today of a Los Angeles man.

The relic now belongs to Hamilton Rementer, who says it was given to him by his grandfather, who lived in Philadelphia, where Washington is said to have lost the button when he attended the conference.

According to the history of the button it was unearthed in the rear yard of the residence of Rementer's grandfather about ten years after the conference. He gave it to Rementer

H. G. Rementer

about thirty-five years ago. Inscribed on the face of the button in large initials are the letters "G.
W." and around the edge is written "Long live the president."

Women's Part

To Make City Streets Safe

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., June 23 (United Press).—"If every club woman in the United States would confer on herself the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' traffic accidents would soon be virtually done away with," said John C. Long of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, speaking before the General Federation of Women's Clubs here today.

"Most of the accidents on our highways are needless," said the speaker. "The conditions which cause them are preventable. Twenty-eight cities lowered their traffic fatality records in 1921. Detroit and St. Louis nearly halved their previous highway mortality figures.
Credit for this decrease belongs to local 'Doctors of Safety' who diagnosed the trouble and then applied strong remedies to bring about a convalescence."

"The increase of motor vehicles to the number of ten million in use today has come about so rapidly that we have been staggered by the traffic problem. We have passed stringent laws, cried for punishment of the speeder, and demanded that traffic rule violators be put in jail. This is all well enough, but it is not fundamental."

"Among the causes of traffic accidents are careless driving, child play in the streets, poor parking accommodations, insufficient playgrounds, bad street lighting, lack of signs, narrow street lines, inadequate police force, unintelligent traffic regulations."

"If the club women of the United States would confer on themselves the degree of 'Doctor of Safety,' accidents would soon be virtually done away with."

"Any woman's club can make a safety diagnosis of its own town, and cure the accident evil. Make a map of the city. Place a white pin at every point where a child accident occurred during the past year, and a blue pin for every adult accident on the highways.
Then you have a basis for determining accident causes."

"Are there many pins concentrated at certain points? Perhaps better lighting, more signs, and more police are needed there. Are most of the pins in the middle of blocks rather than at intersections?
Then a campaign to urge crossing at the crossings is needed. Are the child pins prevalent? Then more attention is needed in school instruction, in home training, in local playgrounds."

"Following this study, which should reveal the worst of the spots, should come a study of the police records on an accident basis. At what time of day and year did these occur? Special traffic police relief at peak periods might help. What was the apparent immediate cause of the accident? If speeding and carelessness are coming more in evidence, a campaign on public opinion on the part of the mother would be of great assistance in law enforcement."

"This diagnosis of the anatomy and the records is but the beginning of the task, but it is a beginning which has been largely overlooked."

"For the remedies one may turn to Detroit, which has large playgrounds and elaborate safety instruction in the schools; to Cleveland, which has junior patrols to aid the young and the helpless in crossing the street; to Buffalo, to Indianapolis, and other cities on the Safety Honor Roll of 1921, where the local schools and associations will be able to tell what methods are being used to make their highways more safe."

"Among the other leading cities which recorded fewer traffic fatalities in 1921 than in 1920 are:

Akron, Ohio; Atlanta, Ga.; Bayonne, N. Y.; Berkeley, Cal.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Dayton, Ohio; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Lansing, Mich.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Newark, N. Y.;
New Rochelle, N. Y.; Norfolk, Va.; Ogden, Utah; Patterson, N. J.; Peoria, Ill.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Pittsfield, Mass.; Providence, R. I.; Richmond, Cal.; Trenton, N. J.; Youngstown, Ohio.

SOUTH DEER CREEK NEWS

The ladies of South Deer Creek gave a home talent minstrel play on Saturday evening. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity. The ladies impersonating gentlemen deserved great praise. They acted their parts with perfect ease.

After the play, the seats were removed and all tripped the light fantastic toe until midnight, after which a supper was served, the table fairly groaning under its weight of good things. All returned to their homes tired but thinking it was good to have been one of the revelers.

The Sunday school went picknicking Sunday. They halted at the beautiful Cooper Spring, where they spread their dinners, after which they all climbed Mount Dodson, all reaching the top except the Colorado visitor, who fell by the wayside. After taking several pictures they began the descent, reaching the spring dried and thirsty. As the sun began sinking westward all returned to their homes.

Mrs. J. L. Yokum, of Vilas, Colorado, is visiting relatives at the home of H. E. Blood.

People are busy pulling broccoli plants, preparing to replant a large acreage.

The community is planning a celebration for the 4th of July, with a dance at the Grange hall in the evening. All come with well filled baskets, as a picnic dinner is planned.

Dodge Brothers offer to the business public of America an entirely new principle in Coupe body construction.

From framework to window mouldings the body is built of steel. It is the first all-steel closed car ever marketed.
This design anticipates every possible requirement of commercial travel. It insures unusual quietness—unusual grace—unusual stamina. It has made it possible to give the Coupe that same lustrous baked-on enamel finish for which Dodge Brothers open cars have long been famous.

The upholstery is of genuine leather—leather that will wash and wear. The seat is wide and comfortable.
Carrying compartments are accessible and spacious. The car is equipped with a heater, dome light, window levers, windshield cleaner, cord tires, Yale door locks, and every other appointment necessary to the owner's comfort and protection.

Built inside and out to withstand the wear and tear of everyday use, it retains the same lightness and beauty of line which you are accustomed to look for in Dodge Brothers cars.

It is the Business Coupe which business people the world over have been expecting—from Dodge Brothers.
